IN THE SPRING ON THE FILM

Ahhh . . . Spring. The season when students' fancies turned to summer days on the beaches, in the mountains, or in the nation's big cities. It was a season that came with its own incurable malady . . . "Spring Fever." The symptoms were clear! Students, flopped on the grass or at the picnic tables, soaked up the sun and counted the days 'til the end of school. There was a dreaminess, a touch of chaos in classes as the Spring slide — not just for the seniors — set in.

Spring was the season for planning and planting. Prom night twinkled in students' starry eyes, and every class chipped in to plant trees at the school's entrance on Arbor Day. Seniors struggled through that last term paper, college acceptances rolled in, and thoughts of graduation led to endless hours of daydreaming. Juniors, envious of Senior freedom, fumed silently about exams, SAT's and last-minute term papers. Drama students were busy preparing for Spring musicals, and Lower and Middle school students awaited May Day Play Day, with hayrides in the company of friends — and goldfish.

Spring cleaning began with a vengeance. Winter uniforms had to be dug out from u der the bed and trad for lovely clea Spring ones. Bulk wool sweaters we replaced by cool Fo enza t-shirts a Guess? shorts.

As summer inch closer, spirits soar higher. The Circus was off to a good start as Dan Ackerman and Kristie Howard captured the hear many.

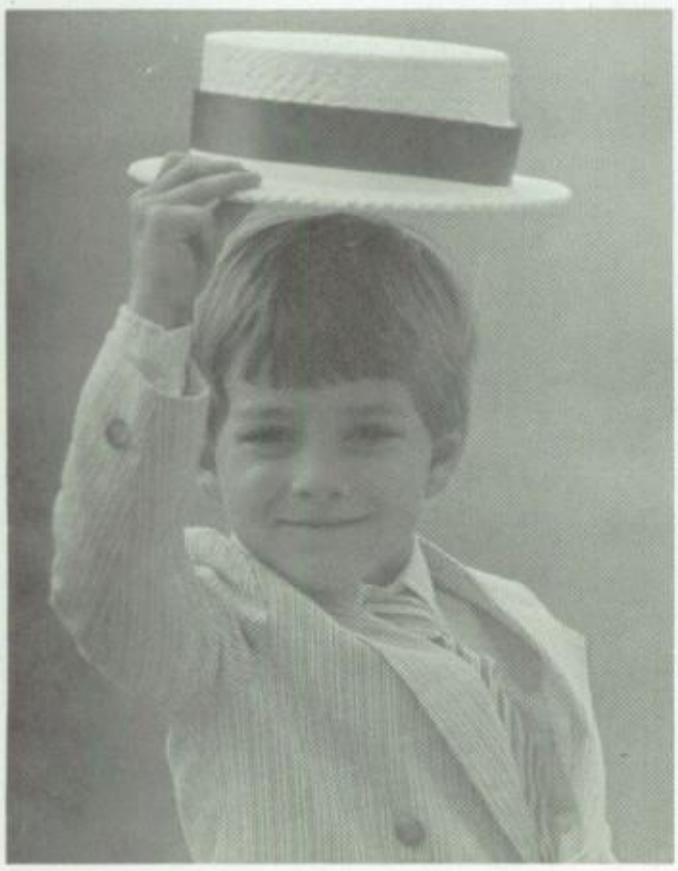
The fifth graders take Off-Off Broadway by storm with a little song and dance.

Hats off to the ring master Scott Whelchel.



Dear Billy,

I wish you could have moved after Grandparent's Day and not before. It was really neat! The whole Lower School sang and danced for the parents and grandparents. Sometimes I hated all the practice, but now I'm kind of sad 'cause it was my last one.

Our class sang "Give My Regards To Broadway." Chad, my best friend (since you moved), is in 4th grade, and they sang a bunch of stuff from the "Sound of Music." My little sister's class — she's in 1st grade — sang "Tomorrow." Mom told her she was "so cute!" I don't care how cute she was, she's still a pain!

Grandma's favorite song was "Put On A Happy Face." I think the 2nd graders sang that. My next door neighbor, Casey, sang "Surrey With The Fringe On Top" with the 3rd graders. At the end, we sang "God Bless America" like always — and everybody cried — like always.

Write me soon!

Bye!

Johnny

P.S. I almost forgot to tell you — there were these two 2nd grade kids who sang a song from "Charlie Brown", and at the end, Dusty Lennon had to give Frances Fennebresque a KISS! YUK! I'm glad I didn't have to do that! I bet they hated it. My grandmother said it was sweet.

Carol Thompson doesn't clown around when it comes to a great performance.

May Day Play Day is one of Latin's oldest traditions. This year marke the school's 17th carnival.

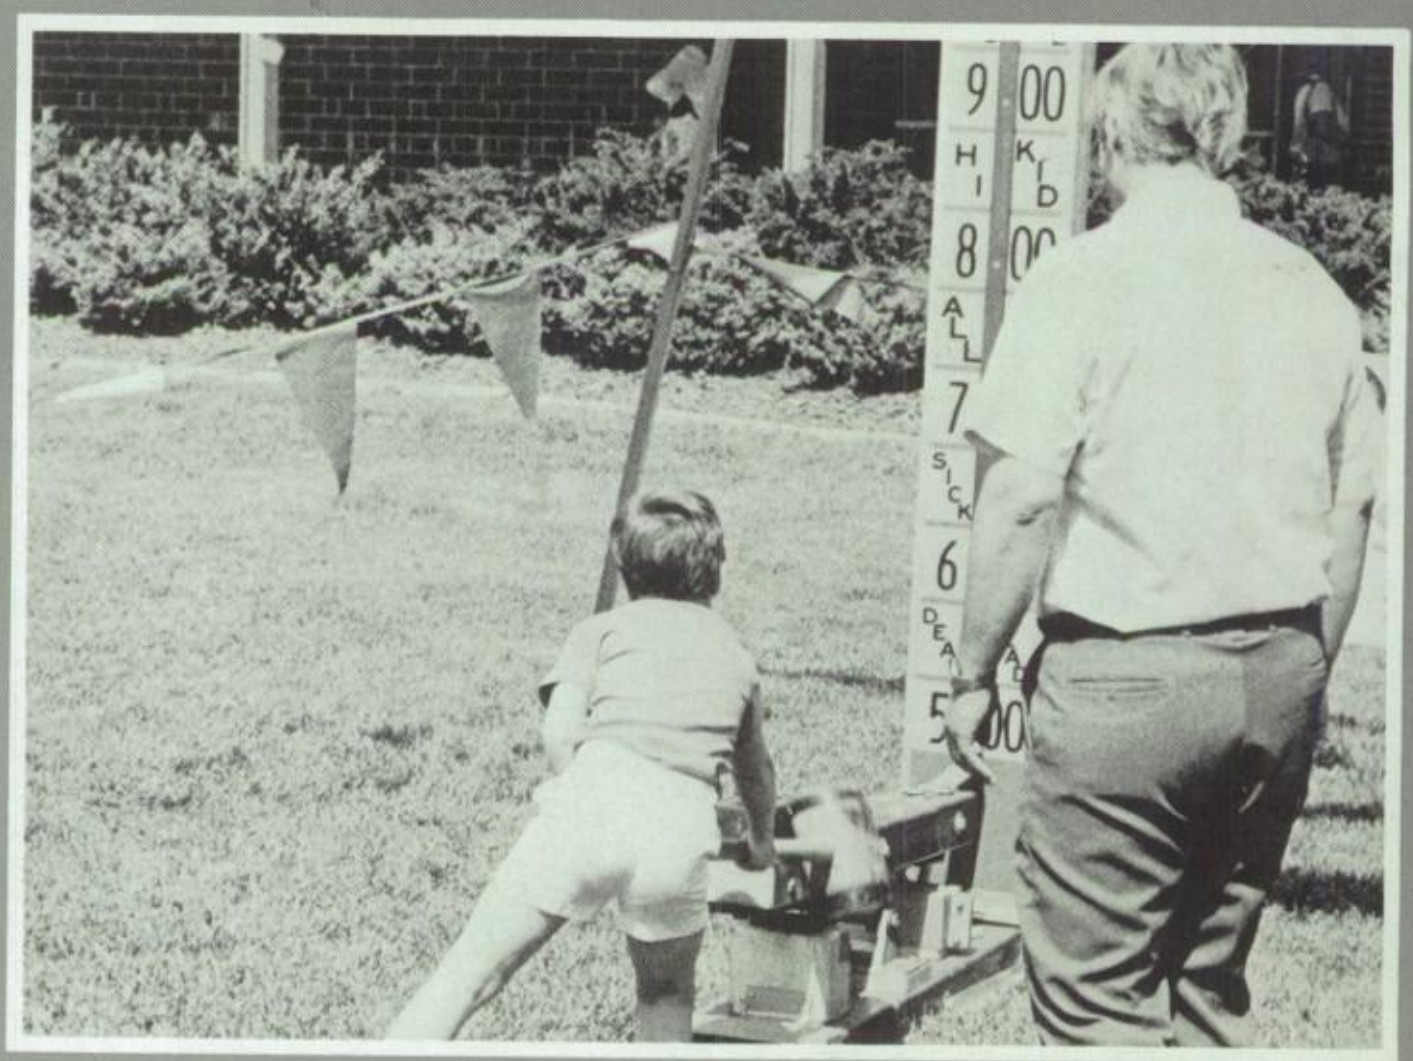
The ever-popular dunking booth was back, as were many popular ride and games. There were exquisite bits to eat in Gourmet Alley, lots o plants to buy, and as always, plenty of excitement about the Raffle Priz — a 1987 Suzuki Samurai. This year, some Latin grandparents go lucky, and found themselves the proud new owners of the mini-jeep Suzuki's latest creation.

On the mainstage, the Latin Jazz Band performed early in the day impressing the crowd as always. Then later, teachers got in on the action A group of Lower School teacher showed up looking their punkiest and singing "Let's Hear It Fo The Kids" (not to be confused with "Let's Hear It For The Boy"). Mrs. Williams sang and played with Ms. Minick and Ms Mahan on several trio numbers and then she accompanied Ms Mahan and Mr. (Brian) Robinson who performed two duets. The grand finale was a great surprise — Flash Cadillac made a special appearance to rap a little with the Latin family, and take a few jabs at Rick Flair.

The weather was perfect for the big day as service clubs, teachers, and parents pitched in to make May Day Play Day a big success — for the 17th time in a row!

The jazz band provides entertainment at May Day Play Day.

With encouragement from an onlooker, this young muscle man strikes high.



"It was boring with all the old games, but the new games were fun especially the skate boarding."

ON STAGE!

The Middle School drama production this year was "The Ransom of Red Chief." Students began with typical fears like forgotten lines and stage fright, but confidence rose over the course of practice and set construction. The final performance brought joy as well as relief not only to the actors, but also to the stage and lighting crews. When the last curtain had been called, the cast members had a special gift of appreciation for the adults who made their night on stage possible.

ON THE EDGE

One of the most successful trips this year was the seventh graders' excursion to the Outdoor Education Center. Activities included balancing a group of students on a rail of wood which hung by a single rope, crossing high wires and rope bridges, and rappelling. After conquering their fear of heights, students discovered that they had learned many skills beyond a kee sense of balance. They realized was necessary to reach beyon themselves and work as a group i order to meet new challenges an accomplish goals.

Battling Misinformation

As controversy over the growing number of teenage pregnancies rises, workshops dealing with sex education have been instituted to help combat the problem. Charlotte Latin made its contribution to the battle against ignorance and misinformation with the sex education workshops.

In this second year of operation, the workshops taught middle schoolers how to say "no!" by showing movies such as "Daddy", lectures, and question and answer sessions. The day-long sessions focused on decision making ("Am I really ready for this?") and refusal skills.

The format will change for next year. Each advisory group will have a month-long segment on human sexuality in January. This will allow students more individual attention during question and answer sessions.

Counselor Pat Vinroot organized Human Sexuality Week.

Students' Concern About Drugs Is Obvious

Co-chairmen David Chapman and Jonathan Sanchez pose after a job well done.

Eighth Graders David Chapman and Jonathan Sanchez headed a committee to teach middle schoolers about drug abuse. Each morning, announcements were heard by each class. Guest speakers from Cedar Springs Hospital talked to the students about marijuana and cocaine, alcohol, and cigarettes. Contests were also held to promote learning about drugs. A dance was held on Friday night to get everyone together in a lighter atmosphere. The week's success will, hopefully, carry over to next year to continue to teach everyone about one of America's greatest concerns.

Dancing On Air

The Middle School's June 3rd dance was held in blistering hot Founder's Hall. But despite the heat, the final dance of the year was a huge success.

The DJ, Captain Sam II of Ernie's Record Shop, played musical hits by U2, Prince, and the ever popular Whitney Houston. While many students chose to dance to the beat in front of blaring speakers and flickering lights, others socialized by the open doorways (definitely the cooler option!).

Unfortunately, ten o'clock rolled around all too soon as each student drew yet another year to a close. Sixth graders became more experienced seventh graders; seventh graders came out on top of the Middle School as eighth graders; and eighth graders emerged as freshmen in the Upper School.

Court McBryde and Houston Roberts jam to Whitney Houston.

Great Efforts Recognized

This year's Middle School Honors and Awards acknowledged over forty different students, but was dominated by six individuals who shared twenty-seven awards. Ashley Reiter led the group with seven awards, along with the highest GPA for three years. This year's awards were highlighted by a first — the Head of School Award was presented to two students, David Chapman and Jonathan Sanchez. Great work was done by all, especially those who won one of many National Mathematics League ribbons. Congratulations to everyone for an excellent year of accomplishments, awards, and most importantly, learning.

MATH COUNTS TEAM ON THE TOP!

Third place winner in the national individual competition was Ashley Reiter.

This year's Mathcounts team set some tough standards for next year's successors. The team, Ashley Reiter, Jonathan Sanchez, Joseph Tsai, David Bjorin, and alternates Brad Gross and Tessa Cigler, began its trek on Saturday, March 14 at the Fourth Annual Mathcounts Contest vying against 35 other teams. C.L.S. won the team and ciphering contests, and Ashley Reiter won the individual competition. However, P.D.S. won the oral contest. By placing first, C.L.S. advanced to the state contest, along with Charlotte Country Day and Shelby.

The state tournament was almost a repeat. Ashley won the individual contest, and the team won the four-man and oral competitions. They took second place in the ciphering contest behind the Chapel Hill team. For winning the state individual contest, Ashley had the honor of traveling to Washington for the nationals.

The North Carolina team went on to great success in the national competition. Ashley placed third in the individual, behind Russel Mann from Tennessee and Jason Hughes from Alabama. The North Carolina team placed eighth in the overall, which was dominated by the New York team. Ashley received congratulations from Vice President Bush for her first place oral victory, as well as a trophy for placing third as an individual.

"Congratulations to everyone for an enjoyable and successful year!"

PROM '87

It started early in the school year and continued until Saturday night, April 25. Proving to be a very long, but successful evening of events, Prom '87 was worth all the hard work involved in putting the biggest dance of the year together. The junior class spent numerous hours working from the first organizational meeting, to finding a band, and finally placing the last decoration.

On prom night, most of the students had a hearty meal after a drop-in at someone's house, instead of a Whopper at Burger King. At this point, most prom-goers "hung out" until the fashionable time approached to walk through the doors at Raintree Country Club. After the guys had dropped their formal coats and danced until sweat dripped off the tips of their noses, the MAXX sang the last song. All the dancers left the club walking on cloud nine. The night had just begun for some people and Prom '87 continued on . . .

A very entertaining band, "The MAXX," rap

When prom-goers weren't dancing, including Bobby Pesakoff, Mary Bradley Thompson, and John Meacham, they were planning activities for the long night ahead. Oops! Someone didn't dance much at all!

FINEST SEASON EVER

This year held perhaps the inest season ever for the Lat- n baseball team. The team von the CISAA championship vith an impressive 8-1 rec- rd. The overall 14 wins tied a chool record for most wins by Latin team.

Chris Noonan, this year's IVP, led the team with a .453 atting average, 6 home runs nd 34 RBI's. Other outstand- ng players included pitcher arter Meiselman who set a chool record of 71 strike uts. Both Carter and Chris, long with Jeff Sockwell, were selected to the All Conference team for 1987. Defense standouts included Mike Benner, the team's only senior who set a record for average on defense at .976 and was a recipient of the Kemp Davis award. Brian Anderson who set a career defensive average of .971 and was the winner of the Coaches award, overcame an arm injury, and will probably be a leader on the 1988 squad. Coach Conger hopes all will return to insure the best season yet for Latin baseball.

Mike Benner is in position to hit a home run.

Terry Witt is in ready position for "the catch of the day".

GIRLS' SOFTBALL: AT THE PLATE

GIRLS TAKE CONFERENCE CHAMPIONSHIP

This was the most successful season for the Varsity softball team in the history of the school with a record of 9-3. The girls captured the season championship in conference play for the first time ever. Emphasis placed on attitudes and teamwork paid off as balls were batted with resounding "thwacks" into the outfield. Strong leadership came from seniors Jennifer Brinson, Beth Carney, and Jennifer Greenhoot. All Conference players were Beth Anderson, Casey Griner, Tyler Havens, and Robin Withrow.

Beth Anderson warms up on the mound before the start of an inning.

Dana Heinz stops the grounder before tossing the ball to second baseman Ashton Hewitt.

Latin had a very young JV team. Their record was 4-6 and they intend to improve it next year, while they hope to receive returning players in order to make a strong team. In practice, the team emphasized the fundamentals of the game including hitting, catching, sliding, and base running. The recipients of the coaches' awards were Virginia Bryson and Dana Heinz.

BOYS' TENNIS: AT THE NET

Varsity Boys Tennis: 1st Row: L. Barkan, G. Park, J. Brinson, B. Rudisill, G. Hinrichs; 2nd Row: A. Bradford, C. Barcklow, R. Dubose, M. Hollowell, J. Hess, and T. Busby.

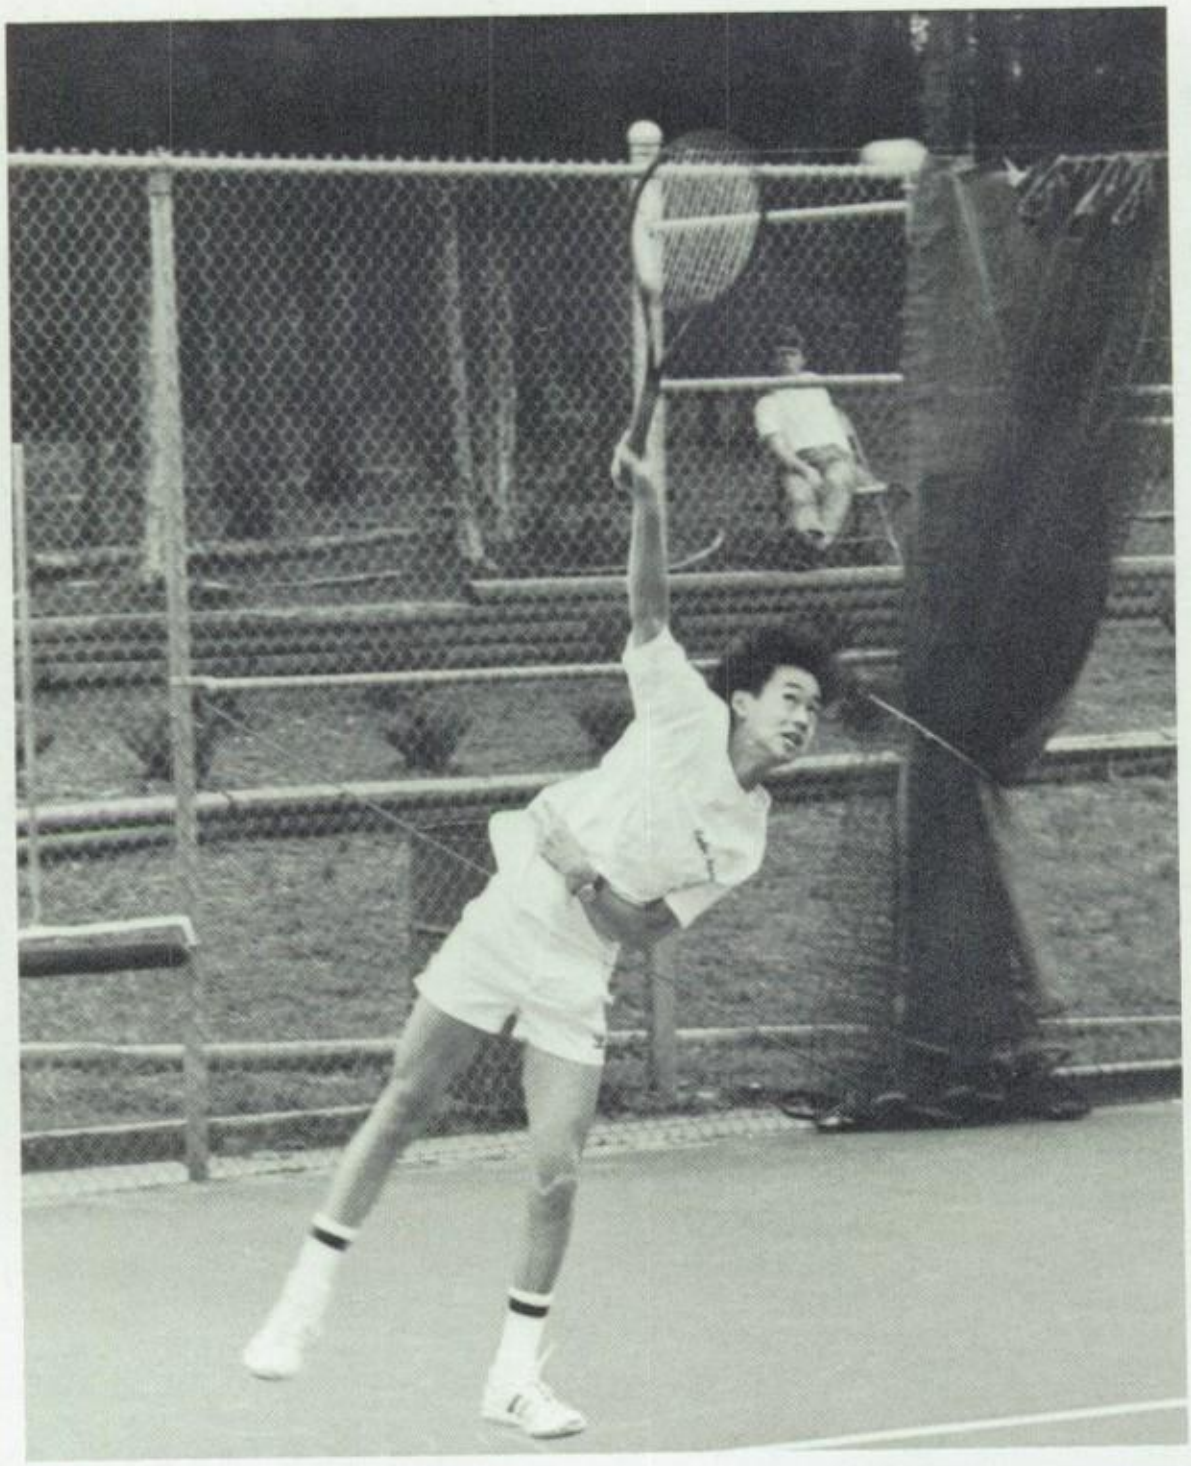
Gene Park blasts into the ad court.



TENNIS COMES THROUGH AGAIN

Tennis at Latin is traditionally owerful. A high school student rom South Carolina said "You go to Charlotte Latin? Oh, yea! They're ncredible tennis players. It's like a egacy up there." True, tennis at atin has become a legacy and the arsity Boys Tennis team lived up to his heritage once again. These roud young men settled in at the eason's end with a comfortable 11- record, taking third in the state.

Gene Park added a great play at he #1 singles position as he teamed up with Jim Brinson in #2 doubles. Brian Rudisill and Chris Barklow also proved to be successful in the State Tournament.

Greg Hinrichs believes "Everybody worked real hard in practices and it paid off in the State."

SET RECORDS

Both the boys' Varsity and JV track teams had super performances in state and individual meets. The JV team was undefeated, with great success in field events and sprints. Although injured during the season, Mark McGinty won four first places.

The Varsity team, often referred to as "very heavy dudes," was undefeated and broke several state records. Kent Jones set three state records and David Hall placed first in the 800 meter. The combined efforts of Richard Vinroot, Gordon Mattocks, David Hall, and Kent Jones set a state record in the 1600 meter relay. In the field events, Bobby Chesney placed third in shot and discus with Latin's John Meacham close behind in fourth.

PERSONAL BEST

Varsity Girl's track was one of the strongest teams at the state meet. They pushed to better themselves, and finished with excellent individual seasons.

Lauren Follmer placed first in the 100 meter at state, second in the 400, and was a member of the third place 4 x 400 relay team, along with Cynthia Williams, Kirstin Robinson, and Connie Forlidas. Caitlin Elber took second place in the discus and first at the conference meet. She was also a member of the fifth place 4 x 200 meter relay along with Caroline Willis, Amy Burroughs, and Andrea Boshammer. Britt Boshammer was second in shot and was also a member of the sixth place 4 x 100 meter relay with Debbie Seymour, Keely Simerville, and Kirstin Robinson. At the conference meet, Britt placed first in the shot put and high jump, and fourth in the 200. Cynthia Williams placed sixth in the mile and second in the 800.

The JV team had a strong season, also. Nicole Mermans and Maureen Selle placed first and second in the 1600 and the 3200, respectively. Meg Dowd was first in the 100 meter and was a member of both the first place 4 x 100 and 4 x 200 meter relays. Gretchen McGinty was second in the 100 meter hurdles and a member of both the 4 x 100 and 4 x 200 meter relay teams. Elizabeth Stafford, placed first in the shot put.

Britt Boshammer prepares to throw the shotput.

itlin Elber crosses the finish line for the 4 x 00 relay.

Lauren Follmer races to the finish against a Durham competitor.

Debbie Seymour sprints down the track beating Indian Land.

GOLF TEAMS: ON THE TEE

V. Golf — Coach Robinson, J. Westbrook, B. Garrett, D. Painter, J. Covington, R. Butler, M. Kinlaw, S. Hinshaw, J. Brownlow, A. Thompson, J. Kreshon.

JVS SHINE

The Latin Varsity Golf Team posted a 6-7 record this spring. John Kreshon, Jay Brownlow, Charles Thrift, and Derek Painter were the team stand-outs. Andy Thompson was named most valuable and made the All Conference team.

The JV team had a 5-1 season. Their only loss coming to Country Day. Chip Farmer, David Merritt, Chad Mangum and Frank Ingram showed super potential. Stephen Woodard is predicted to be a standout on the Varsity squad in coming years. Brian Crutcher and Sam Kennedy showed promise through their improvement over the year.

GIRLS' SOCCER: IN THE GOAL

GIRLS SCORE 40

Girls' soccer had an outstanding season highlighted by 40 goals on their way to a 10-3-2 record. They won the Charlotte Latin Invitational, but lost their quarter final bid in the state playoffs.

Practices emphasized team play. The girls were told to play hard and skillfully, a winning combination. Katie Gatto led the team in scoring with Elizabeth Tisdale close behind. Meridith McLeod was successful in her first year as goalkeeper. Laura Taylor made the All State squad and first team All Region. Special thanks go to the seniors Tamara Schicha, Cathy Hollenbeck, Laura Taylor, and Jackie Maier: the team couldn't have done it without you.

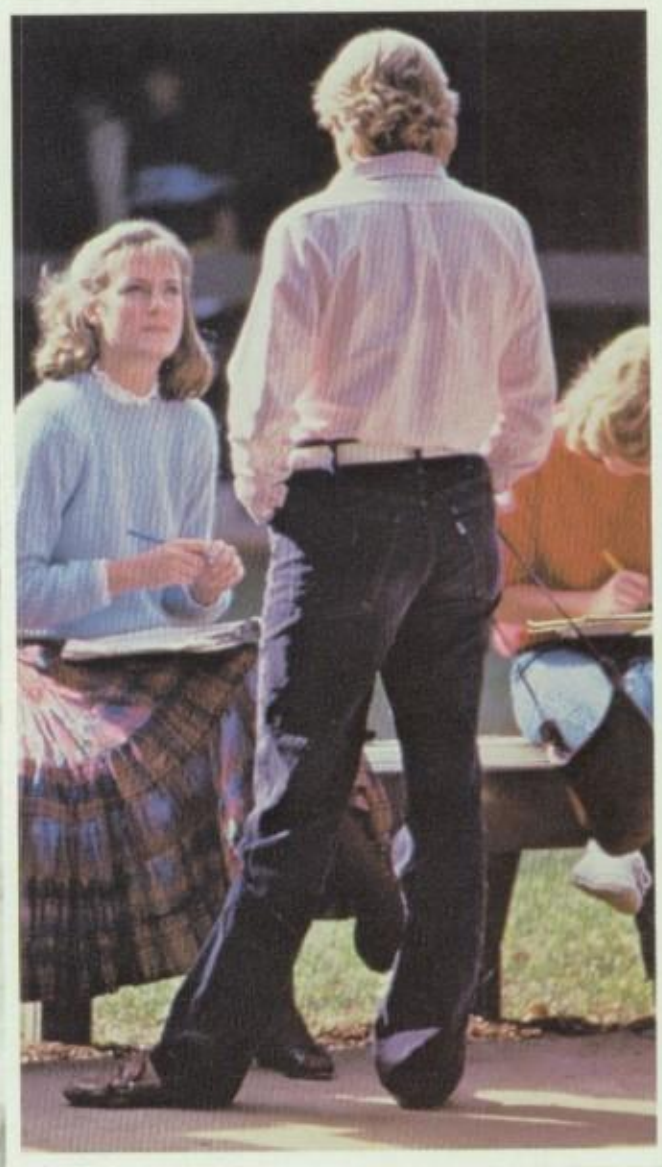
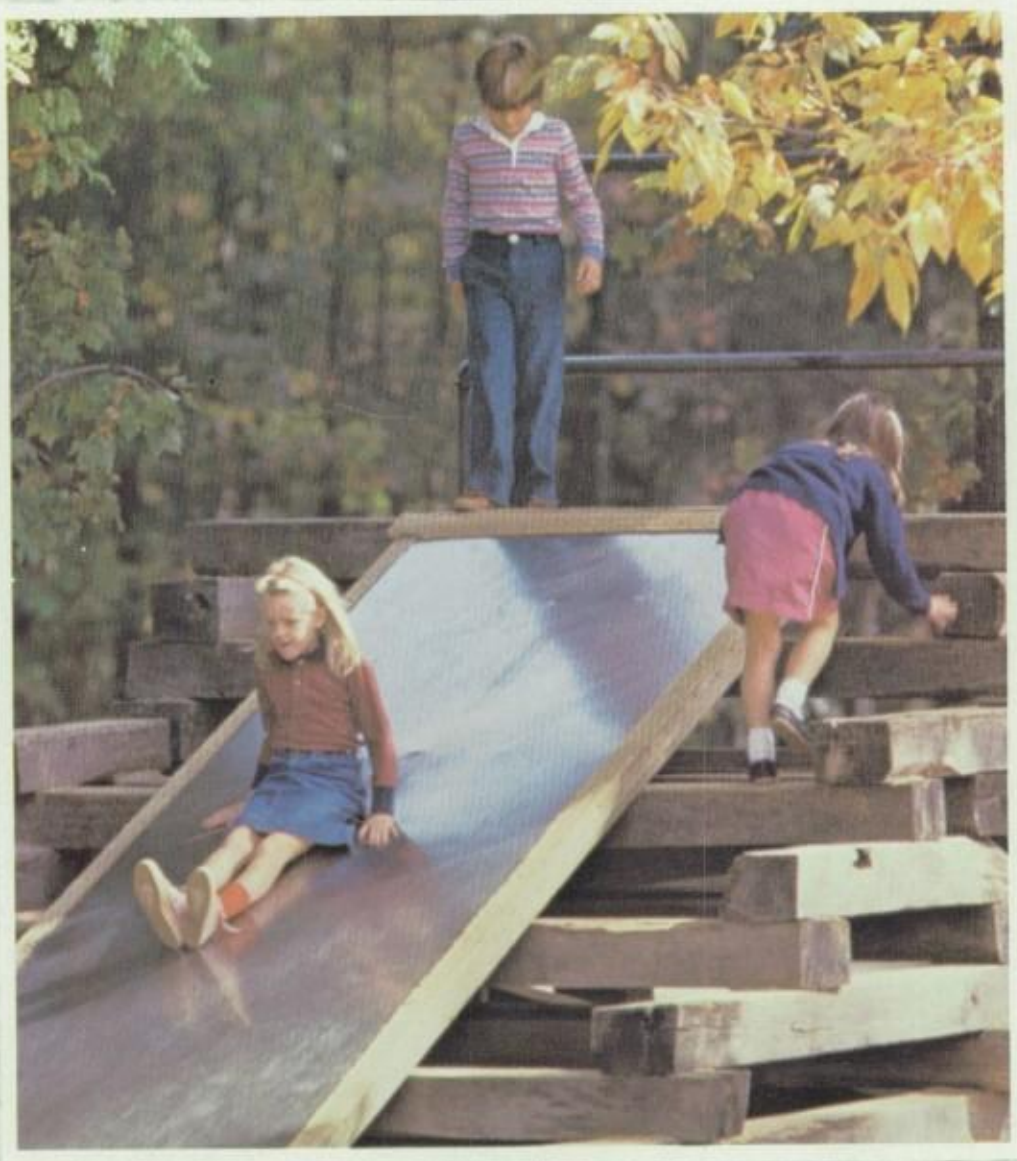
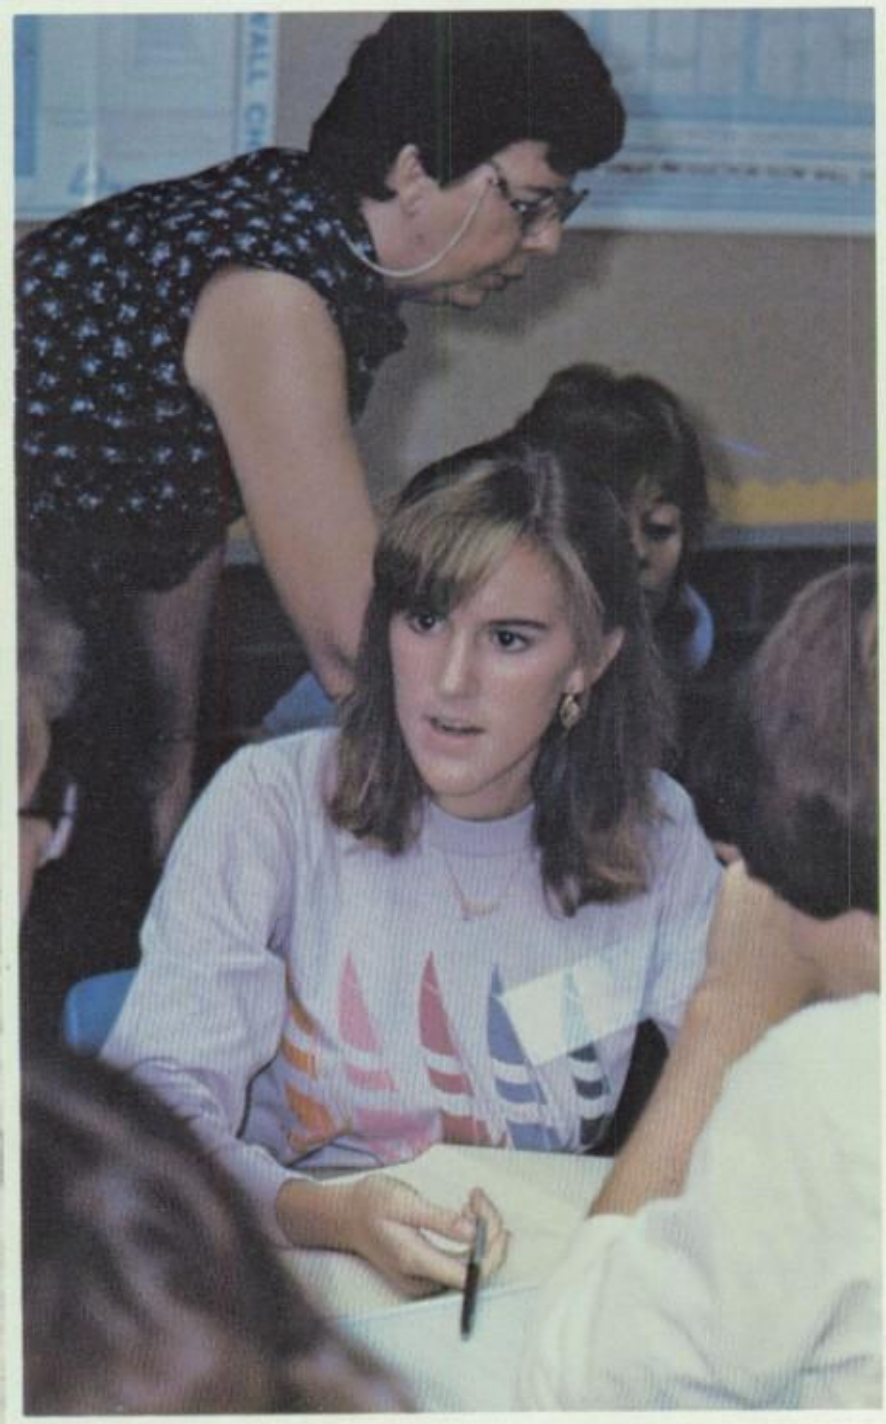
Clockwise from above: Varsity Football player Adams Withers reflects on another game. Bill Pitt and Marty Viser take a romantic walk to the gym for practice after school. Missy Herring, Winn Rollins and Kristin Hess gossip while attempting to study in the contiguous eating area. Caroline Finklea and Alice Michaux discuss important matters during a free period. Lower School students love the sliding board on the playground. Kim Santospago and other Varsity Cheerleaders prepare to liven the crowd with an enthusiastic cheer.

Let's take a look at CLS. Join us as we travel through the pages of this book, reminiscing about another year, another learning experience, another step closer to our final destination . . . graduation! As students at CLS, we are given clues everyday as to how to make our world a better one and our school the best possible. Look around. Pick up a magnifying glass and join us as we inspect a typical year at Latin.

Charlotte Latin is a place in which students and faculty alike learn more about themselves and about life around them. Amidst all the hardwork, whether studying for academics or training for sports, throughout the school year everyone manages to find time to relax and enjoy the beauty of our campus. The total atmosphere is one of genuine concern for others and their welfare.







Clockwise from bottom left hand page: Studying diligently, this sixth grade student concentrates on his work. Charles Giddens and Trey Higgens discuss a recent cross country match. These freshmen enjoy their free period in the sun. Planning her layout for the yearbook, Keri Henrichs talks to her partners. Mr. Rutherford always seems to attract old students back to Latin. The French Club sits down to a leisurely break of eclaires.

Latin brings us new experiences each day. As a result, new things are learned that make the following days much easier as we continue our walk through life. We, as students, owe many thanks to our teachers for the ideals we are given to help us understand who we are and who we want to become. One valuable lesson all CLS students learn is how to enjoy life and have a good time, in spite of all the problems and frustrations that come along. We will continue to put the pieces together and develop ourselves to the highest potential as students at CLS and as new individuals in an ever-changing world.

Clockwise from top left hand page: Mr. Marion Hames' smile is common around campus. Cheerleaders Missy Herring, Caroline Finklea, and Kelley Hardmon show their spirit. Mr. McEachern, Head of Middle School, enjoys his work. Upper school students find their classes demanding. Yearbook staff members, Susan McAlister, Ginny Carson, and Holly Beford are always open to new ideas. Mr. McEachern and Miss Monahan receive congratulations on the announcement of their engagement.

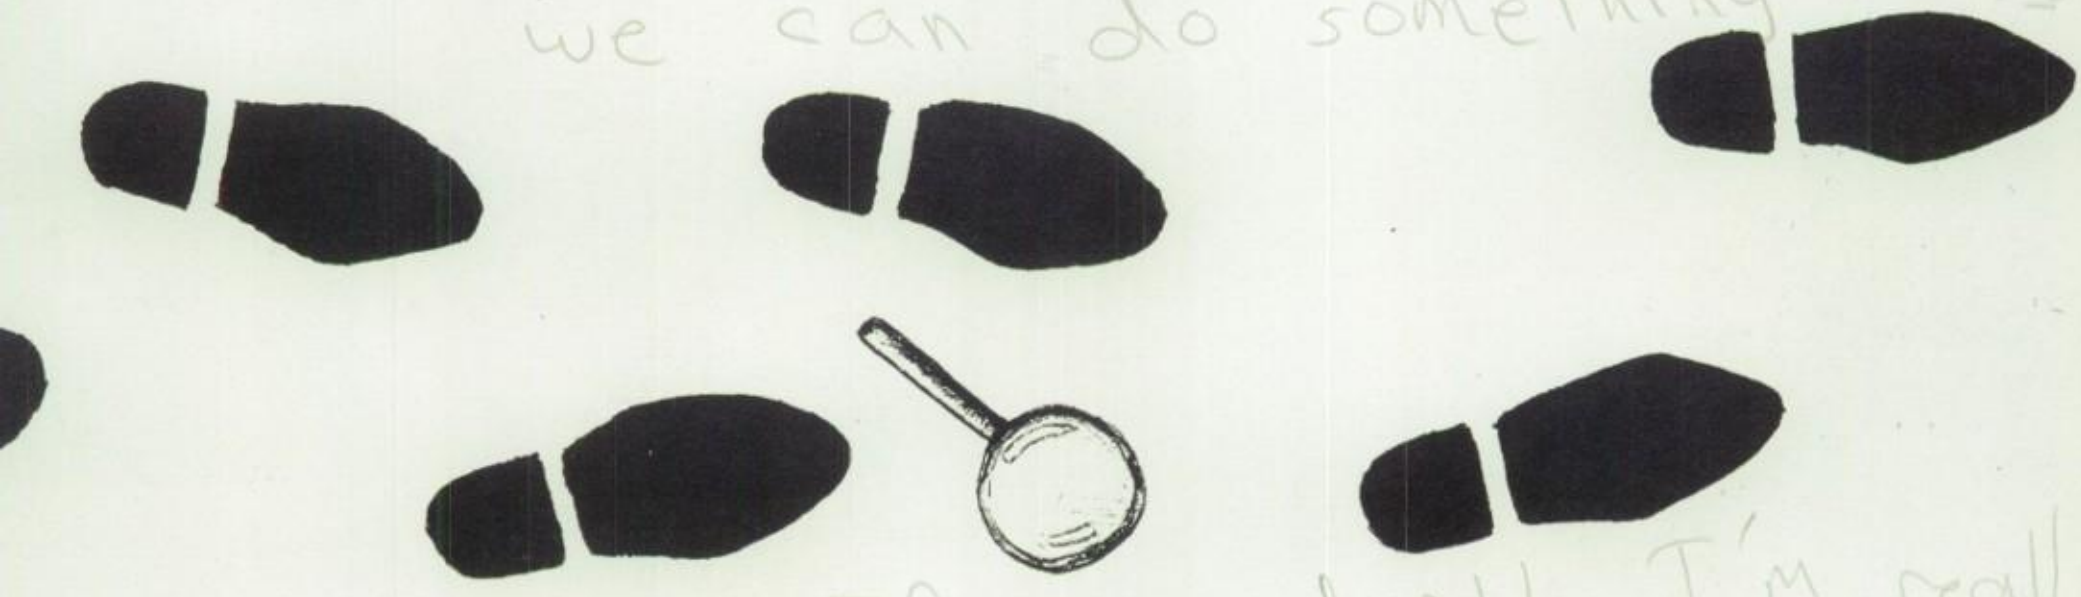
ADMINISTRATION



MAY I HAVE YOUR ATTENTION, PLEASE?

"May I have your attention, please . . . " This is heard frequently over the intercom as Headmaster Dr. Edward Fox speaks.

As we direct our attention to Dr. Fox, we learn that he has been headmaster of Charlotte Latin for eight years. During this period, student enrollment has increased twenty-five per cent. He not only is a fine leader, but is involved in student activities including teaching a Bible education class.

Being headmaster is a tedious job and could not be done without a fine secretary. Dr. Fox is fortunate enough to have Janice Privette as his personal secretary.

LEADIN' THE WAY

Without the help and guidance of those working behind the office desks, students and faculty of Charlotte Latin would be lost. Each day these people are called upon for their assistance. Latin is fortunate to have such a responsible and enthusiastic staff working in the office!

Studying the computer monitor is Bob Robinson; business manager.

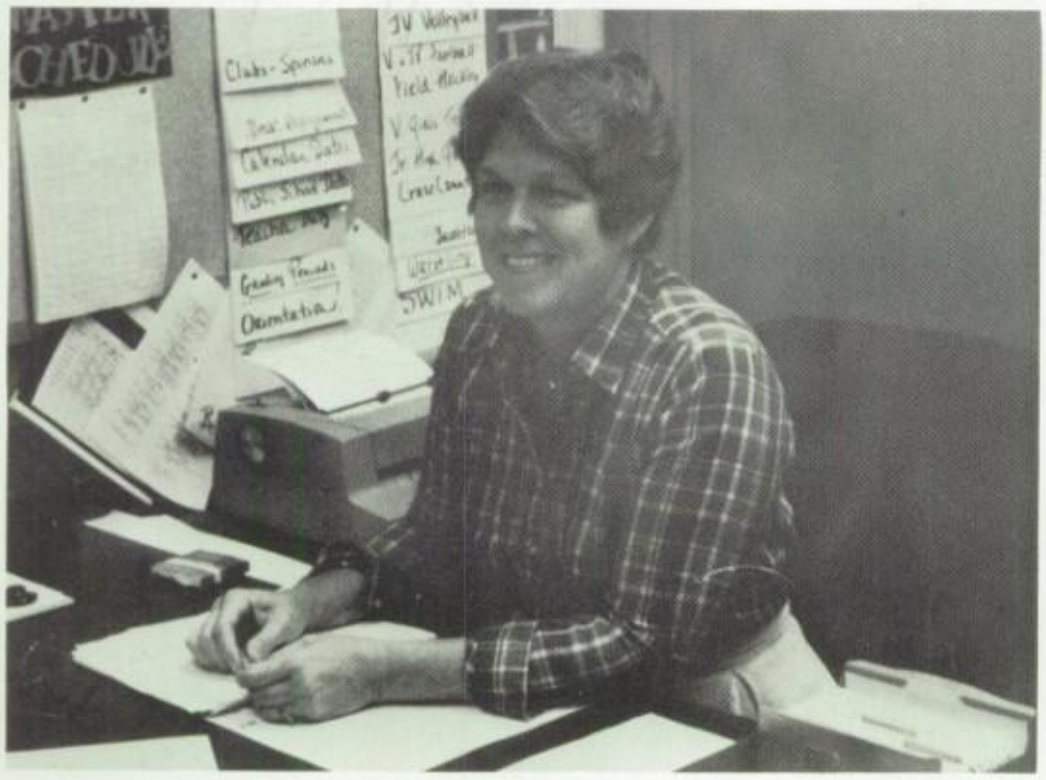
Even with a desk full of work, Sophie Godwin, Director of Admissions, finds time for a smile.

Linde Mullis, Director of Alumni Affairs, spends many of her weekday mornings in the Admissions office.

THE EXTRA EFFORT

An essential element of any efficient organization is the work of the secretaries. Charlotte Latin has a staff of hard workers including: Sara Lowe, secretary of upper school; Mary Sue Patten, secretary of middle school; and Nancy Wohlbruck, secretary of lower school.

In addition to performing their duties as secretary, these ladies are always willing to lend a helping hand to any student.



Counter clockwise from top: Mary Sue Patten works hard preparing the Middle School agenda. "Den Mother" Sara Lowe always finds time for a smile. Although very busy, Nancy Wohlbruck is always eager to help anyone.

SEARCHING FOR HELP!

At Charlotte Latin there are many people who work behind the scenes to make Latin a better place. Their combined efforts, many times unrewarded, help to make our school one of the finest in the area. No matter what the problem — from a scraped knee to a lost check to the call number of an important book for your next term paper — the answer can be found somewhere on campus, and most likely from one of these ladies. When needed, their help and guidance is always available.

BEHIND THE SCENES

One of the main driving forces of CLS is the work accomplished by those who work behind the desks. These few people help to keep CLS running at top efficiency. The secretarial force does so much for the school and without them Latin would not be quite the same. They help out in such ways that we cannot witness all that they do. Without them students, faculty, and visitors would not see the true Charlotte Latin.

KEEPING THINGS RUNNING

Warran Reid and Ray Welsh take time out to pose.

Without the hard work of the maintenance staff, the students of Charlotte Latin would not have the clean buildings and beautiful grounds to which they are accustomed. Although the jobs of this group are often thankless, they are important for the well being of the school as well as for C.L.S. students. Working long hours before and after school, the custodial force helps to keep Charlotte Latin in top condition.

SENIOR TRIP

"Christmount? Nobody wants to go there." As it turned out, everybody was wrong. For the first time, a senior class under the leadership of Mrs. Rudene Marlow and president Dean Kessel, planned a pre-graduation trip in order to prepare for such senior class burdens, as graduation speaker, senior banquet, senior gift, senior follies, and senior breakfast. With all these things in mind, the '84 senior class took to the hills, and with great success came back with considerable progress in all of the projects. Not only did they take the initiative and do more in one weekend than any other class has done in at least three months, but they had considerable fun also. The fun began in the vans on the way up and soon spread to a very "scrappy" soccer game, then into an all night game of charades. Before the departure, there was time for a rapid ascent to the top of the ridge led by Mr. Smith, and, of course, with Mrs. Marlowe bringing up the rear (or should we say that we found her on our way back down.) Hopefully this trip will set a new senior tradition to be carried on in the future by other classes.

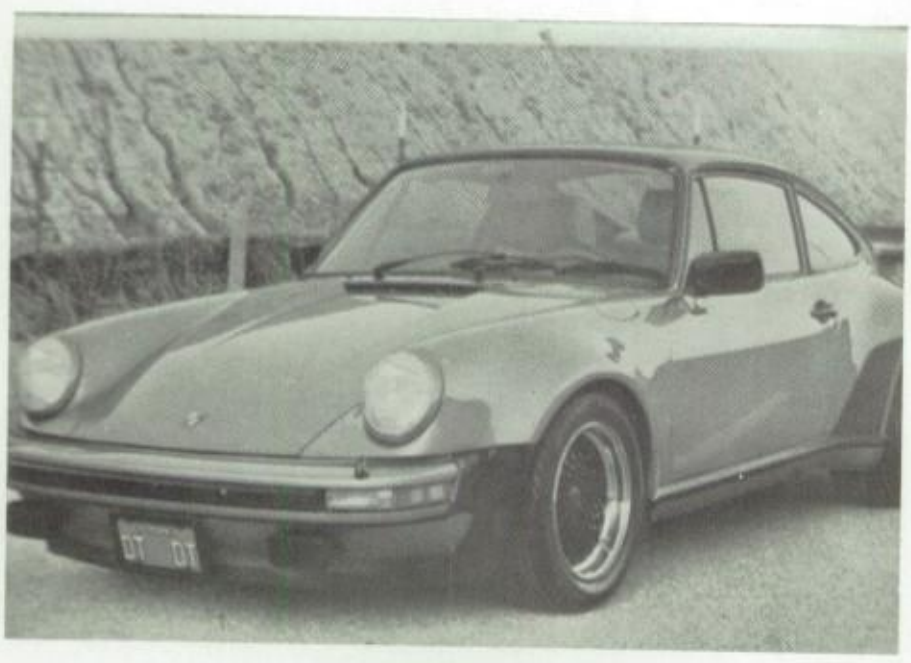
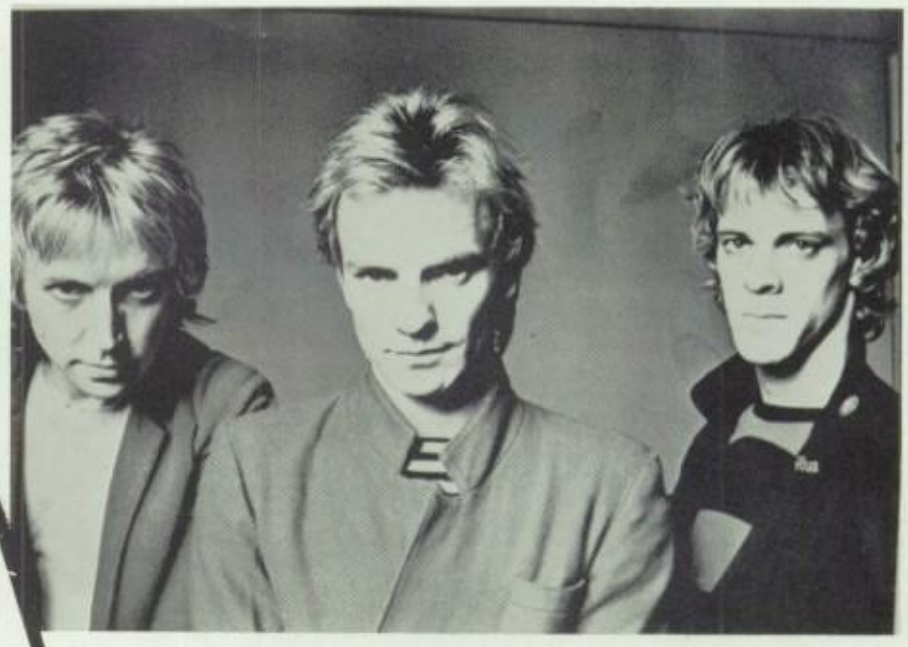
Latin students are "DELIRIOUS" over Eddie Murphy, and chose him as their favorite actor. Richard Gere ran a close second with newcomer Tom Craig pulling into third place.

Christie Brinkley won by a large margin in the category of favorite actress, due to the success of her first movie, Vacation. Goldie Hawn came in second with Debra Winger in third place.



When it comes to cars, Latin students really have expensive tastes. Porsche won by a large margin with BMW in second, and Mercedes in a close third.



THE POLICE! This three man band has successfully created a sound that is unmistakably theirs, and has quickly risen to be one of the more popular bands of the 80's. Veteran groups, The Who and the Rolling Stones, came in second and third.

For favorite movie, the summer hit Risky Business outranked Flashdance. Trading Places also had received many votes, but ended up in third place.

The Police's fifth album,Synchronicity won first place in the category of favorite album followed by Michael Jackson's Thriller in a close second. The Cars' first album was third place.

YEARBOOK

Deadline Friday! . . . Where's the cropper? . . . Sell Ads! . . . Where's the picture? . . . I need a black pen . . . If one were to walk into room 504 during fourth period (or after school) one might hear any one of these panicky phrases yelled in the midst of mass hysteria. Deadlines bring yelling editors and a very nervous yearbook staff. Even though there is a lot of dedication and long hours of hard work involved, it's all worth it when the final product is distributed and a satisfied customer smiles.

Photographers L to R: B. Garret, K. Kuntze, T. Roddey, J. Ankers.

The Yearbook staff does it again!

The Yearbook Staff is a group of students who spend many long hours working on the production of the Yearbook. The jobs of the staff members consist of coming up with an overall theme, devising layouts, writing copy, and meeting pressuring deadlines. This year's book was unique and an excellent job was done. Way to go!

HAWKEYE

The secret press has been discovered at Latin. Hawkeye is a class which meets during the day to write, design and edit a newspaper which reflects what is happening at Latin. Their purpose is to educate, inform and entertain the readers. Keep up the informative reporting.

STUDENT COUNCIL

The students at Charlotte Latin were very fortunate this year to have an active and dedicated Student Council. Led by Houston Patterson, the Student Council successfully put together a great Homecoming, complete with a live band and a Homecoming Court. The Student Council also formed a committee, headed by Keri Hinrichs, to devise an honor code. These students should be commended on their great activities (which boosted school spirit) and their strong show of interest for their school and fellow students. Thanks!

MUSIC: HANDBELLS, JAZZ ENSEMBLE, CHORUS

This year was another successful year in music. Every year Latin's bands and choruses seem to become even more outstanding.

Latin was fortunate enough to gain a new member to the music staff this year, Mrs. Synder. Under her leadership, the chorus performed at the Radisson, Charlotte Latin, and various others schools.

Handbells also excelled this year. Under Noble Dillard's direction the handbell choir performed in a handbell festival at Latin. They also held a dance for the Latin Students and the members of visiting handbell choirs.

The sixth and seventh grade band, the steel drum band, and the eighth grade jazz ensemble provided much entertainment in several CLS performances. The jazz ensemble plans to go to New Orleans to perform at different schools.

CUM LAUDE

Charlotte Latin is the youngest school to receive the honor of being admitted into the Cum Laude Society. Induction into the Cum Laude Society is the highest academic honor any student can receive. The members were inducted in January at an assembly where their qualities were described to the audience. Afterwards a banquet was held in the library to honor the students. The Cum Laude Society is different from other clubs in that it inducts members purely on the basis of grades. No more than the top ten-percent of the junior class and the top twenty percent of the senior class is eligible for induction.

HONOR SOCIETY

When one thinks of the National Honor Society members, he usually thinks of people who make excellent grades. This is true but only to a certain degree. Other qualities such as character, leadership and service also play important roles in the induction of Honor Society members. Contrary to popular belief, the Honor Society is not inactive in the community. These students sponsor a booth at May Day Play Day along with tutoring lower school students.

BACKPACKING CLUB

The Backpacking Club, guided by Charles Orr, is a group of adventurers who love packaged foods and the outdoors. These thrillseekers go on rafting and hiking trips to places such as the Grand Canyon and Bob's Creek. The members join for fun and to learn more about nature and themselves. Although the group is not large, this seems to be an advantage because of the strong friendships formed during the trips. Even so, the members hope to have many new comers next year, including girls.

DANCE CLUB

nt Row: K. Zegel, S. McAlister, B. Barton, L. Ach, M. Copsis. Back Row: B. Bryson, J. Austin, L. Tate, A. Collias, K. Cloninger.

Danny Terio lives at Latin. This year's dance club was created to give those who are interested in performing modern dance a chance to perform. They give a new meaning to the word dance — incredible! Practicing three days a week eighth period and in their own free time, the Dance Club makes up dances to modern songs such as their favorite "Beat It". Their performances provide entertainment for both the performers and the audiences.

SPEECH AND DEBATE CLUB

L. Bishop, J. Wilfong, C. Williams, V. Eldridge, R. Paris, J. McDonald, J. Rogers, G. Schisha, M. Tye, B. Allen, D. Brenner, S. Preston, T. nger.

The Speech and Debate Club has increased immensely in membership this year gaining seventeen more members. The purpose of the club is to improve the organizational and speech skills of the members and to provide opportunities for competitive use of the gained skills. President Glenn Schischa and Captain Tony Messenger hope to lead their team to victory. Good luck!

FRENCH CLUB

French spies? No, the French Club is not a spy club, but it does concentrate on investigating the French culture and language. They do this through dinners, parties, and other activities such as a crepe booth at May Day Play Day. The French Club is also involved in activities with the Latin and Spanish clubs like the International Dance. Au Revoir.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Armada was defeated, or was it? This year's Spanish Club is committed to spreading the Spanish culture throughout Latin. They meet every two weeks to plan their exciting activities. Through taste-testing foods, a nacho booth at May Day Play Day, and various interesting movies and speakers, they learn about the Spanish culture. Adios Amigos.

Under the leadership of Mr. Olson, the Latin Club participated in numerous school functions this year. These included participation with other language clubs, involvement in classical language studies, and other school events. The participation with other clubs consisted of a week of competition for a beautiful plaque. During the week, Latin Club participated in various treasure hunts and singing contests. They also dressed in their country colors of purple and white. The week was completed with a dance consisting of all the language clubs and many delicious foreign foods. President Juli Reynolds and Vice-President Kim Williams added tremendously to the success of the club.

Mr. King talks to the French club about the upcoming International Week. The French club (above right) along with the other language clubs is involved in many school activities.

KEYWANETTES

Looking for a bunch of hard-working, devoted girls to help out with a service project? Charlotte Latin's Keywanettes will get the job done! The club is made up of about forty girls in grades ten through twelve and is advised by Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Patton. These girls devote their time and care to projects such as tutoring young children, weatherizing homes for the poor, and collecting money in selected shopping centers for the salvation army. These projects are only a few out of the many projects they perform throughout the year.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club, under the direction of Mr. Chewning and Mr. McEachern, is a club committed to serving the school and community. The club is sponsored by the Charlotte chapter of the Kiwanis Club, and every Thursday members attend their breakfast meetings. Its large membership gives the club the opportunity to accomplish many successful projects. These projects include the blood drive, a canned good collection for Thanksgiving, and work at the Crisis Assistance Ministry. Some newer projects and activities are assistance at the Food Mart, taco dinners with the Keywanettes, and a picnic on the new property with all of the service clubs.

CIVINETTES

The Civinettes have done it again this year. Once again they have carried the word "service" to the extreme. These ready to help girls do many things to contribute to those who are less fortunate. During Valentine's they sell carnations and during Christmas, candycanes. All these proceeds are used for various charities. The Civinettes also serve Latin by putting up-to-date announcements on the information board in the upper school parking lot and putting up student art in the library. These projects are only a few marks on their calendar of assistance. These girls definitely deserve a pat on the back.

INTERACT CLUB

The Interact Club is a club known for its service to the community. Locally they assisted the community in winterizing homes, tutoring, and working for the Scout Expo. Internationally, they assisted the community through a crop-walk to combat poverty. The Interact Club is a valuable part of Latin and adds true meaning to the word "service."

COMPUTER CLUB

Wargames at Latin? Charlotte Latin's computer club was designed to allow students to learn more about the ever popular computer. These students spend their free time learning all they can about computers in order to enter computer competitions and hopefully win them. This club is very valuable to those who are interested in any business oriented career. As we all know, computers are not only the wave of the future but the wave of today also.

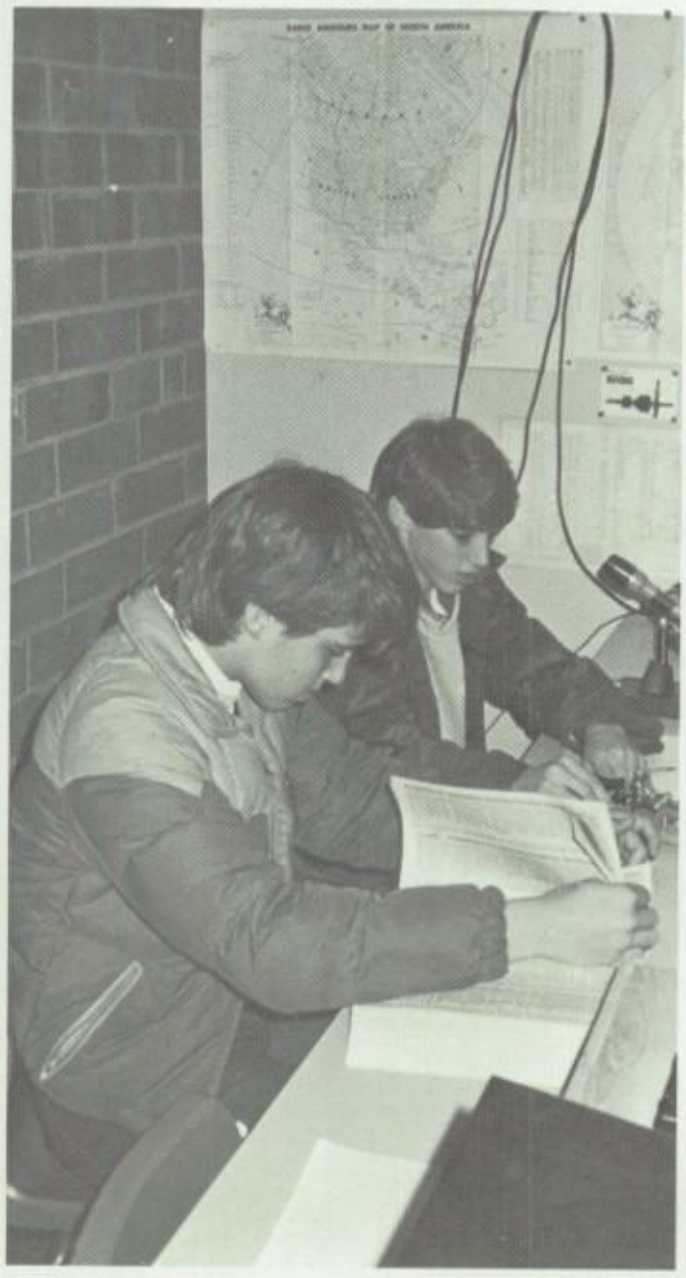
Right: Members of the computer club use their free time to work on their programs.



RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club was designed in order to allow students not only to learn about radio broadcasting but also to allow the members to earn their FCC amateur radio license. These students, under the leadership of Mr. Olson, are involved in different radio contests throughout the year. They also serve the school through their May Day Play Day broadcast on their club station, WD4OHD. Could this club be the beginning for another Rock 'in Roll Ted?

Clockwise: Derel Monteith is hard at work in the radio room. Some radio whizzes take a break. "Sorry Chris, wrong number!" Chris Lowden attempts to "phone home!"

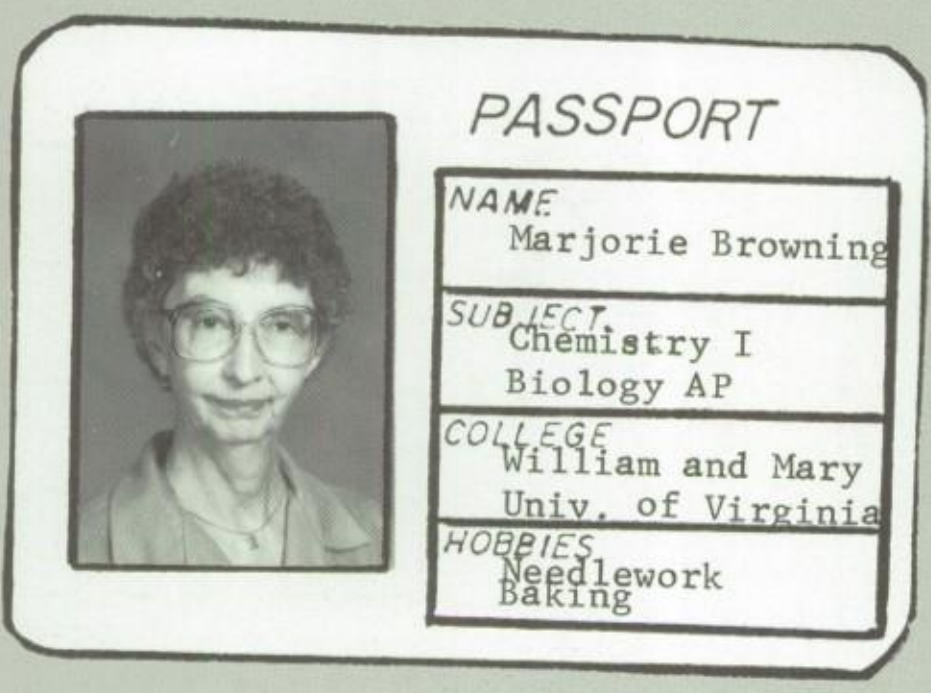
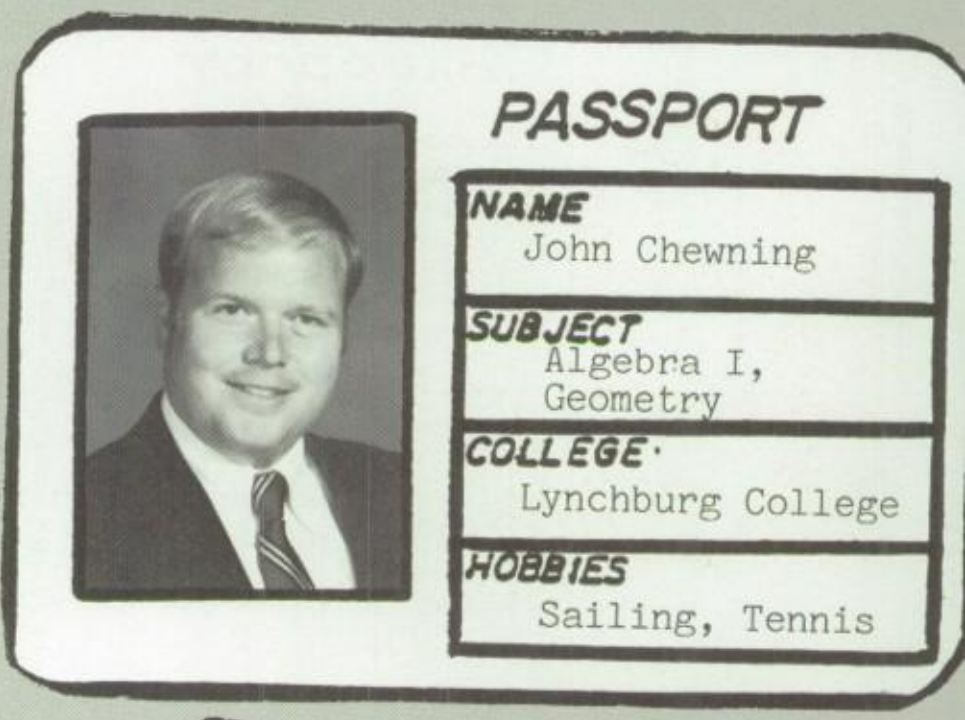
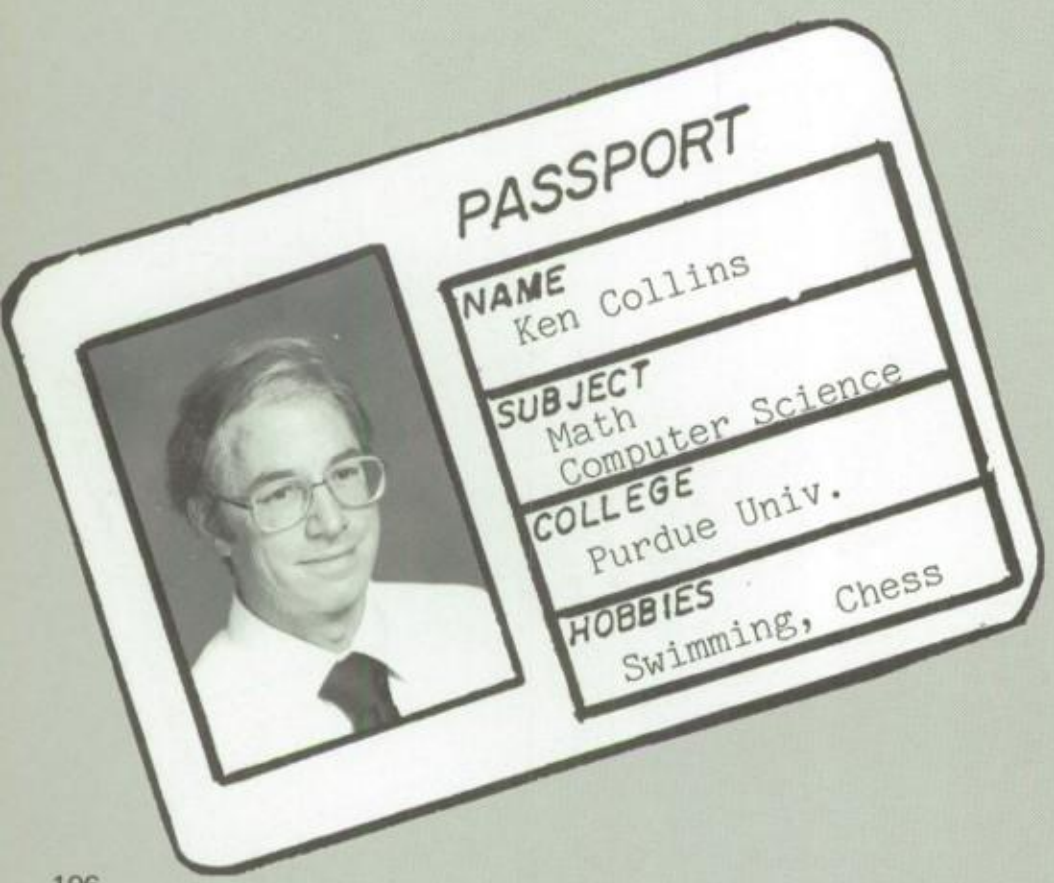
FACULTY

PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE

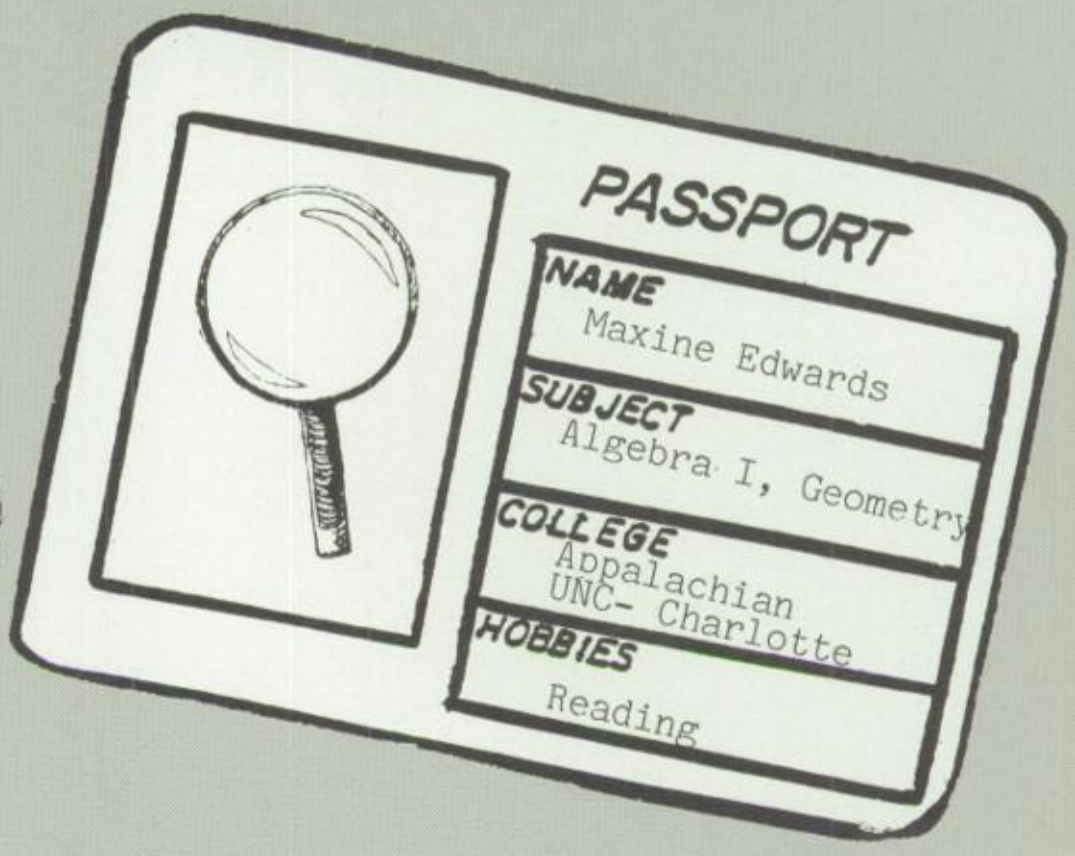
The students of Charlotte Latin are fortunate enough to have a teaching staff that consists of faculty who are qualified to prepare them for any path the future may hold. As well as qualified, the staff is eager and willing to help any student. Although the future is challenging and unsure, faculty advice and guidance prepares Latin students for all decisions.

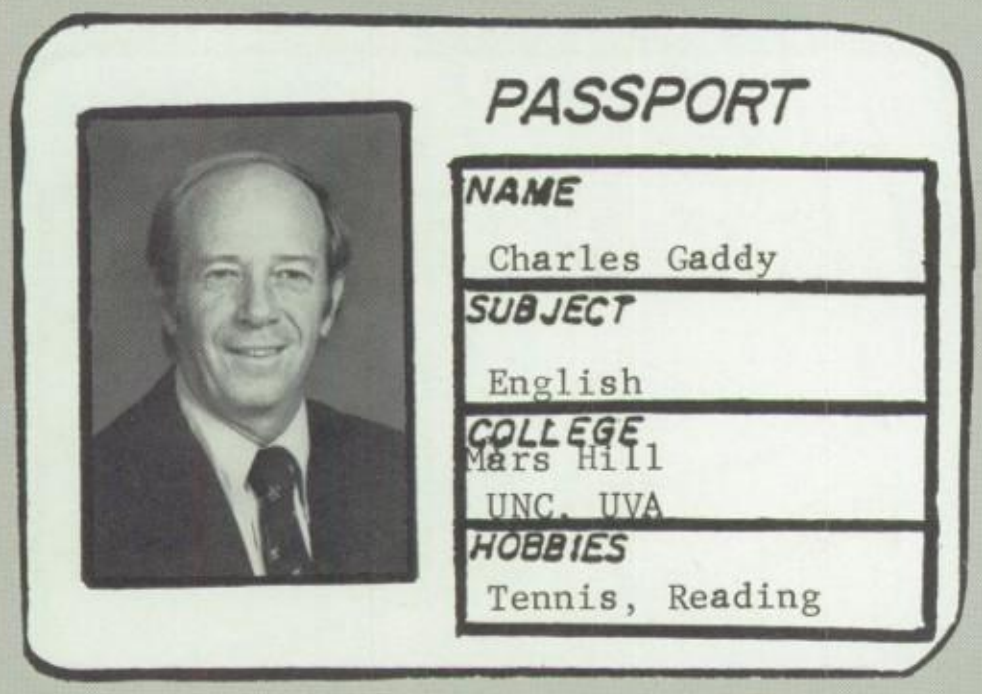


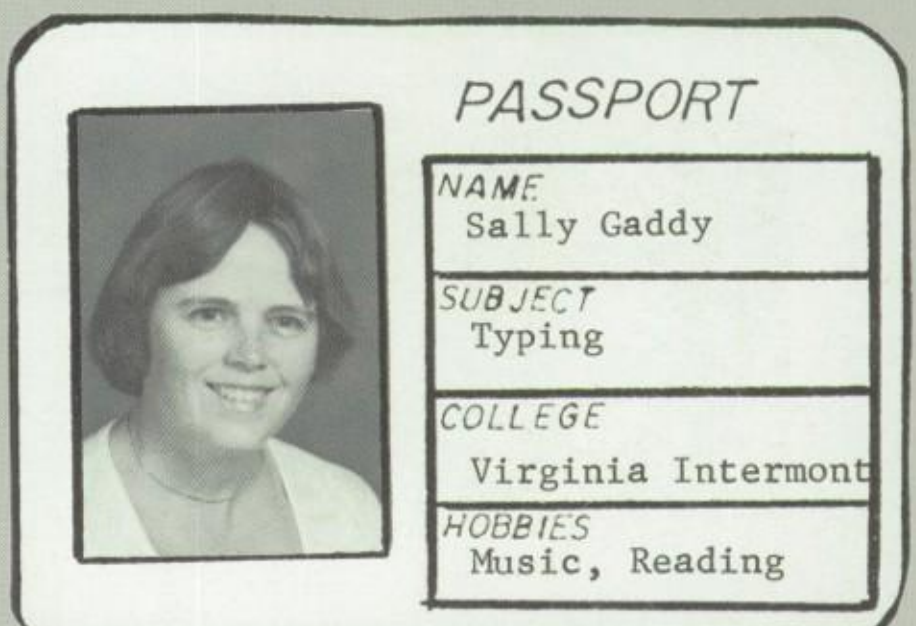




PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE

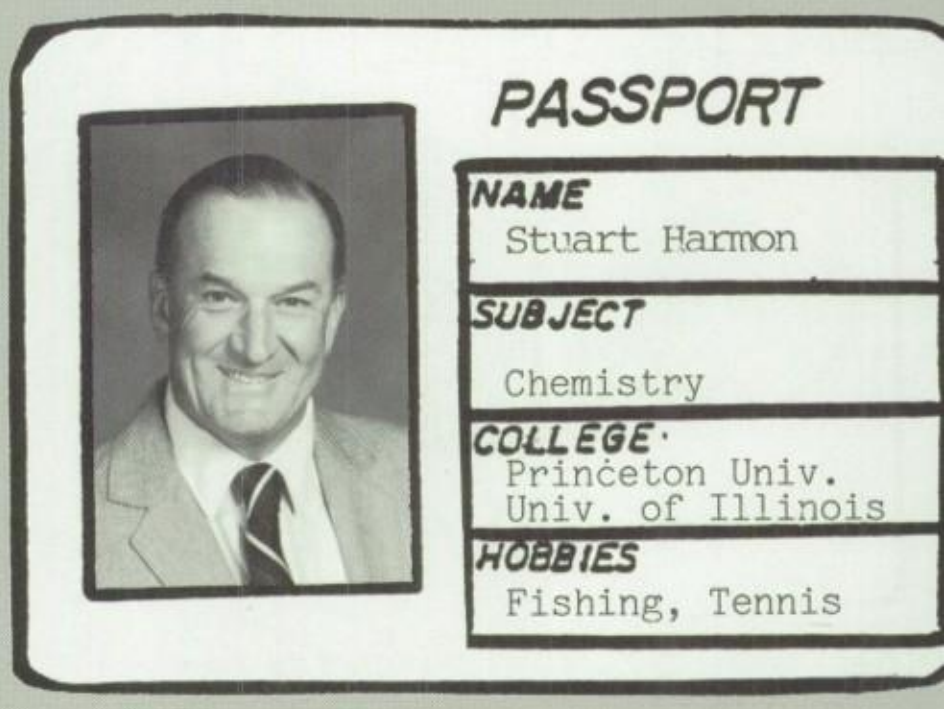


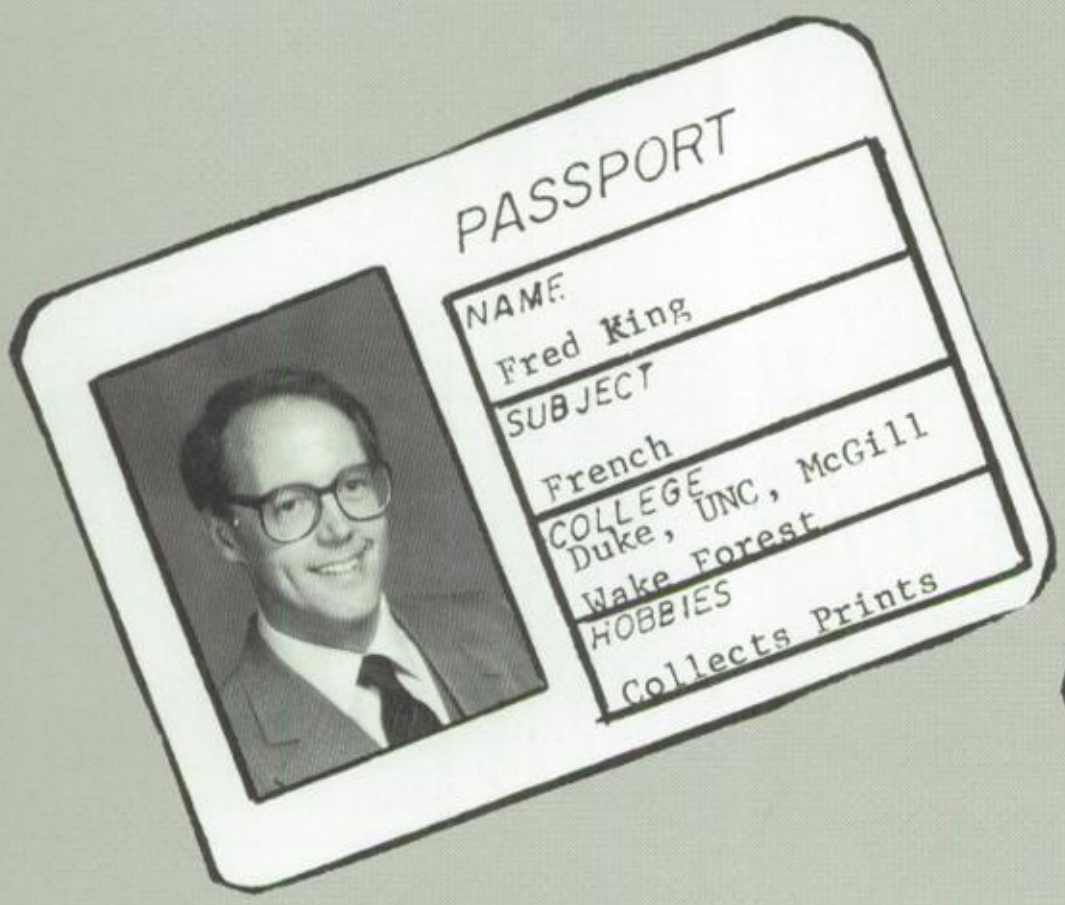


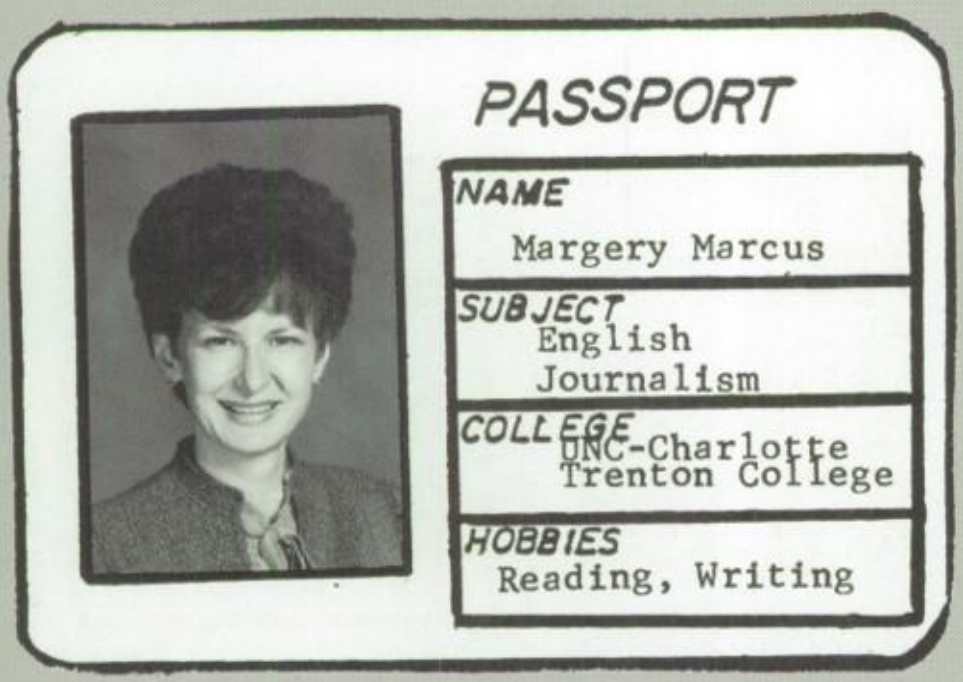


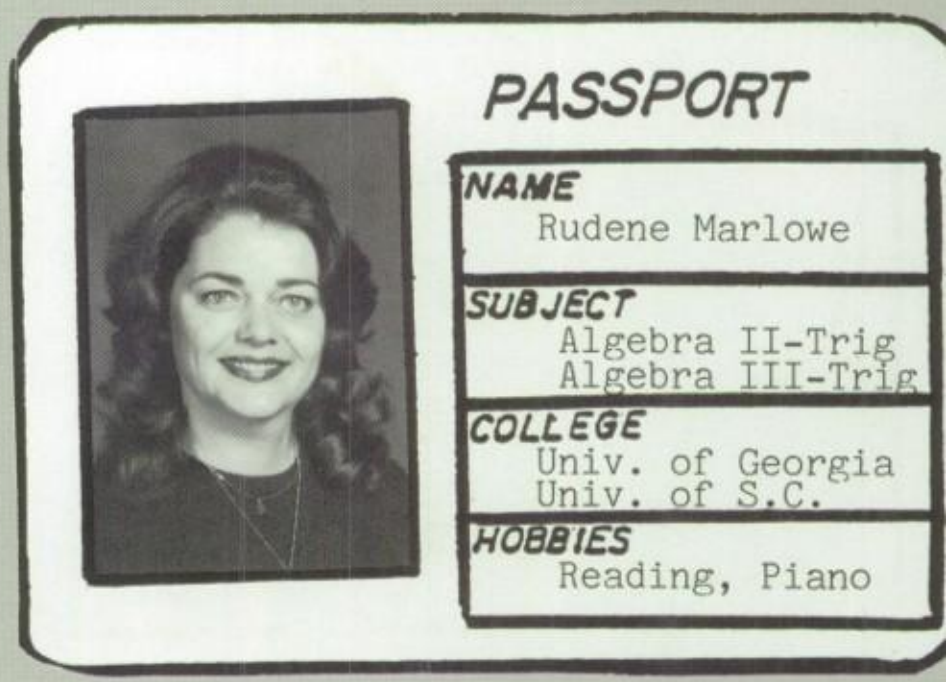
PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE

Charlotte Latin not only offers fine preparation as far as academics is concerned, but it also offers courses in various other fields. For students interested in the fine arts, Latin has classes in choir, music, and art. C.L.S. students may also choose between classes in typing, computers, and an array of other subjects. Latin offers a variety of courses for a diversified student body.









PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE

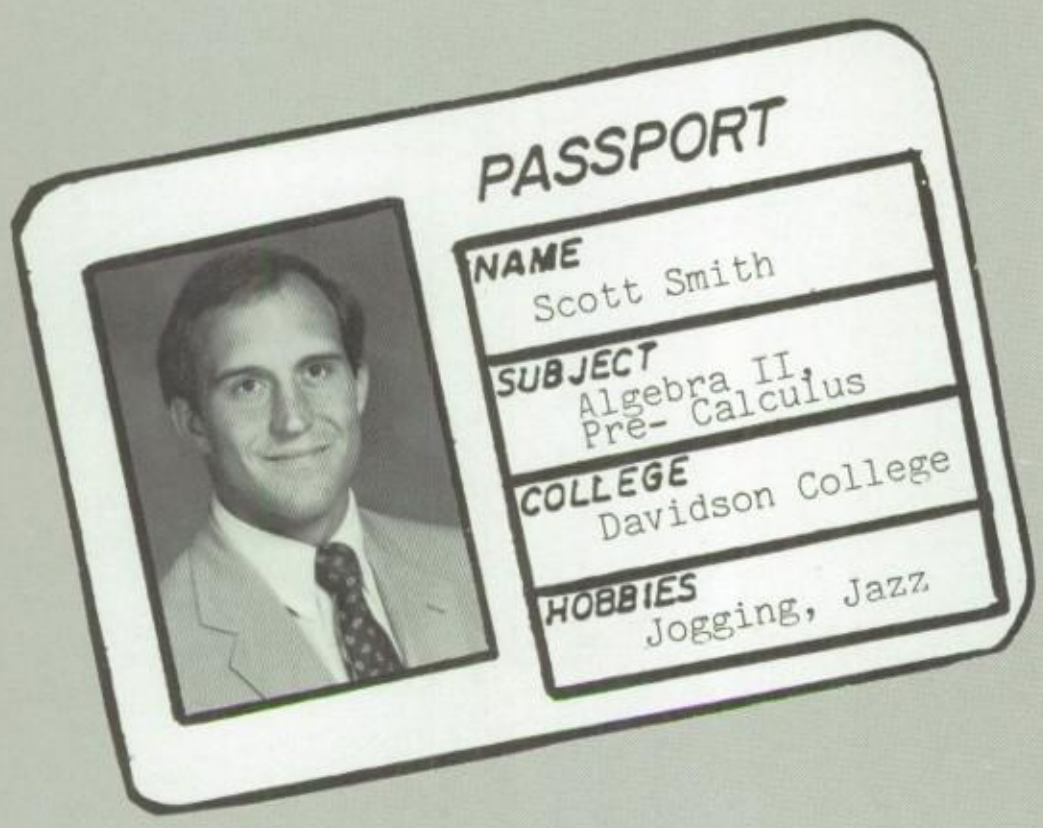
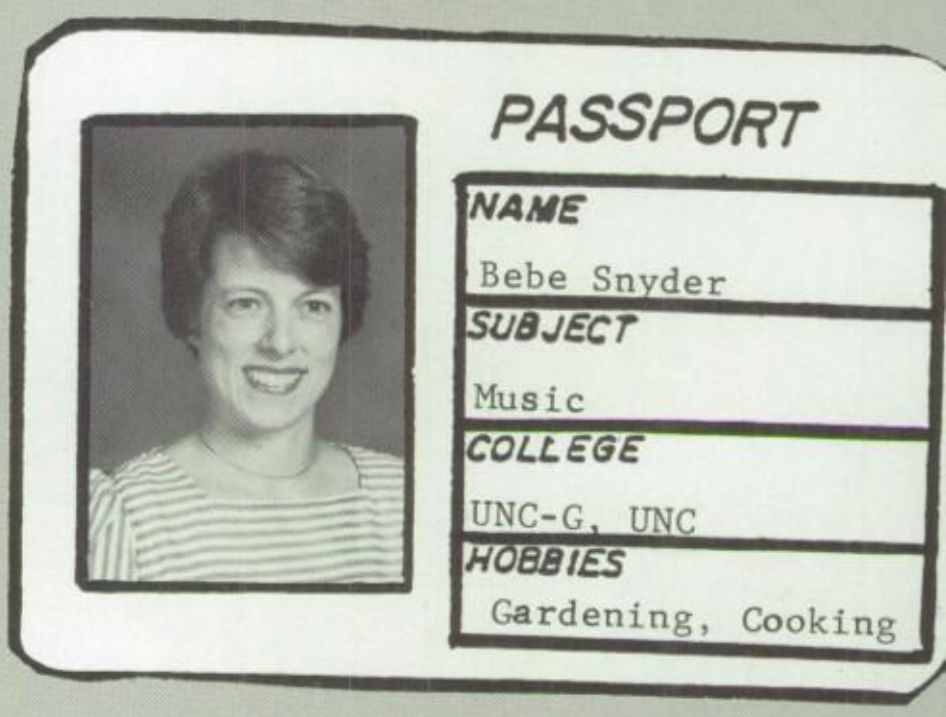
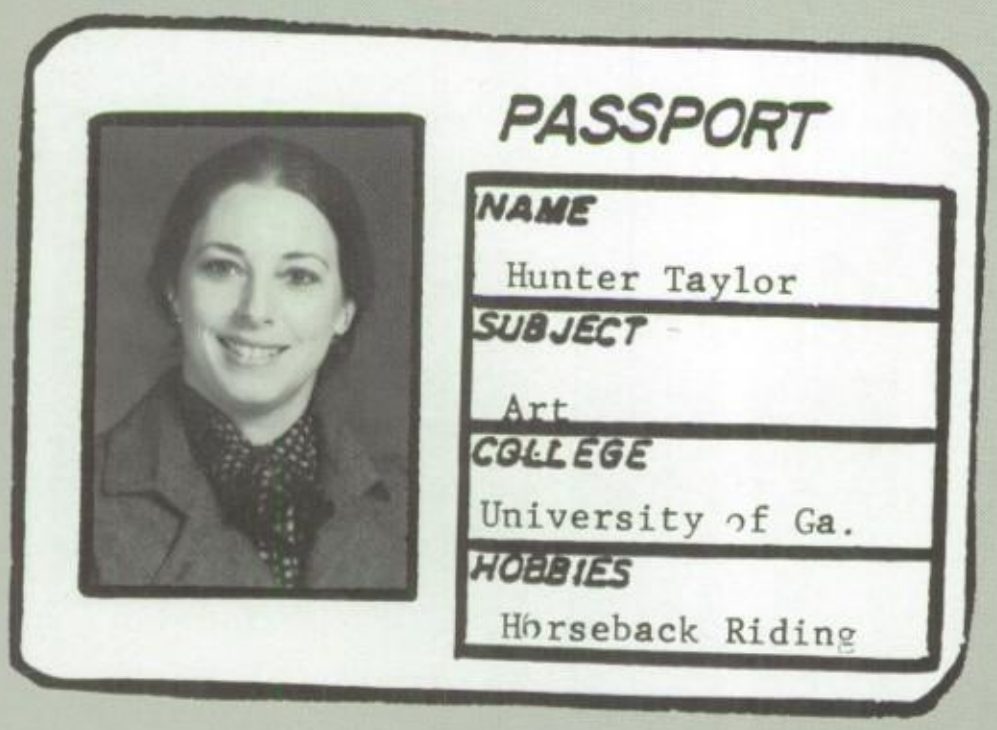
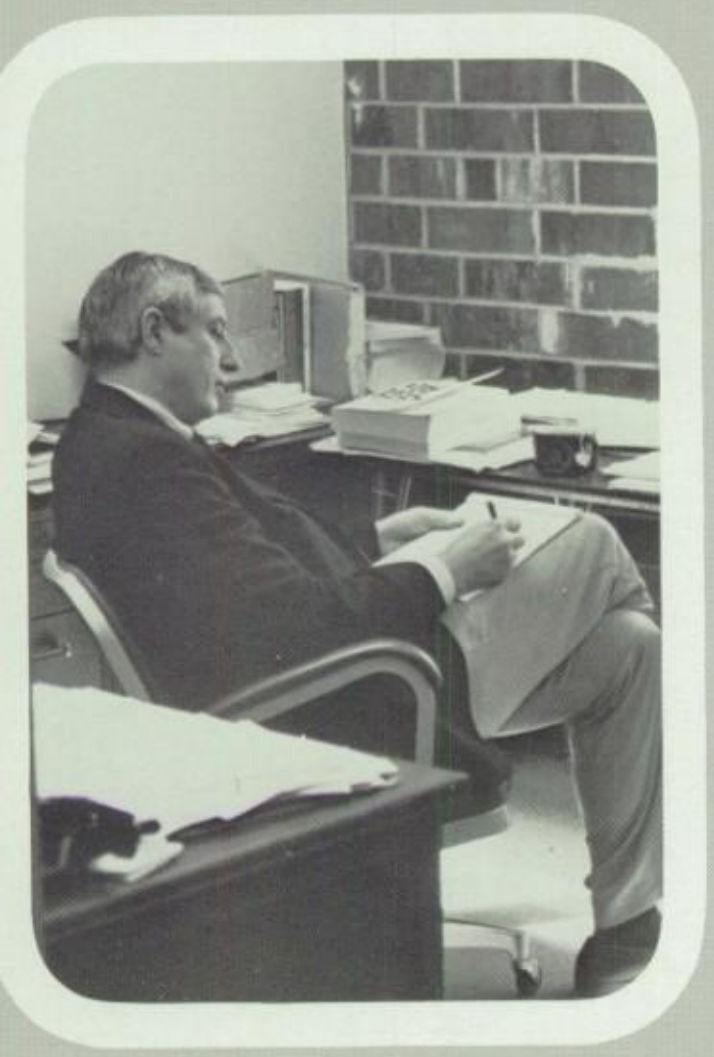
Charlotte Latin's versatile teaching staff is not only interested in academics, but many are involved in student activities. While many teachers may be found as spectators at Latin events, others are involved as coaches, sponsors, or advisors.









Mr. Cox, Head of Upper School, looks over schedules for the year ahead.

Finally! They've made it! The seniors of the middle school. Eighth graders are finishing up their final year with a big smile. Next year they will hit the "big time". These kids, or should we say, young adults, can usually be found during their seventh period lunch sharing popcorn in the microwave or munching on the famous Grandma's Big Cookies. The eighth graders are usually the strongest players of middle school sports.

The eighth graders are up and ready to graduate from the middle school. Congratulations, You've made it! Now, you're ready for the upper school.

The seventh grade is commonly known as the "middle of the middle". These seventh graders can usually be found hanging out at Southpark on Saturdays and talking to friends on the phone during weekdays. They form the strong background of the middle school sports. Seventh graders are looking forward to a fun-filled year as seniors of the middle school in the eighth grade.

Sixth grade is the first year out of the lower school and into the middle school. They experience changing classes, eating lunch in Founder's Hall, participating in middle school sports, and carrying over-sized loads of books home. They seem to love every minute of it! Sixth graders, we're glad to say, "You're halfway there!" Good luck to the class of 1990!!

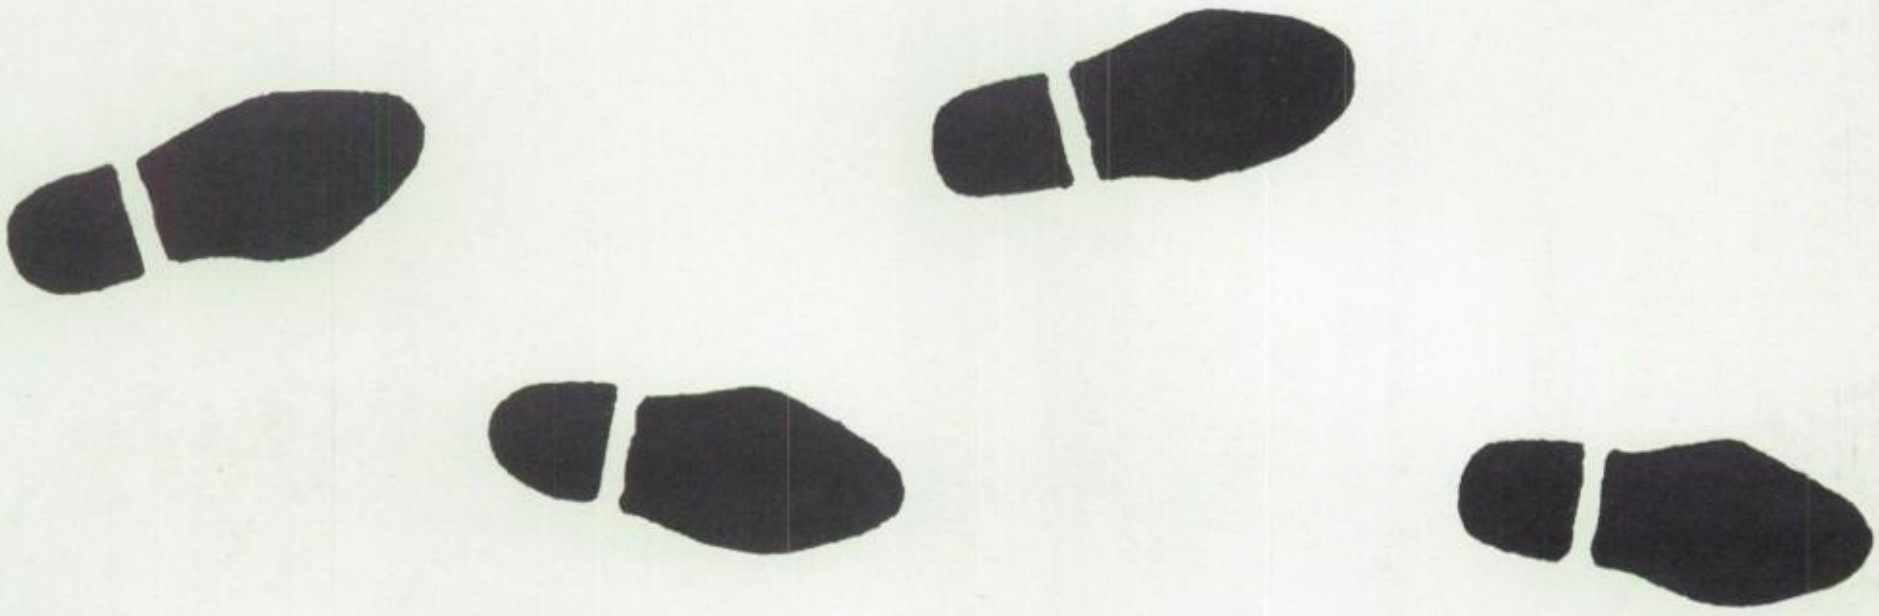
CLUBS



First Row: A. Litaker, H. O'Brien, A. Deaton, D. Warren, J. Woodard, S. Kempton, K. Lee, R. Brownlow. Second Row: T. Roberts, C. Thies, J. Blount, J. Massey, M. Godwin, E. Erb, Miss Huggins. Third Row: J. Simpson, M. Liebstein.

SIXTH GRADE COMPUTER CLUB

Apple, IBM, Texas Instruments and many other companies are involved in the computer revolution along with the sixth grade Computer Club. These sixth graders are learning more about computers all the time. Every Tuesday after school, they learn how to program and use the machines of tomorrow. With their dedication, they just might become computer experts in the years to come.

JUNIOR CIVINETTES

ow: Mrs. Pace, J. Marold, C. Shue, D. Smith, C. Prager, J. Peace, A. Bridges, I. Rothmaier, V. Varon, A. Izumi, J. McCraw. Second Row: A. ghs, M. McLeod, C. Hall, V. Green, K. Pace, M. Quinn, E. Holscher, C. Forlidas, K. Allen, A. Fleming, J. Patton, T. Havens.

This year's Junior Civinettes were committed to serving the community, the family, and the school by being involved with several different service projects. Their accomplishments included volunteer work at Randolph Manor, helping with May Day Play Day, and the Father-Daughter day hike. They also had a dinner for the custodians, and gave gifts for Teachers' Appreciation day. The Junior Civinettes have always been an important part of our school and community because of their dedication to these various service projects.

ART CLUB

O. Mayer-Reinach, D. Maier, D. Buchanan, W. Higgins, A. Deaton, L. Wall, J. Silverman.

Are you a Rembrandt or a Picasso? If so, or even if you are not, the Middle School Art Club is for you. The club was formed to give middle school students a chance to learn about new types of media outside of a large class. It also gives the students time to pursue their own interest in art. Their work will be sure to brighten our library and our halls.

FRENCH CLUB

Is the French revolution really over? Maybe so, but the Middle School French Club continues to promote interest in language study and international understanding. They accomplish this by being involved in International Week and in the May Day Play Day crepe booth. Both of these projects are done in conjunction with the Upper School French Club. Along with this they plan many dinners and parties with French food and fun.

SPANISH CLUB

The Middle School Spanish Club under the direction of Jean Skidmore plans many activities throughout the year including parties, a Nacho Booth at May Day Play Day, and various events for International Week. These activities are designed to increase each member's understanding and appreciation of the Spanish people, their language, and their culture.

Even though increasing knowledge is the main objective of the club, having fun doing so is also a priority.

First Row: J. Brownlow, W. Bullock, M. Bennett, A. Farahany, S. Beard. Second Row: D. Klein, T. Miller, B. Thompson, W. Martin, B. C

NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

National Junior Honor Society is an important part of the Middle School. The purpose of the club is to develop enthusiasm for scholarship, service, and leadership. The club is involved in such activities as contributing to needy families and nursing, and sponsoring an egg hunt for kindergarten students.

V. Varon, R. J. Butler, O. Mayer-Reinach, C. Odham, T. McDonald.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club has once again disproved the hypothesis that "learning is no fun"! These dedicated members spend their spare time carrying out experiments, watching films and visiting different museums. Keep up the good work and good luck to those future Einsteins.

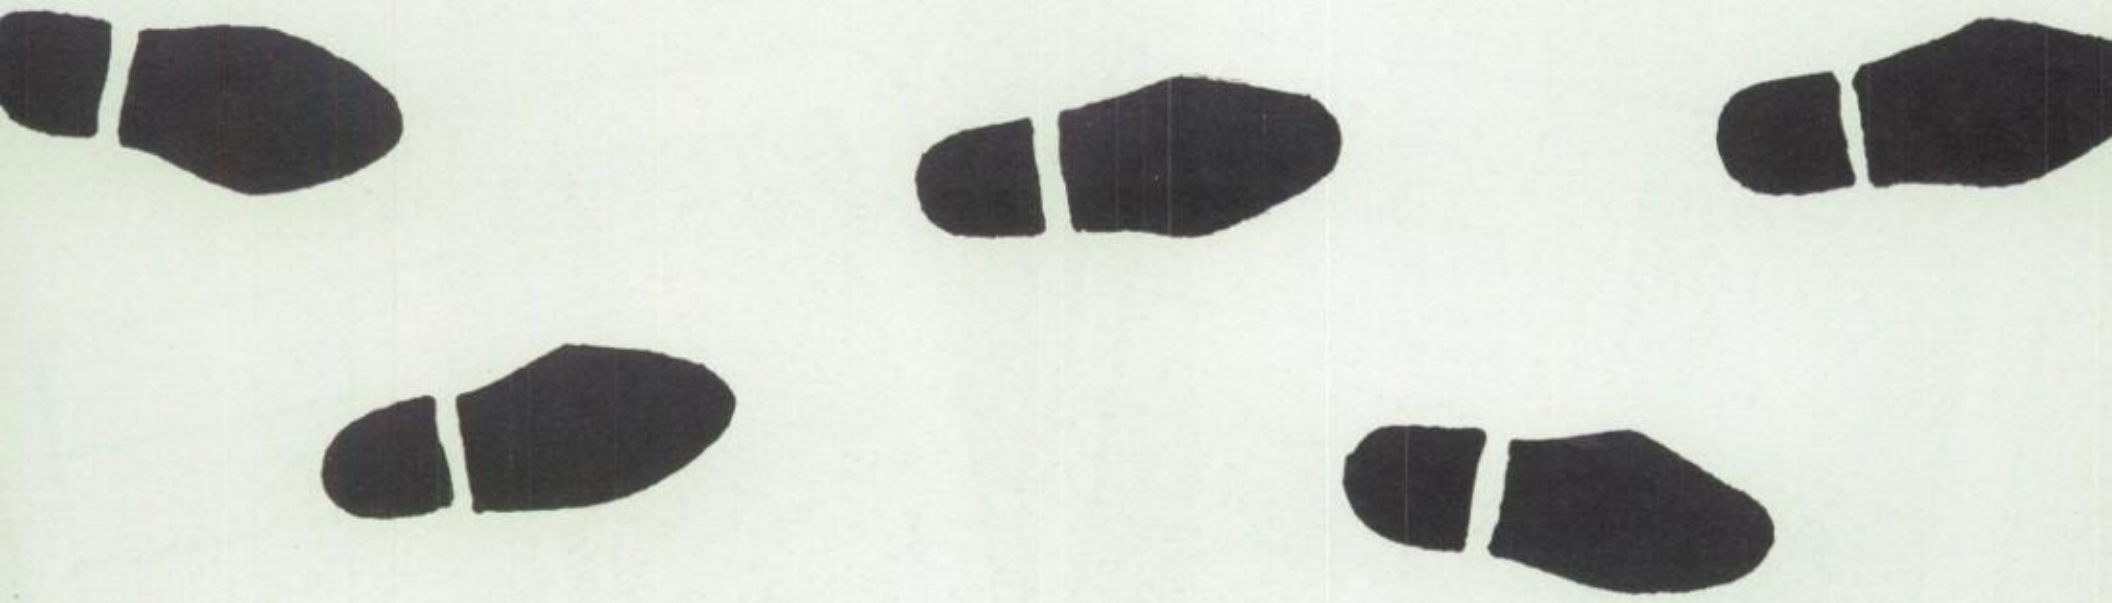
FACULTY



PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE

The adjustment from Middle to Upper School is not easy for many students; however, with the excellent guidance and support of Charlotte Latin's faculty, this is a smoother and more comfortable transition. The Middle School teachers not only prepare students for Upper School, they also ease the fears and apprehensions which many students experience as they enter Middle School for the first time. Charlotte Latin is fortunate to have such a capable staff of Middle School teachers. Even though the work of the faculty often receives little or no recognition, these teachers are our PASSPORT TO THE FUTURE!

Parlez-vous Francais? Habla espanol? Everyone in Middle School speaks English but each student also has an opportunity to venture into a new dimension of language arts for the first time. You can often hear Middle School students verbally impress each other with their newly gained knowledge.

This is just one example of the many new ideas that Charlotte Latin's teaching staff is capable of introducing to Middle School students.

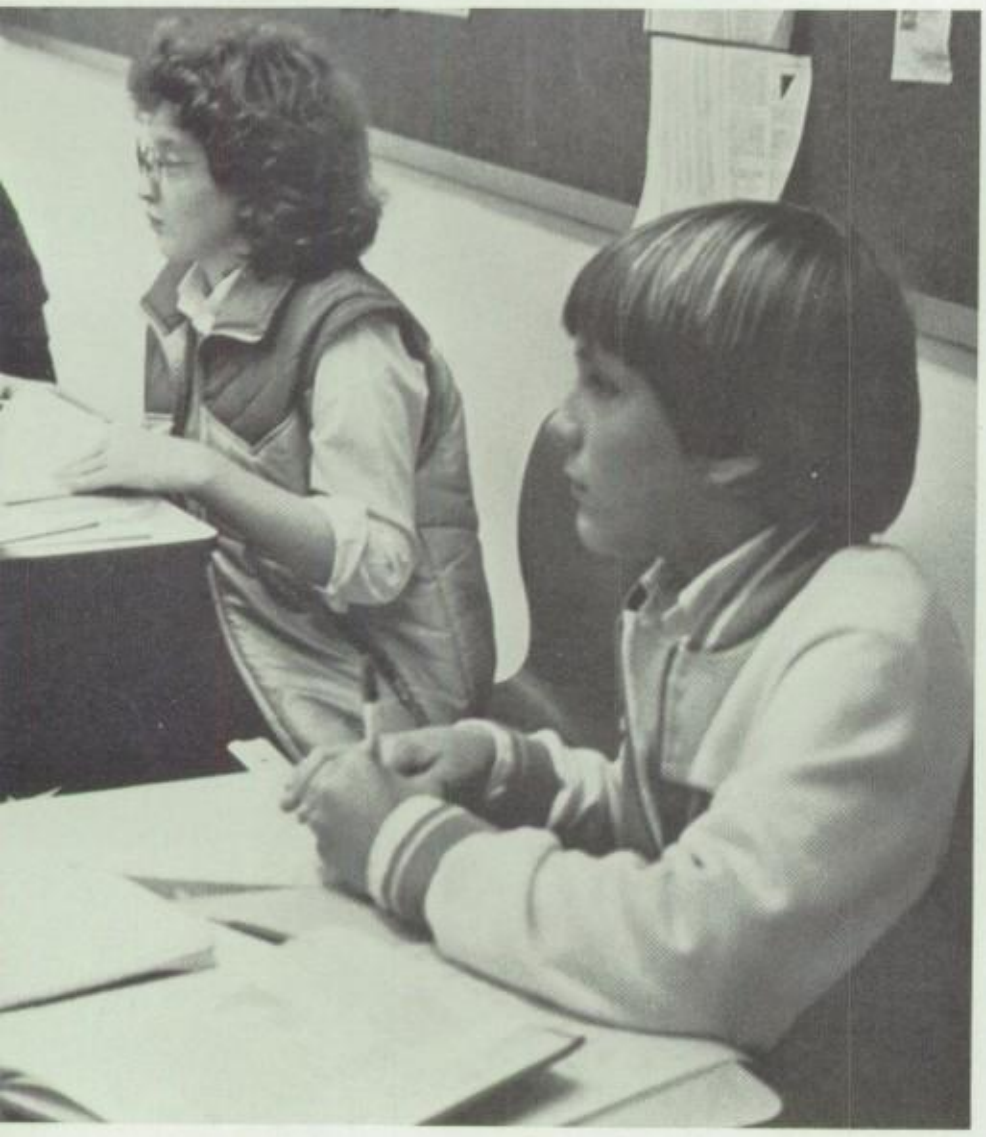
Clockwise (beginning at upper left): Julie Patton takes a break from her artwork. Ann Carson and Emily Farris smile for the camera. Greg Hinrichs listens closely in class. Grey Timberlake is amused with her studies. Mary Mallard, Mary McBryde, and Ashley Schrimsher take time to pose for the camera. Most Improved Player, John Hess, receives his soccer award from Coach Chewning as Mark Bennett and fellow players look on.



This year, the middle schoolers share their secrets about their favorite places to go, things to do, and foods to eat. They expressed their feelings about school, movies, songs, albums, and music groups. In the music category, Quiet Riot emerged as the favorite music group because of their hit album, Metal Health, which was also chosen as a favorite album. Another album at the top of the list was Michael Jackson's Thriller album. Favorite songs appeared to be "PYT", off the Thriller album and "Every Breath You Take" from the Synchronicity album by the Police.

What was the middle schoolers' most hated preppy item? Of course, a CCDS student! Their favorite hangouts are Southpark and Showbiz pizza. Students seem to enjoy their vacations soaking up the sun in Florida or Hilton Head, or skiing up a storm in Vail, Colorado. Their favorite actresses are Linda Evans and Goldie Hawn. Favorite actors are Eddie Murphy and Chevy Chase. Their favorite movies are Trading Places and The Outsiders. Christy Brinkley was, as usual, voted the best looking girl and Tom Cruise as the best looking guy. And last, but not least, the best thing about Latin is . . . Friday afternoon: 2:45!!

Clockwise: Michael Jackson's Thriller album is a favorite among middle schoolers.
Most hated preppy item: CCDS STUDENT!
The top album: QUIET RIOT

Christy Brinkley won the hearts of all the middle school boys.

Tom Cruise unanimously won the vote of best-looking guy.

Most popular hangout: Where else? Southpark.

Skiing? Only the best will do, Colorado.

EGO

Experience in Governing Ourselves. This is the main purpose of the middle school "student council". Headed by Miss Waggoner, these elected officers and homeroom representatives are learning the tactics of parliamentary procedure in their weekly meetings. The members play an important role in their grades by voicing the students' opinions about certain happenings on campus. They are also in charge of organizing school dances and parties.

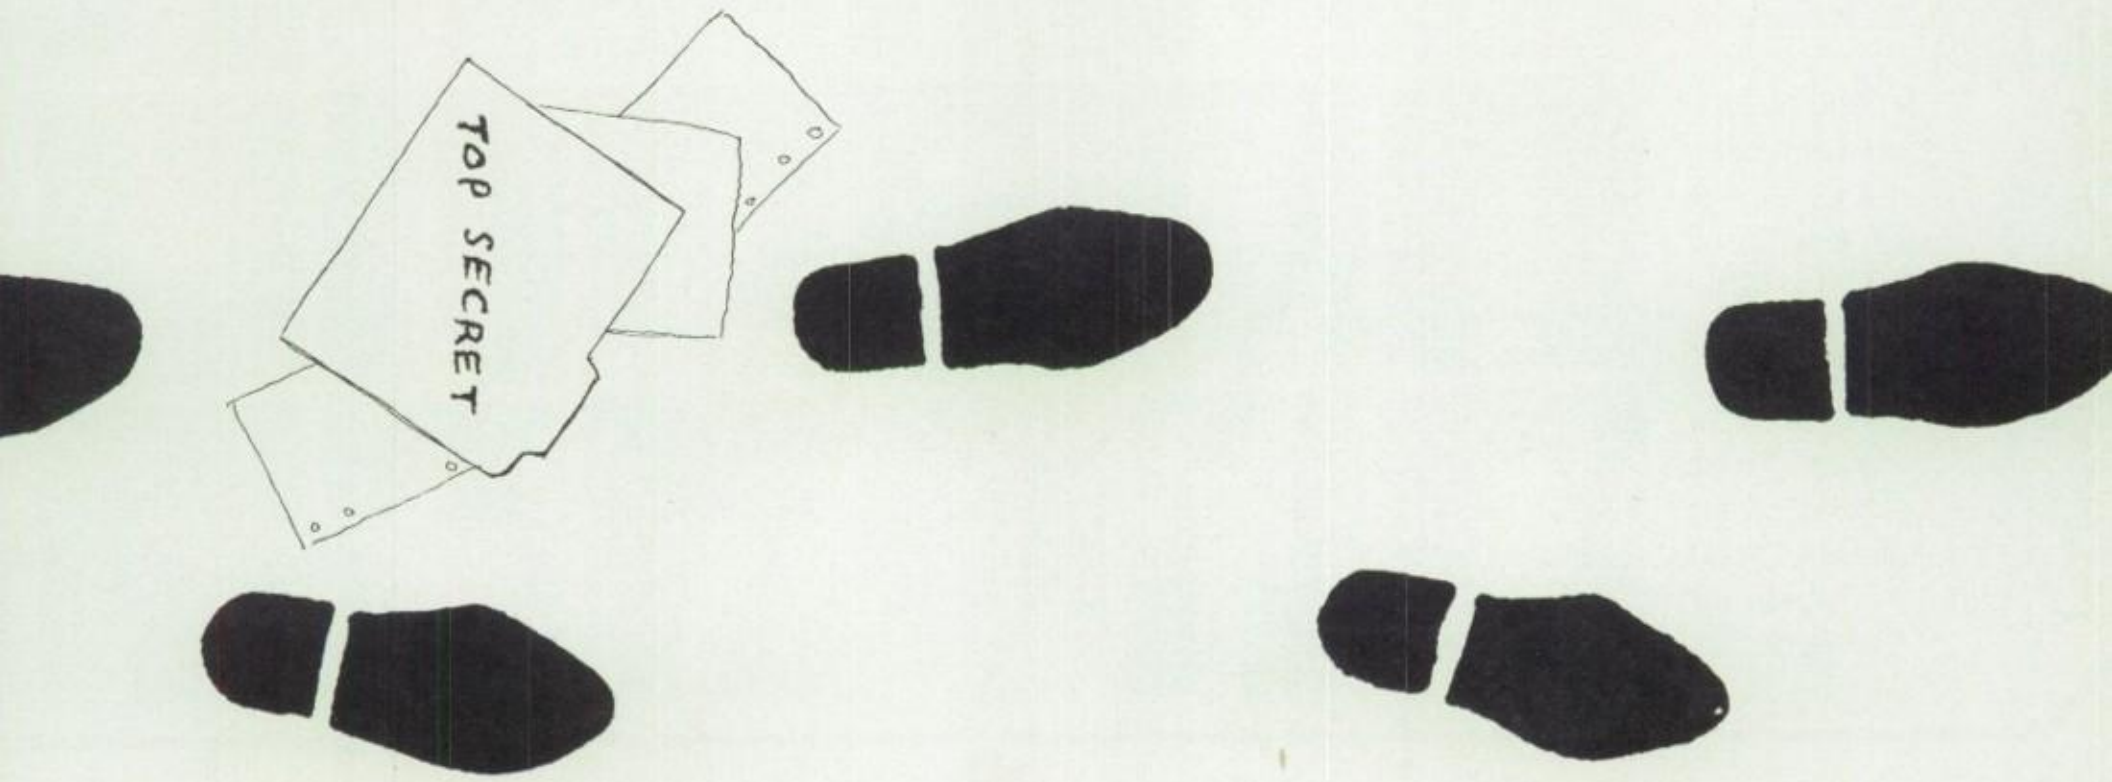
LOWER SCHOOL



Games such as Rack-O, Hi-Q, and Yahtzee are well known to the students in Mrs. Mitchell's class. This group also takes part in a weekly salad bar with all the fifth grade classes. The subjects they are studying, including a section on Matter, are preparing these students for the big move into Middle School.

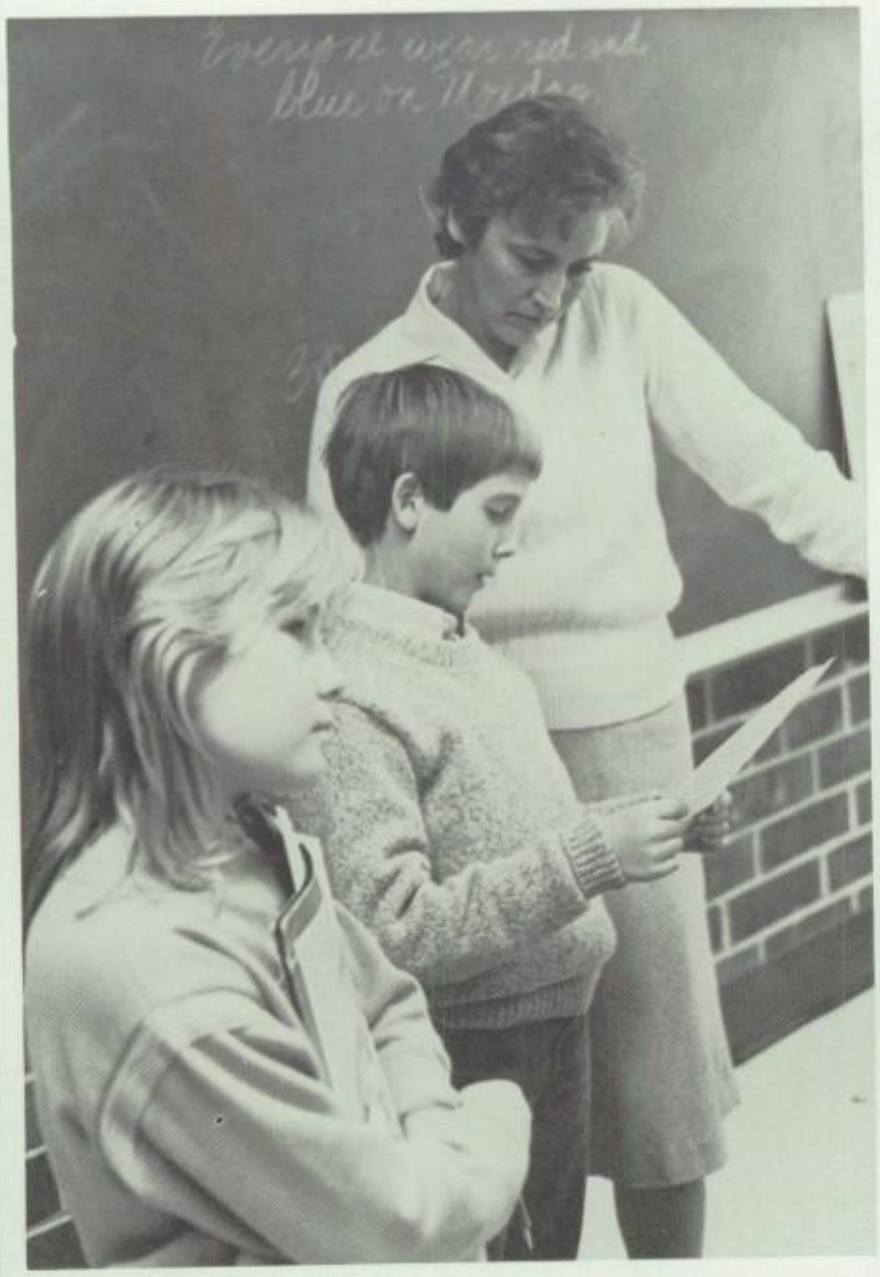
Computer games are a favorite in Mrs. Kane's class as well as Dungeons and Dragons, Dominoes, and Battleship. Playing games does not fill these students' whole day, though. This year, they are learning about life in the colonial days, animals and cooking.



Every Tuesday afternoon before school is dismissed, the students in Mrs. Thompson's class assemble for class meetings in which they discuss a variety of topics. Also this year, many of these students have enjoyed reading A Wrinkle in Time or playing football. On Halloween they had a party at which they served Eyeball Stew, Blood Delight, Lizard Leggs, and Eerie Eggs. Guests invited to this party included President Reagan, Mayor Knox, Dr. Fox, Mrs. Hall, and Mrs. Wohlbruck.

This year Mrs. Williams' class studied Christopher Columbus. Each child made an oral report, an overhead transparency, and a map depicting Columbus' voyage. In the students' extra time they enjoy working with the computer or playing Hangman.

Most of the students in Miss Thompson's class enjoyed reading "Did You Carry the Flag Today" or "Trumpet of the Swan." This helped them with a special class activity that lets the students earn a "feather in their cap" for every book they read. The class is studying the Early History of Charlotte-Mecklenburg. When not doing class-work, they enjoy playing Soccer, Football, or on the playground equipment.

Mrs. Johnson's second grade class enjoys playing on the monkey bars, but they do not monkey around all day. This year they are studying subjects such as "Healthy Teeth", "Election Day", and "How We Grow". When they are not doing school work, they like playing "Rattle Battle" and reading "The Fish That Got Away" or "The Man Who Never Washed His Dishes".

This year, Mrs. Burke's class is studying "Growng and Changing", Japan, and Dinosaurs. Their favorite comic strip character is Garfield. They enjoy reading Amelia Bedelia, The Football Book, and "Mad". When they are outside on the playground, they like to play Freezetag and sliding on the sliding board.

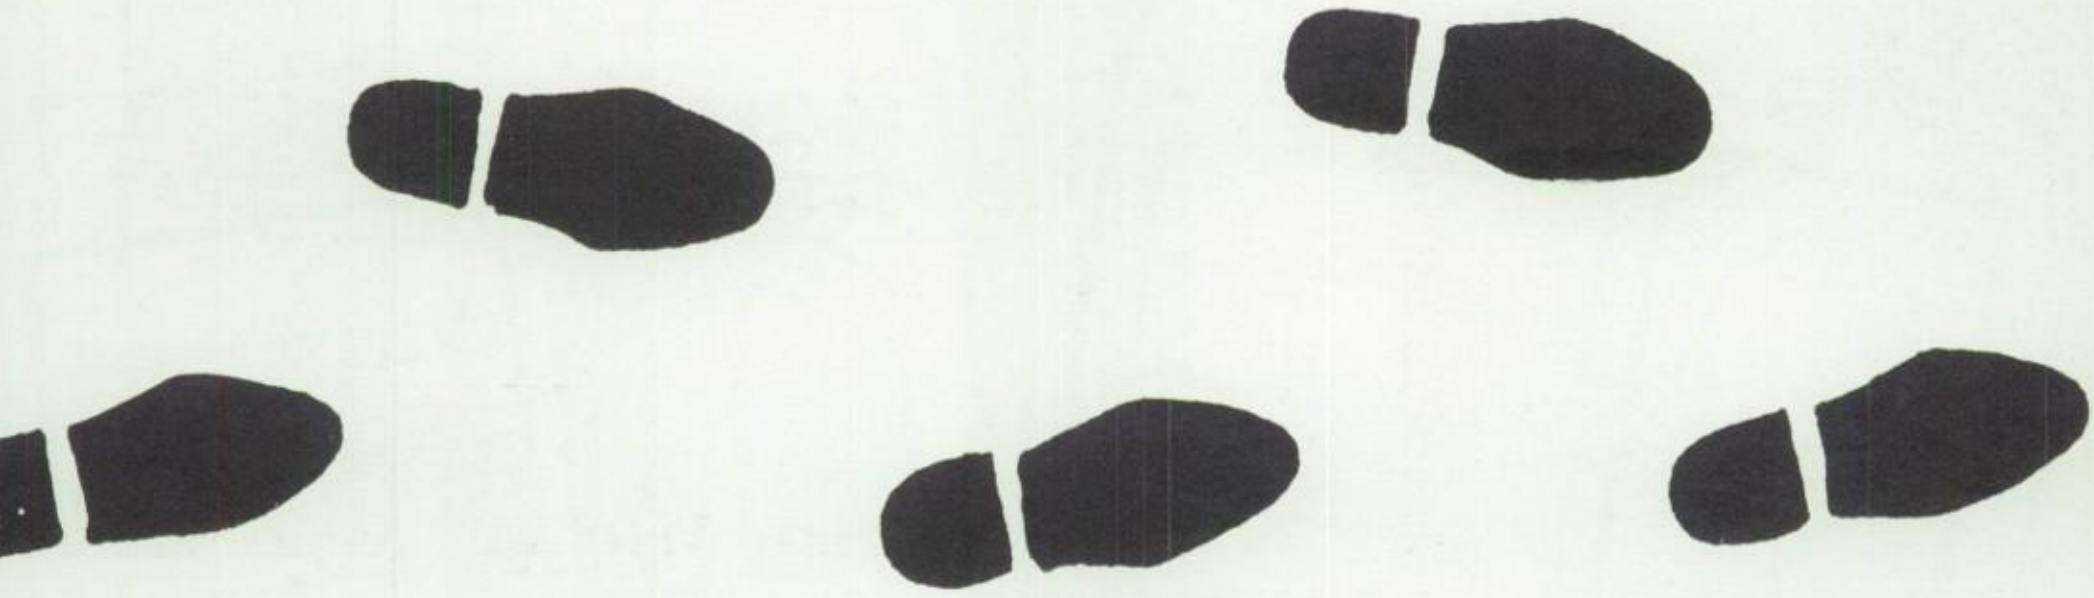
FACULTY



THE VERY BEST!

"The Very Best" — That's the only way to describe the Charlotte Latin Lower School teachers. They perform a very hard job of giving a child the basics he needs in life and building on them. The teachers in the lower school are special. This endears them to their classes. Maybe that's why so many of the students keep in touch with the teachers years after they have left that classroom. Those friendships that are formed in these classes will extend a long time and it is greatly due to the support and direction of the teachers. They not only teach the basics but they help to make us grow. We owe them much, for without them we wouldn't be the same.

FROM FIRST TO FIFTH – THEY'RE THE TOPS

The Charlotte Latin Lower School teachers are some of the finest educators in the area. From grades 1st to 5th they all perform their jobs well and give kids the basics they will need in Middle and Upper schools. These teachers are very special and we all look back to "the good old days". These were the times of field trips, snack time and "going steady". This year many of the classes have taken numerous field trips, for example, the fifth grade has gone to Old Salem and to the Orchestra to see a performance.

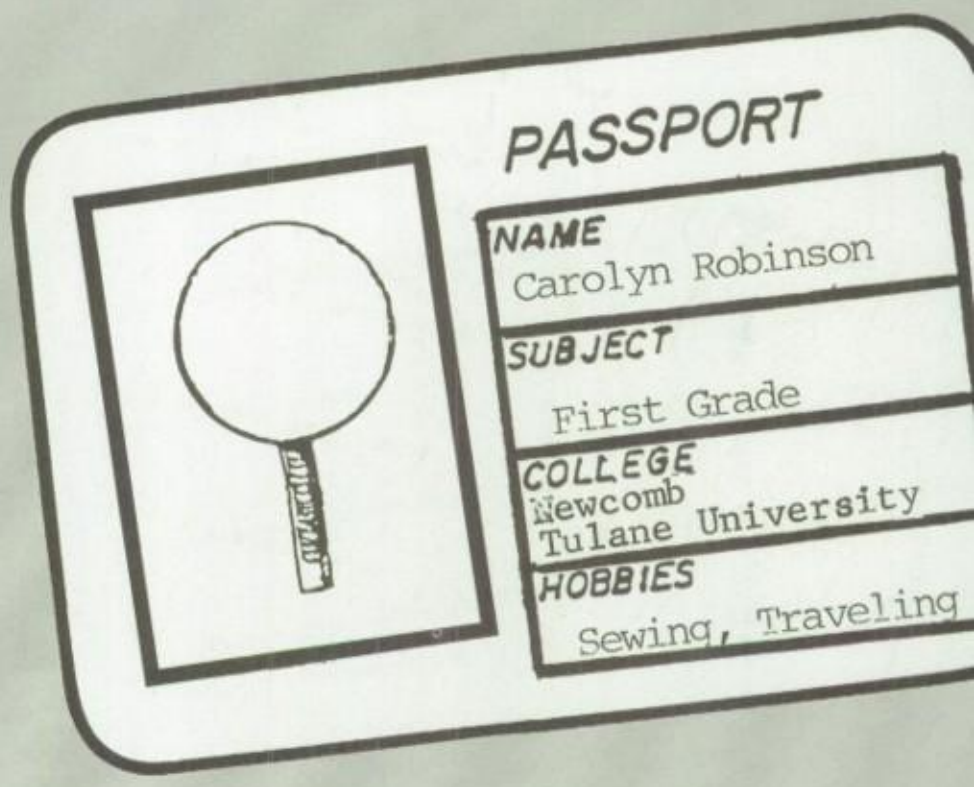
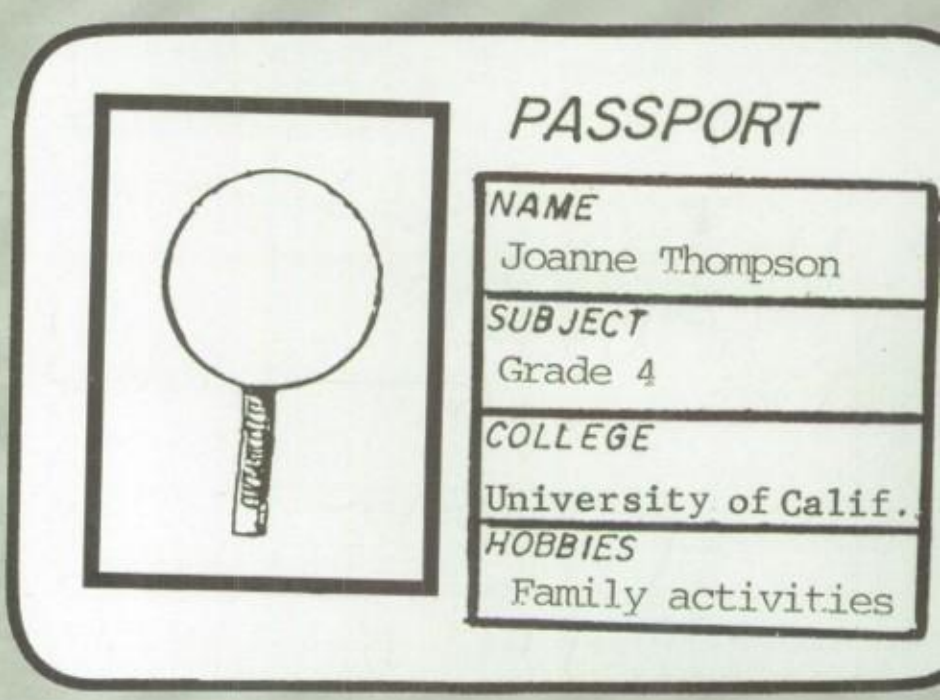
NEVER ENOUGH TIME

The Lower school faculty, headed by Mrs. Hall, is one of the best trained assembly of teachers. They do their job well and we all owe them a lot. When we go through 1st-5th grades we seem to feel that all teachers do is give more homework and there never seems to be enough time to play. Looking back we find that they really did give us time enough to play and now we wish that we had that much still. When we remember how they used to make school fun, you can't help but smile. Life without them just wouldn't be the same.





JUST STARTING OUT!

VARSITY FOOTBALL

THE AIR FORC

An exciting style of football was unveiled at Charlotte Latin this year by new Coaches Phil Sandifer and Frank Messinger. The offense was typified by Kirk Sandifer's record-breaking passing to Adams Withers and Curt Rogers along with Bill Lyday's slashing style of running. A tough defense was led by the outstanding linebacker David Betzold. The team's brightest moment came in a 35-to-0 victory over Camden Military Academy of South Carolina. Unfortunately injuries cut short a promising season, but since only 5 players are graduating, we can expect more of the same excitement next year.

J.V. FOOTBALL

HAWKS DEFEA

The Charlotte Latin J. V. Football players are the proud owners of the best football record in recent years. With the exception of Providence Day, this team defeated every opponent they faced, including two big wins over Country Day. Coaches Scott Smith and Ed Clay led outstanding players such as Jeff Christenbury and Winn Fuller on offense, and Brian Rash, Brian Dillard, and Kearns Little on defense through a very exciting season. Hopefully, their success was a demonstration of what will come.

VARSITY SOCCE

THE TRADITIO

Under the fresh leadership of Coach Alan Wallwork, the Varsity Soccer Team once again proved itself worthy of conference champs, sharing the title with Country Day. The beginning of the season went especially well for the Hawks. They had a nine-game winning streak until they were beaten by Providence Day. As for the Ravencroft Tournament this year, the team lost first round. However, they rebuttled with a first round win in the consolation. Lee Beford and Shawn Cunningham, who made the all-tournament team, led the team in scoring. Along with this, Lee Beford made the second team All-State, and Shawn Cunningham made All-Region. However, it was the team's high morale that always seemed to lift the team towards a well-played game. Their practices lasted for three hours everyday, consisting of severe conditioning and practice of their skills. Their time and effort paid off as the team finished the season with a respectable eleven wins and nine losses record.

J.V. SOCCER

The J. V. Soccer Team established respect for itself this year, finishing up with 7 wins, 4 losses, and 2 tied games. In his first year, Coach Dick Elwell led the team to excellence with the help of many fine players. Such players include award winners Robert Freeland, Thomas Layton, and J. B. Meanor. Among the many highlights of the season were the saves and the winning goal executed by Tommy Cummings at the Bollingbrook Tournament in Virginia. Also, the team gained satisfaction after a tied game with Country Day. They had lost to them previously.

TOURNAMENT CHAMP

J.H. SOCCER

The Junior High Soccer team posted an outstanding 8-2-2 record under coaches John Chewning and Mark Starner. The team not only defeated Providence Day three times, but also showed great improvement when, after a mid-season tie with Saint Gabriels, they came back to defeat them 4-0 to win the Invitation Tournament. Award winning athletes were Wes Martin, Marshall Thomas, and John Hess. This team showed that they could compete with anyone.

"When you're #1 they watch you like a Hawk!" This is a motto the field hockey team at Latin has used since the sport originated four years ago. Before each game, the girls join hands in a circle, repeat the above line trying to motivate themselves for a Varsity victory. The last three seasons did not prove fruitful to the team, but 1983 was their season to shine!

Under a new coaching staff, the Varsity girls finished the season 5-6-2. The two ties were in double overtime to two very tough teams. Never before has this team done so well. Sharon Rogerson came to Latin facing a gloomy situation, but her knowledge of the sport along with help from Jean Roderiguez proved very beneficial to the team.

The team began the season on shaky ground with losses to Durham Academy and Asheville School. This was due to injuries of several key players. The Lady Hawks experienced their first victory of the season against Spartanburg Day with all players in uniform and good health. Now, this was the beginning of the hockey season! Led by captains, Betsy Plumlee and Jennifer Keown, the team went on to defeat teams such as Durham Academy, Asheville Country Day, and Spartanburg Day again.

Every year brings the Lady Hawks a step closer to a winning season. Perhaps destiny will crown them #1 in the future.

SUCCESSFUL JUNIOR HIGH SPORT

J. V. FIELD HOCKEY

The J. V. Field Hockey team started off their season on a promising note. They won several mini-games in the Play-Day that was held at Country Day at the beginning of the season. The team fluctuated on wins and losses, but continued to try in every game. Many of their games resulted in ties which Coach Rogerson felt was better than losing for a team that was lacking in certain positions.

Many young beginning seventh graders really contributed to the team, and will continue since they began the sport at an early age. The team will only lose a few rising tenth graders such as captain, Cathy Hollenbeck. Since the team is so young, the future promises to be even better!

CROSS-COUNTRY

A WINNIN

This year the Cross Country team proved itself outstanding in the conference. The thrill of victory did not come easy. Practices consisted of speed runs and sometimes long-distance runs consisting of as much as eight miles. Mental preparation also became a tremendous advantage for the runners. This was stirred by the rowdy antics of Trey Higgins as well as by the stern voices of Coach Orr and Coach Howard.

The team's record this season consisted of 7 wins and 1 loss. Although the Latin team had trouble with Northside, the Hawks continually dominated over Country Day, Providence Day, and Christian. Much of the credit for the victories went to Trey Higgins, whose undying will was displayed in the meets as well as in his team spirit. Coach Orr and Coach Howard also created brutal training courses for the runners. Without this, the team would have been lost. As a result, the team placed 2nd in the Conference meet and 5th in the State meet out of 16 teams.

THE VOLLEYBALL TEAMS' HARD WORK A

"Bump, Set, Kill!" These three words can usually be heard from the enthusiastic Varsity girls' volleyball team before a match. The team finished third in their conference, behind Northside and Country Day. The girls began practice and strength conditioning several weeks before school started. As shown by their performance, their conditioning and hard work paid off. The season was a big success with highlights on the Lady Hawks' second match against Country Day, the first match played against Providence Day, and matches played in Raleigh against Ravenscroft and Hale High School. The team had a very successful season, and should prove to have an even more promising season next year, as they will only be losing three seniors.

J.V. VOLLEYBALL

The Junior Varsity Volleyball team had a very successful season, thanks to the girls and Coach McKelvey (Heather, too!). The team did very well in the pre-season "Jamboree" held by Charlotte Latin. This gave the girls a chance to look at other J. V. teams in their conference and work on a winning strategy. Also, the J. V. Volleyball players and the Varsity players exchanged gifts; such as candy and other goodies, before an important match to boost team spirit. This indeed paid off, because these girls had a strong season and were very successful.

The J.V. girls have put much hard work and effort into the '83 season. Again, the girls ended up with an almost perfect record, losing only once to Country Day. Several tough matches were those against Providence Day School, The Knox School in Salisbury, and against teams in Raleigh and Winston Salem. As usual, the girls' hard work, determination, skill, and belief in winning paid off in another successful season.

VARSITY GIRLS' TENNIS

SUCCESSFUL SEASON PROVES THA

The only way to describe the Varsity Girls' Tennis Team is that they're number one. As predicted, the Varsity Tennis Team had another highly successful season. The girls strongest opponent, Greensboro Day, gave them their toughest match, but the Lady Hawks pulled through again. The team consists of one eighth grader, three freshmen, six juniors, and two seniors. Lucky for the girls, they will only be losing the seniors, Holly Austin and Alice Michaux. Again, the girls breezed through the regular season and district tournament to win the state. Congratulations to the girls and Coach Culbertson for winning it all again! Your hard work and determination has paid off!

Great things were expected from this year's varsity basketball team from the very beginning. They were ranked number one in the state at the start of the season due to the return of the six veterans from last year and the addition of five talented newcomers. Coach Jay Rhodes worked very hard to prepare the squad for what was going to be a very challenging season. The results were evident early in the season when the Hawks defeated Country Day with surprising ease to finish third in the Greensboro Day Tournament during Christmas break. With the non-conference games behind them, they began their tough CISAA schedule.

Dean Kessel, Bill Lyday, and Britt McMaster, the only seniors on the team, were ready to lead the team into conference play. Because of the number one ranking, the Hawks were constantly under pressure to perform, and they did. There was not a team on the schedule that they could not defeat. This was proven as the Hawks ended up with several victories over crosstown rival Country Day. Though they were small in number, the players showed that they were big in heart by coming from behind on numerous occasions including a very disappointing loss to Providence Day. Latin should have another fine season next year with eight returning players and a promising crop of rookies from the B-team.

V. B. BASKETBALL

FUTURE LATIN

The Varsity-B had a different look from years past. Head coach Frank Messenger threw away those old black high tops as he transformed his team into a fast-breaking, full-court pressing powerhouse. The players performed daily drills to improve their man-to-man defense. Sometimes their practices included scrimmages against the varsity team in which they gained valuable experience that would help them later in the season. Their hard work paid off in a grueling triple-overtime victory over arch rival Providence Day. The players toned their skills in anticipation of future varsity heroics.

FUTURE STARS AT LATI

J.V. Basketball may be the youngest of teams but should definitely not be regarded as inexperienced. Coach Pete McEachern worked and trained with the future stars until the hours of hard practice had paid off. The team established itself as one of the top in the conference as well as outside the conference. Even though many of the ninth graders will plây Varsity "B" basketball next year, the eighth graders will continue to reign in the CLS dynasty.

VARSITY GIRLS' BASKETBA

LADY HAWKS

The Varsity Girls' Basketball Team is undoubtedly still believing! Led by veteran coach, Mary Catherine Kelly, the Lady Hawks, once again, enjoy a well earned successful winning season. Key players for the Hawks include senior captains, Martha Bennett, Cissy Currin, and Alice Michaux, junior, Blair Tyler, and sophomores, Kelly Bailey, and Catriona Greig. Most important, of course, is the team's total effort and complete concentration. The Lady Hawks seemed strong throughout the entire season with highlights on the early season games against Providence Day and Country Day, both in which the Hawks were victorious. This resulted with a number one seeding in their conference, two-thirds of the way through the season. Congratulations, again, to a team which deserves to be number one!

J. V. GIRLS' BASKETBALL

STARS OF THE FUTURE

The 1983-84 J.V. Girls' Basketball team is definitely a group of young players to look out for in the coming years of Latin Basketball. Led by Coach Frickie, a newcomer to Charlotte Latin, the girls' team emerged as undefeated two-thirds of the way through the season. The girls had numerous wins against teams such as: Saint Patrick's, Providence Day School, Charlotte Country Day, Charlotte Christian, Northside Christian, and Parkwood Junior High. It is evident that this group of girls is special. So watch out "Lady Hawks" here they come!

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

LATIN'S SPIRIT

Spreading spirit throughout the student body is the concern of all Varsity Cheerleaders and this year is no exception. Under the supervision of Donna McGarity, the cheerleaders brought Latin spirit to great heights as they led several pep rallies and performed numerous halftime routines. The cheerleading squad consisted of seniors Grace Rothrock, De Thomas, Caroline Finklea, Kelly Hardman, Mary Beth Wooten, Debbie Biggers, and Junior Missy Herring. Without the support of the Varsity Cheerleaders, the Latin teams would certainly be at a loss!

SWIMMING

FOR THE SWIMMER

This year's swim team managed to have another winning season under the leadership of Coach Steve Howard. Their success was due to their dedication and long hours of practicing at Queens College. In these hours, the team practiced their turns as well as strengthening their speed. After these hours had paid off in the competition, much of the credit went to Coach Howard and his morale-lifting spirit. Other than this, the rest of the credit went to the many valuable swimmers and divers on the team. The most valuable swimmers include: Sarah Hartsock, Holly Beford, Scott Laedlein, Sherry Gear, Cissy Hawkins, Sarah Gee, Susan Cunningham, Susan McAlister, and Cliff Sweet. Christian Lambeth and Debra Holland also contributed to team points with unbeatable diving.

VARSITY WRESTLING

GRAPPLERS CONTINU

This year's wrestling team made a sincere commitment to win. They had more wins than the two previous years combined. This is largely due to the outstanding coaching from Scott Smith and Co-Coach Steve Cellers. The junior class made up a large part of this year's team. Fantastic performances from wrestlers Richard Fletcher, Billy Brown, and David Betzold contributed to the success of the team. Many important qualities came together this year to form a dedicated, closeknit team. Captain Bob Boyd provided the leadership and morale that helped the team survive the grueling season. Practice was also a main factor for success. Practices lasted for two to three hours every day after school and on Saturdays. Weightlifting was a regular part of the week and so was weight loss. This was the part of wrestling that most people hated. Some of the wrestlers this season lost up to twenty pounds. Wrestling seems to be one of the most demanding sports at CLS.

BOYS' SPRING SPORTS

Although they don't get the recognition they deserve, the spring sports teams are some of the hardest working teams at Latin. They devoted much of their winter to weightlifting and conditioning in order to excel in their upcoming seasons.

The track program, under the guidance of Mr. Dave Ward, is undoubtedly one of the most well organized sports at CLS. The team pushes itself in the cold of the winter and in the heat of the summer. However, this conditioning is not in vain; the team always displays their hardwork at the Florida Relays and the Conference and State meets.

In preparation for another championship season, the Tennis team once again trained all year. Although winning is nothing new for the team, they continue to strive in the fall, winter, and spring. Hopefully, for Mrs. Bev Culbertson and the rest of the team members, the 1984 season will lead to another state championship.

Spring at Latin was announced with a bang — LITERALLY! Early training found numerous players pelting the Middle School building with home runs. "GIRLS' SPRING SPORTS"

Deep in mid winter, a few dedicated young women devoted much of their valuable time to the girls' athletic program here at Latin. These sports consisted of:Girls' Track, led by Coach Dave Ward. Another good turn-out is expected, as is a good season. Girls' Soccer, is one of the more intense of the womens' sports. Led by Coach John Chewning, the girls undergo strenuous practices, as well as having their share of fun in Virginia Beach. Finally, Rhonda Wingo will lead the Girls' Softball again, anticipating a state championship. Lauren Merrill, their lead off batter, anticipates many more R.B.I.'s. All in all, Latin can expect winning seasons in each of the girls' sports.

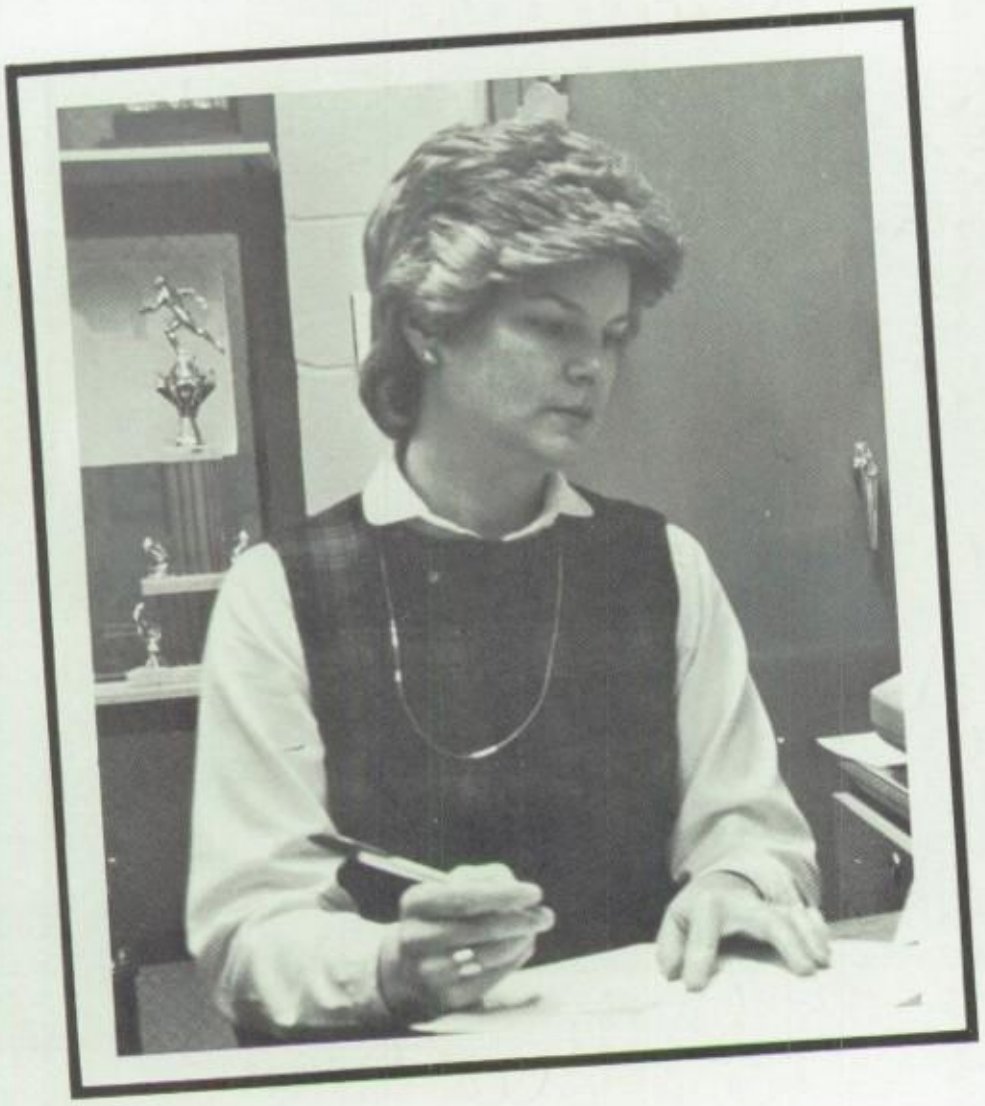
ATHLETICS ARE IMPORTANT!



Charlotte Latin School has in a very short time, been able to establish a very fine athletic program. Latin has built up a program where everyone is given an excellent chance to participate. The coaching staff believes that everyone should play the sport of his or her choice, even if they lack the ability. There are 40 teams for students to play on, and they all do well. Latin has also built up a fine weight training program which all the students use. This program is largely due to the efforts of Dave Ward. His training and knowledge of the sport helped lead many of Latin's teams to victory. The P.E. teachers at Latin, however, are responsible for much of the success. The lower school gym teachers develop the basics, and through creative games teach sportsmanship, co-operation, and co-ordination. The middle school teachers continue these lessons and also provide the opportunity to join one of the many J.V. or Varsity teams.

Marcy,
This year has been excellent.
Most of the time. This summer's gonna even better. Ya know?
We gotta get together alert. Dell probably see you alert at church
God, Church is soooo boring.
Who do you like now? I don't know
Who I like. Who should I. Settle?
P.S. this summer

Have a Great Summer.

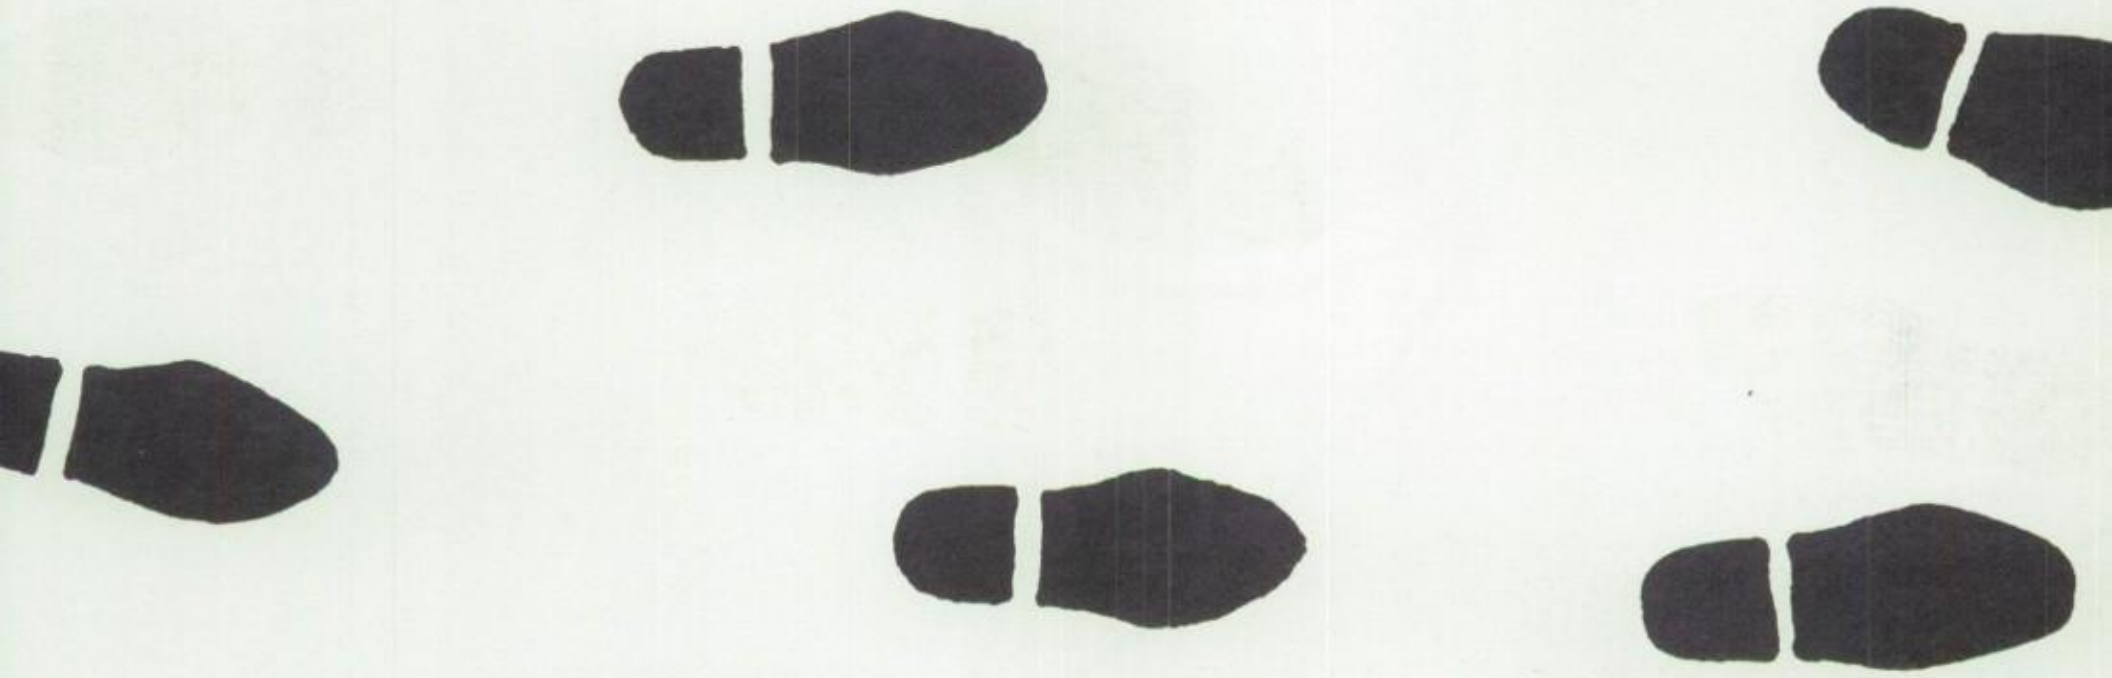
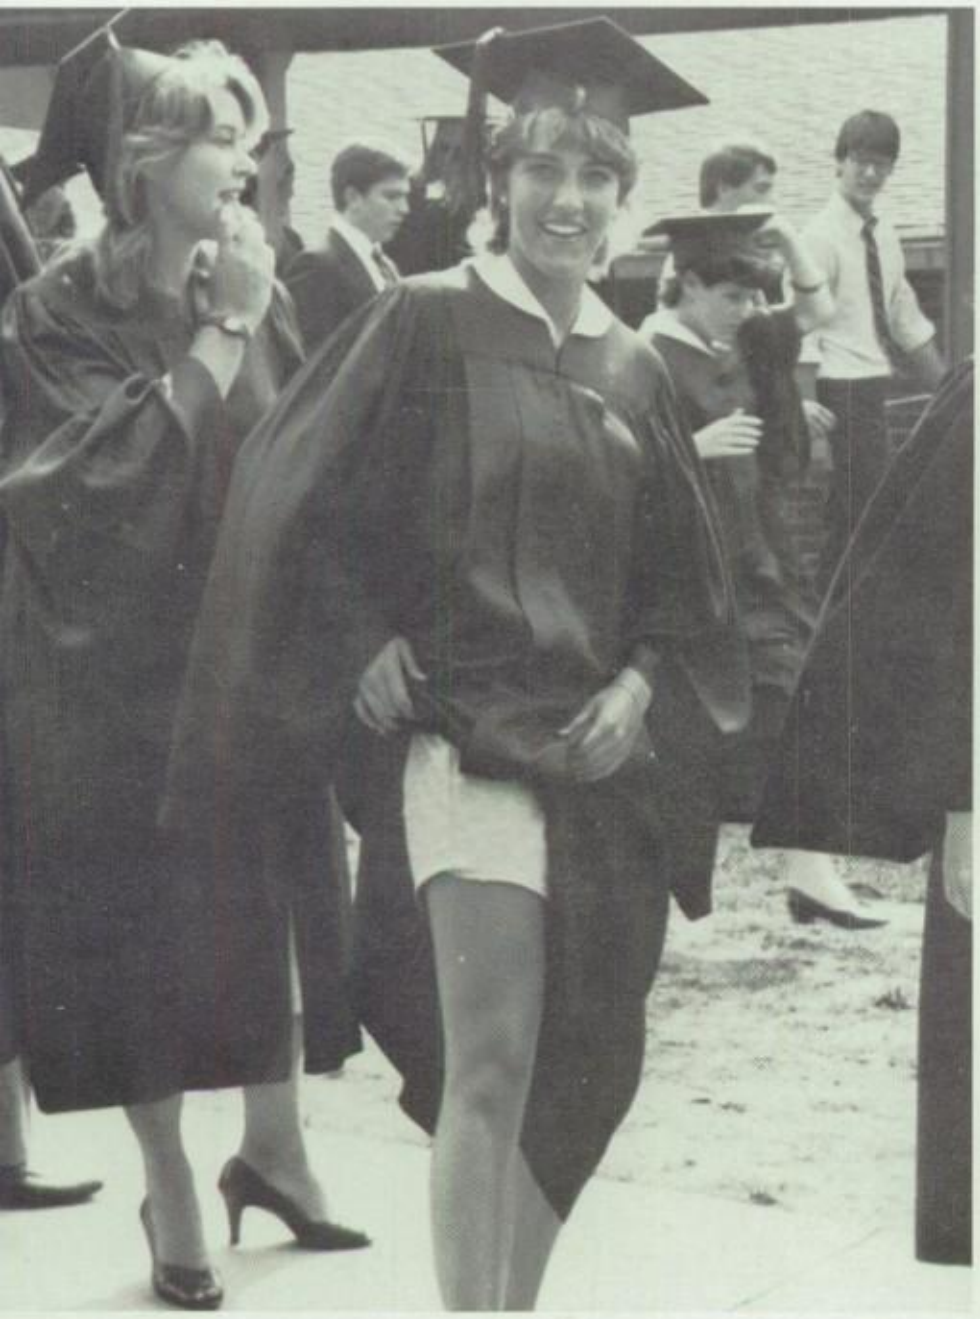
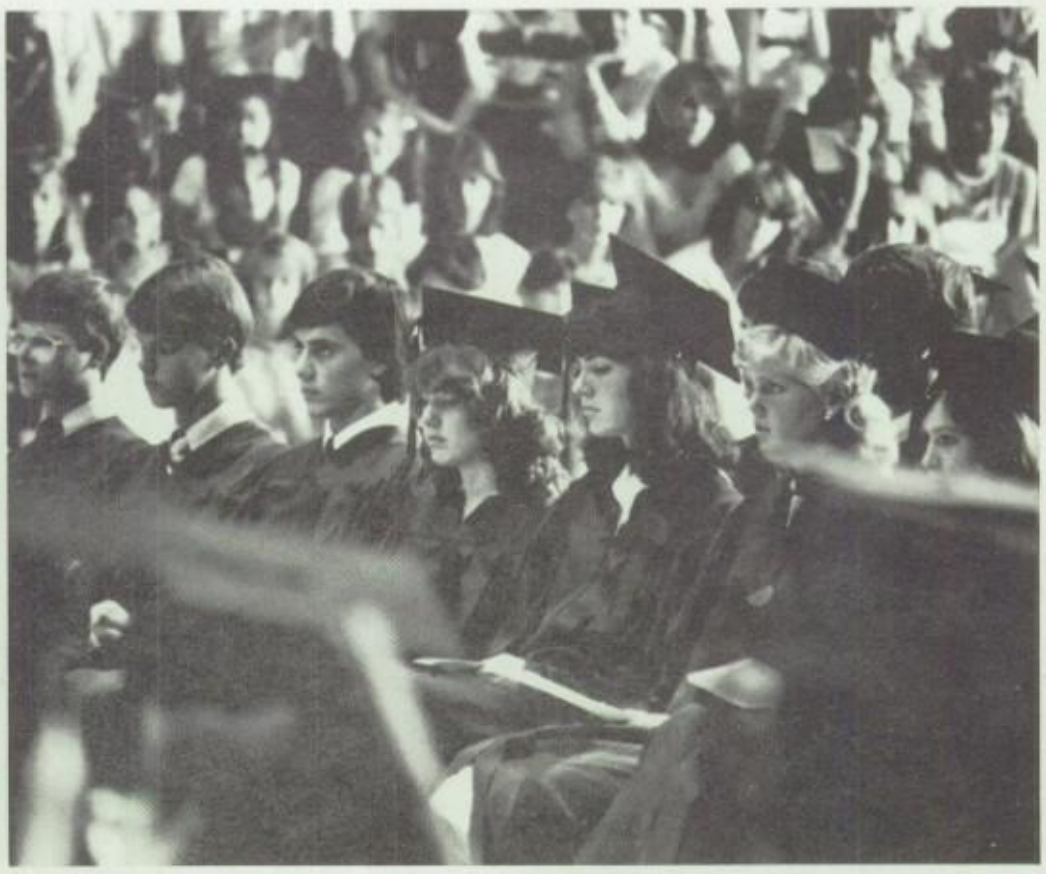
SPECIAL EVENTS

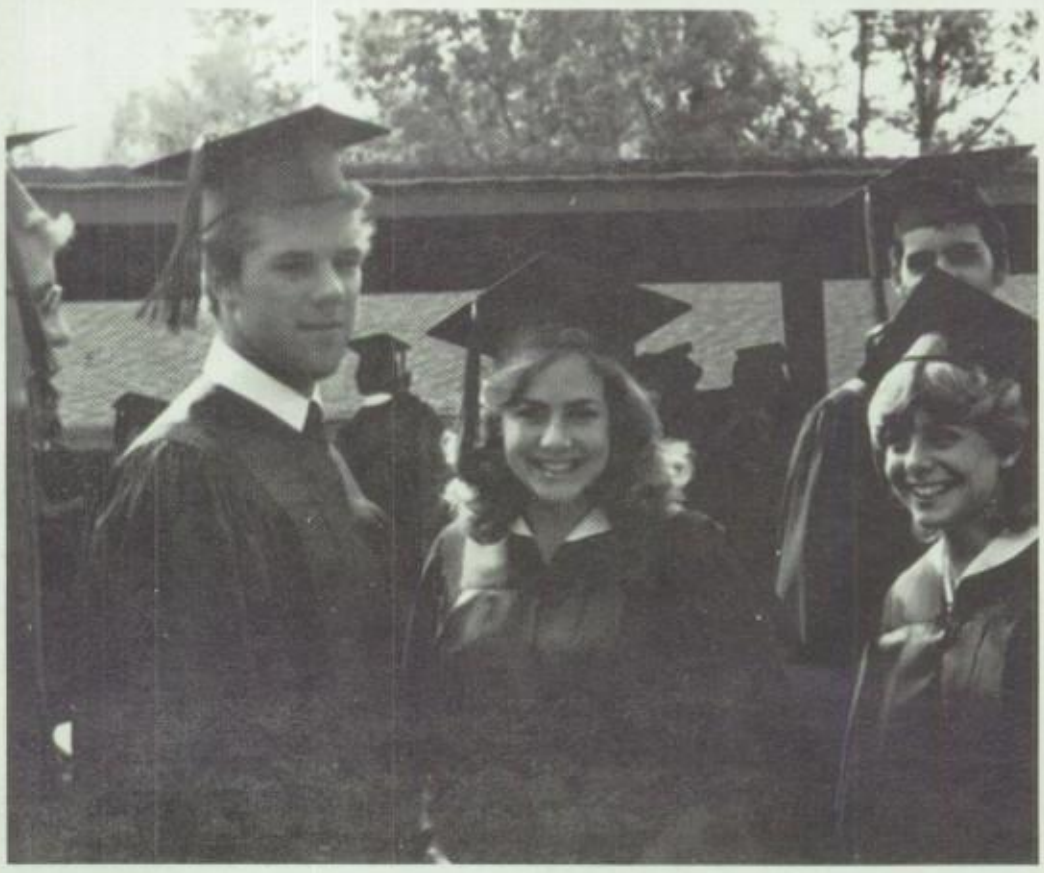


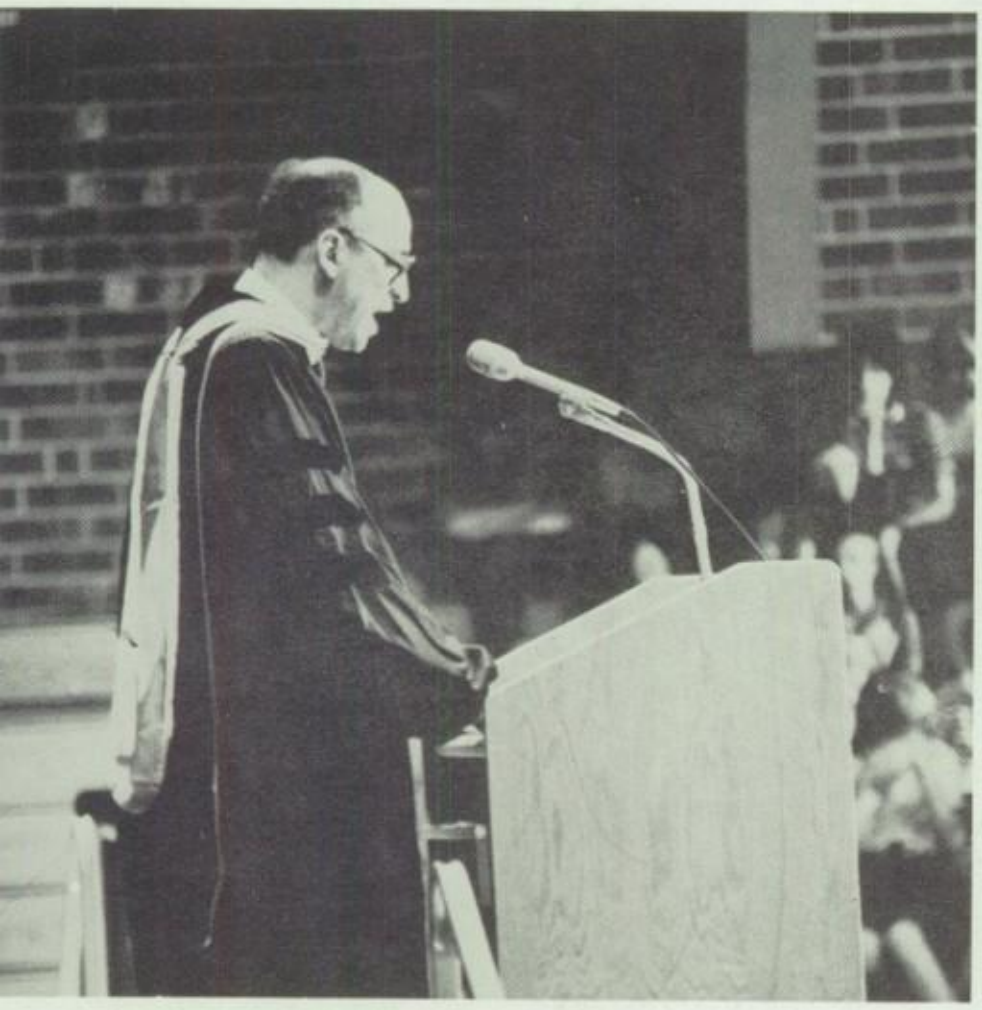
Sept. 24, 1983 — 8:35 a.m. — A deathly silence fills the halls of Charlotte Latin School; classes have begun for the day. But this is no ordinary day. Navy blue robes are hanging everywhere; mortar boards hang in the lockers; the clocks tick slowly. At exactly 9:50 a.m. the pieces start to fit together. Nervous seniors throw on their robes, frantically adjust their caps, and rush to the gym: of course, it's Convocation 1983! On this wonderful day, seniors are faced with the reality that their lives will change drastically in a few months. As they listen attentively to their speaker, Howard Maniloff, visions of the days to come flash before them. Finally, the tension lessens and Convocation is over; the school once again resumes its relaxed, friendly atmosphere. Students hug each other, throw their caps into the air, and begin to anticipate the next time that they will march down the gym clad in their robes and beaming with pride to be the class of 1984. For now, they jump in their cars and rush off to Raintree Country Club for the Convocation luncheon. Will Latin ever be the same? — STOP

CONVOCATION THOUGHTS AT LARGE: Can you believe we are seniors? . . . Where did the last twelve years go? . . . Look at me, Mom . . . It's almost over . . . When's lunch? . . . Is my cap on straight? . . . Only a few more months and then we are through . . . I'm ready to hit the beach . . . I feel so important . . . You look so ridiculous . . . My gown is too long . . . Do we have to do this? . . . I could go for a Coke . . . Hey! He's talking about us . . . The Class of '84 is the best . . . College, here we come . . . It has been great . . . Thanks, Latin . . . Thanks, Mom and Dad!

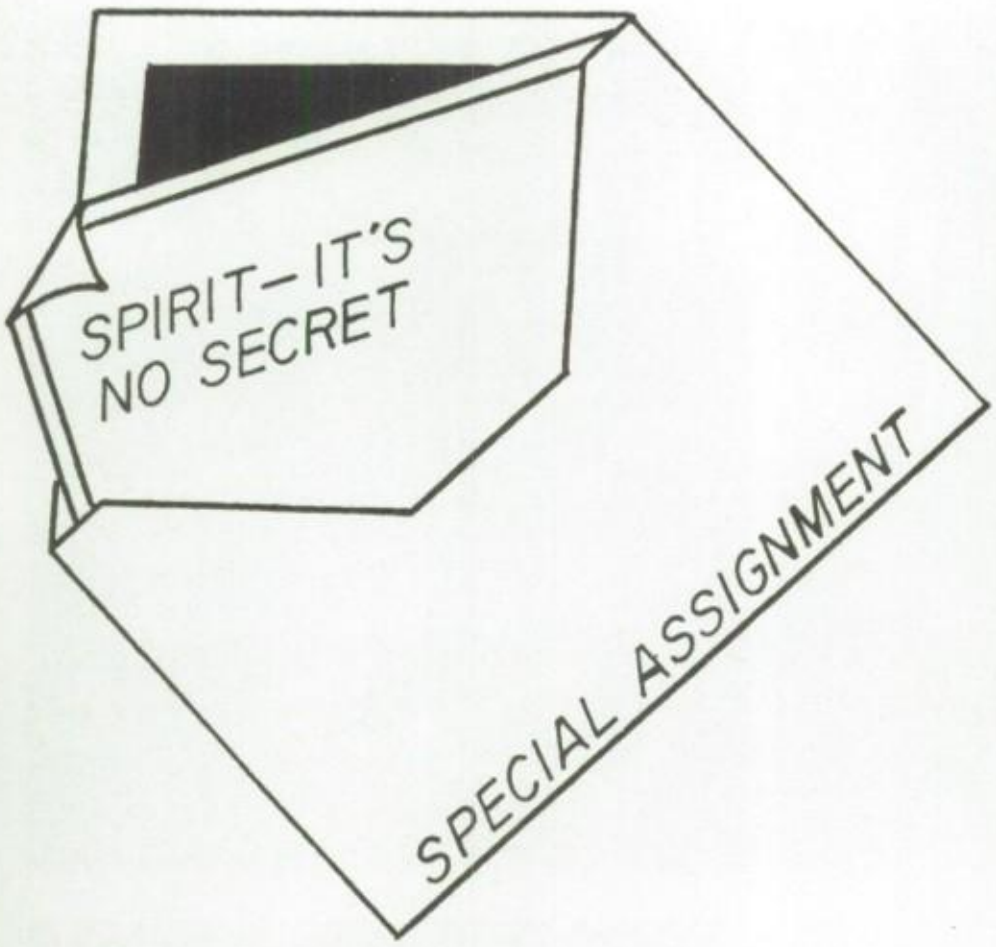








Clockwise from Left: John Anderson, Lee Beford, Kent Alphin, and Chester Alexander give big smiles when it is over. Alison Sugg, Houston Patterson, Dr. Fox, Mr. Maniloff, and Annissia Neal take their places on stage. Students line up to enter the gym. Cissy Currin; a typical, demure student at C. L. S. Students think about the days ahead during the ceremony. Bill Lyday, Holly McBride, and Grace McKay relax after Convocation. Another group of fine looking Latin students. Speaker Howard Maniloff gives some good advice to the senior class.



Mission: To find the spirit at CLS.
Date: 2/6-9/84; 2/21-24/84
Setting: CLS campus

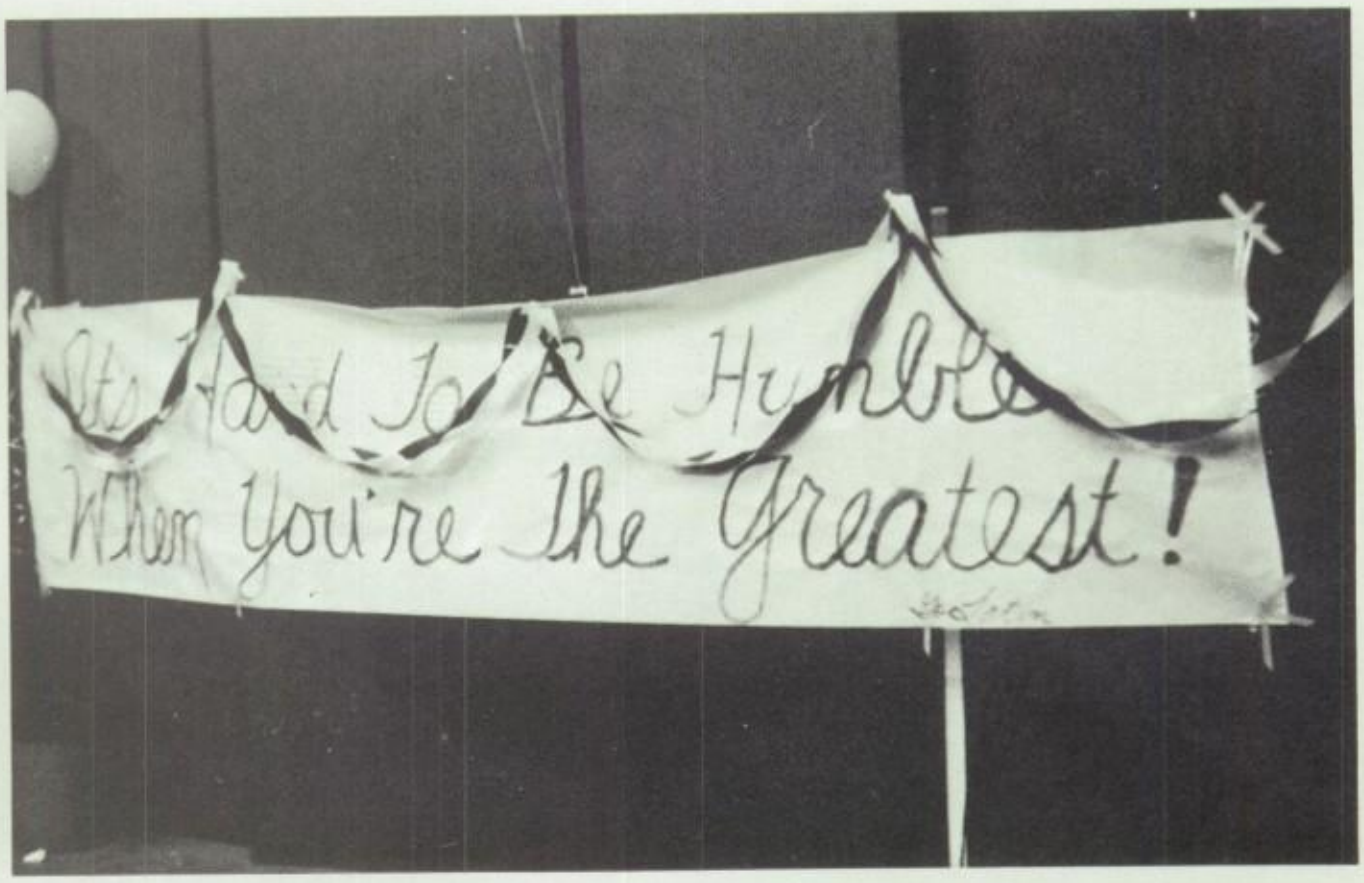
S-P-I-R-I-T! February, 1984 was flowing with spirit at Charlotte Latin both in upper and middle schools. Everywhere, halls were filled with creative costumes which illustrated the respective theme days.

Middle School Spirit Week, headed by Mrs. Lewis, a sixth grade teacher, consisted of four fun-filled days. Monday, February 6, was "Mr. Legs" Day; Tuesday, February 7, was Tacky Day; Wednesday, February 8, was Celebrity Day; and Thursday, February 9, was Blue and White Day. Spirit week culminated with a grand finalé Pep Rally in which participation was exceptionally good from sixth and seventh graders excluding the reluctant eighth grade "macho" men. Grainger Martin was crowned "Mr. Legs" in the only day that was judged. Mrs. Lewis felt that the enthusiastic students made the week a success!

February 21-24 revealed the upper school's spirit during this week of extraordinary events. Tuesday, February 21, introduced the week with hat and glasses in which most students were covered in cowboy hats, baseball caps, Ray-Bans, Vaurnet's, etc. Wednesday, February 22, Bum Day, produced bums of all kinds. Thursday, February 23 . . . the halls were filled with what appeared to be unkempt boys dressed in high-tops, sweatshirts, and shorts with boxers decorating their legs. Of course they were the Junior girls! The day — "Come As Your Favorite Person" Day! Friday, February 24, finalized the week with the traditional Blue and White Day. One of the highlights of the week was the Myrtle Beach trip that was given away at halftime of the Latin-Country Day game to four lucky students.

The result of both weeks was definitely a fun time for students with SPIRIT maintaining top priority! . . . STOP . . .

Clockwise from right: Deborah McMahan demonstrates a typical tacky person during Middle School Spirit Week. The Varsity Cheerleaders give it their all at the Spirit Week Pep Rally. Chester Alexander and Tony Sarno carry Spirit Week into the weekend — a little too far guys! Thanks to the participation of Seniors like these, the number one Senior class won Spirit Week once again. In preparation of the Country Day basketball game, Varsity Cheerleaders decorated the boys locker room to get them psyched. The Varsity B cheerleading squad join the Varsity at a Pep Rally. Tim Fletcher tries to look sophisticated in his hat and glasses, while Teresa Beard tries to control her laughter. The Hawk gets the students standing at the Pep Rally. This time the cheerleaders decorated the Blue Room to motivate the Varsity girls basketball team. Thanks girls!



It's Hard To Be Humble
When You're The Greatest!

Riddle: What event occurs every year in the spring involving the lower school students and their grandparents? It is Grandparents' Day, no doubt.

To these students, the "big event" is just for their grandparents and themselves. It is filled with memories that will last each family involved a lifetime!

Grandparents' Day is planned every September to occur in the spring, usually about late March or early April. Letters are sent home to the parents explaining the day to them and asking them to "book" the affair in order to make the day a success. The occasion is organized by two very special teachers at Latin, Mrs. Emilie Williams and Mrs. Sandy Pettyjohn. Mrs. Williams works with the children on the songs and routines and Mrs. Pettyjohn works on the props and the theme.

For the lower school students, Grandparents' Day is only a half-day at school; afterwards, they are free to spend the rest of the day with their grandparents. At 8:30 a.m., the grandparents are escorted to Belk Gymnasium where the show begins. It concludes at noon with a reception for these special people and the dismissal of the children to be with their grandparents for the rest of the day.

LATIN SPIRIT: IT'S NO SECRET

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT

Hawks, Hawks, what's our cry? V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! This is the theme of Charlotte Latin cheerleaders, students, faculty, and athletes. Wherever they are, each in his own special way, represents CLS with his spirit.

A typical CLS Pep Rally usually lasts about twenty-five minutes. It involves a lot of imagination, participation, and hard work on the part of the cheerleaders and faculty members who make the rallies possible. No two Pep Rallies are the same at CLS. There are skits to arouse school spirit, cheers, pep talks given by faculty members, tug-o-war contests, hot dog roasts, and after school dances before a big game. There are about three Pep Rallies a year when CLS faces the big rivals such as Providence Day and Country Day.

The rallies succeed in inspiring the athletes to win and the students succeed in revealing their spirit for the athletes. So, let's hear it for the Hawks!!

De Thomas sings her song proving that the Hawks are "number one".

Showing true Latin spirit, these sophomores stand up and shout.

The cheerleaders bring the crowd to its feet as they spell V-I-C-T-O-R-Y!

A CHRISTMAS CAROL SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT

On December 8, 1983, the Charlotte Latin Chorus presented an excellent and very inspiring Christmas program. They sang traditional Christmas carols, as well as other Christmas tunes which the audience was not quite familiar with, thus adding to the genuine effect of the program. The Handbell Choir added an extra touch to the evening by producing a skilled and euphonious sound which awed the audience. Another successful part of the program was the bands. These consisted of the Steel Drum Band, the Seventh Grade Band, and the Eighth Grade Jazz Ensemble. The music that they played sounded terrific, obviously the result of long hard practices. All three groups succeeded in spreading Christmas cheer to everyone who attended the show. Looking back on the previous years, it's hard to believe the extent of the achievement of the Charlotte Latin Music Department. It's a challenge to try to imagine how far it's going to go in the years yet to come . . .

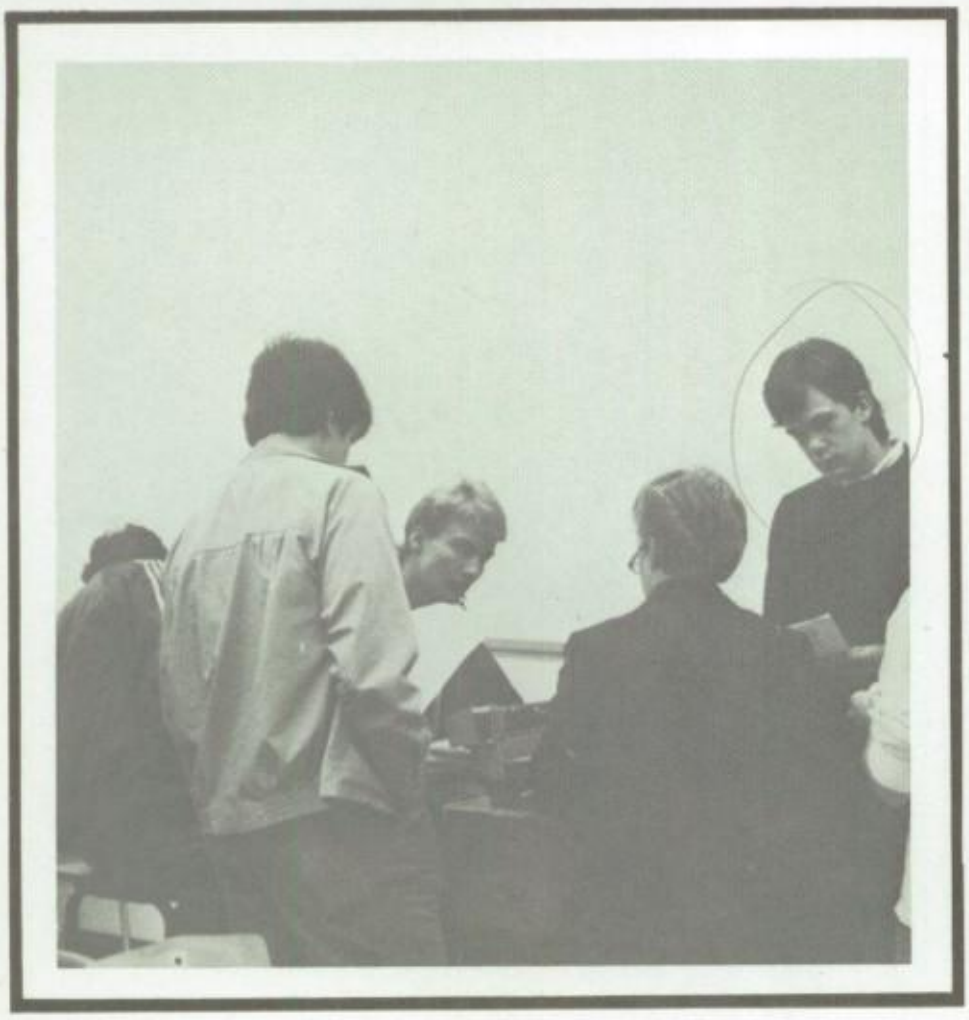
THE RED CROSS AT LATIN

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT

Mission: To save lives
Date: Friday, February 24, 1984
Setting: Charlotte Latin School
Time: 9:00 a.m. — 1:30 p.m.

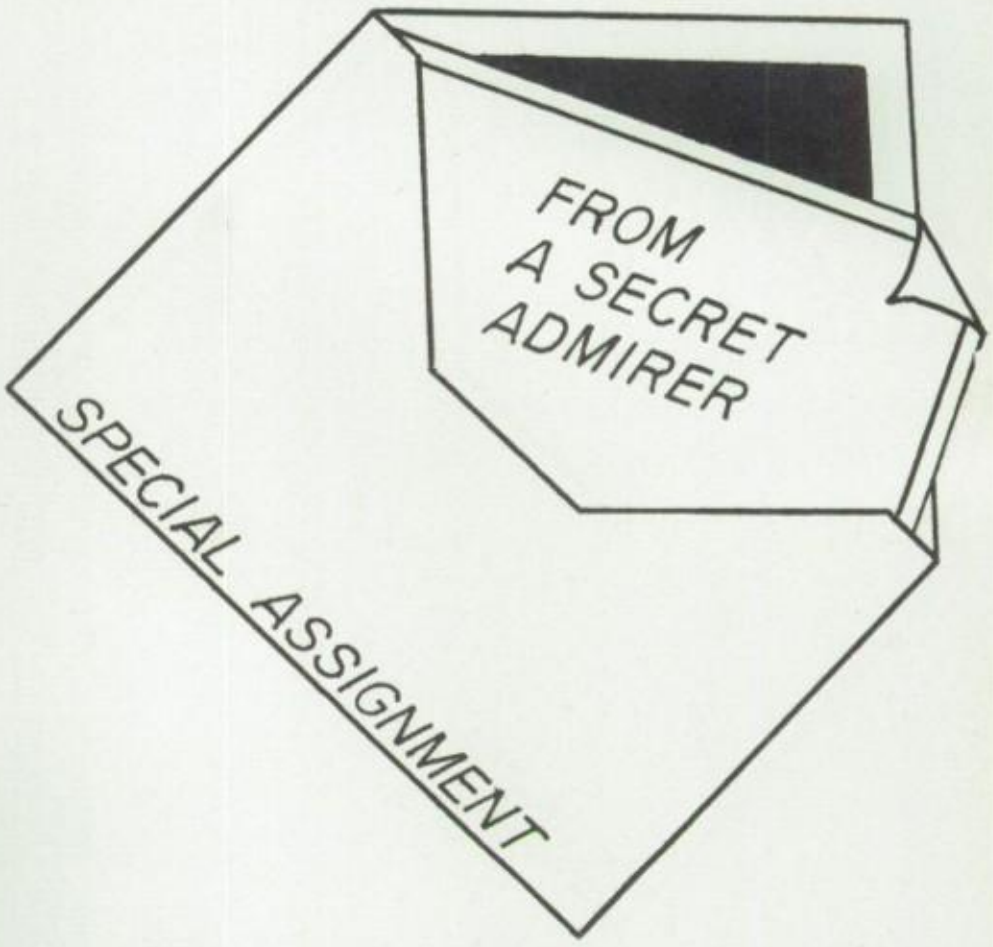
A curious atmosphere surrounds Charlotte Latin on this particular day. Upp School students are leaving their classes and heading towards the school library. T library itself has been transformed into a mini-hospital unit. A refreshment stand h been set up on the left side of the lower school section of the library. The reason for this? Thousands of lives are lost everyday because of accidents or emergencies aft which blood is needed to save these lives. Sadly enough, frequently there is no blo available. For the past three years the Key Club has sponsored very successful Blo Drives at Charlotte Latin. This year was no exception. Almost ninety percent of t eligible student body gave blood. Although quite frightened at first, students proved be very courageous. Most importantly, we are seventy-six pints closer to saving live Mission accomplished . . .

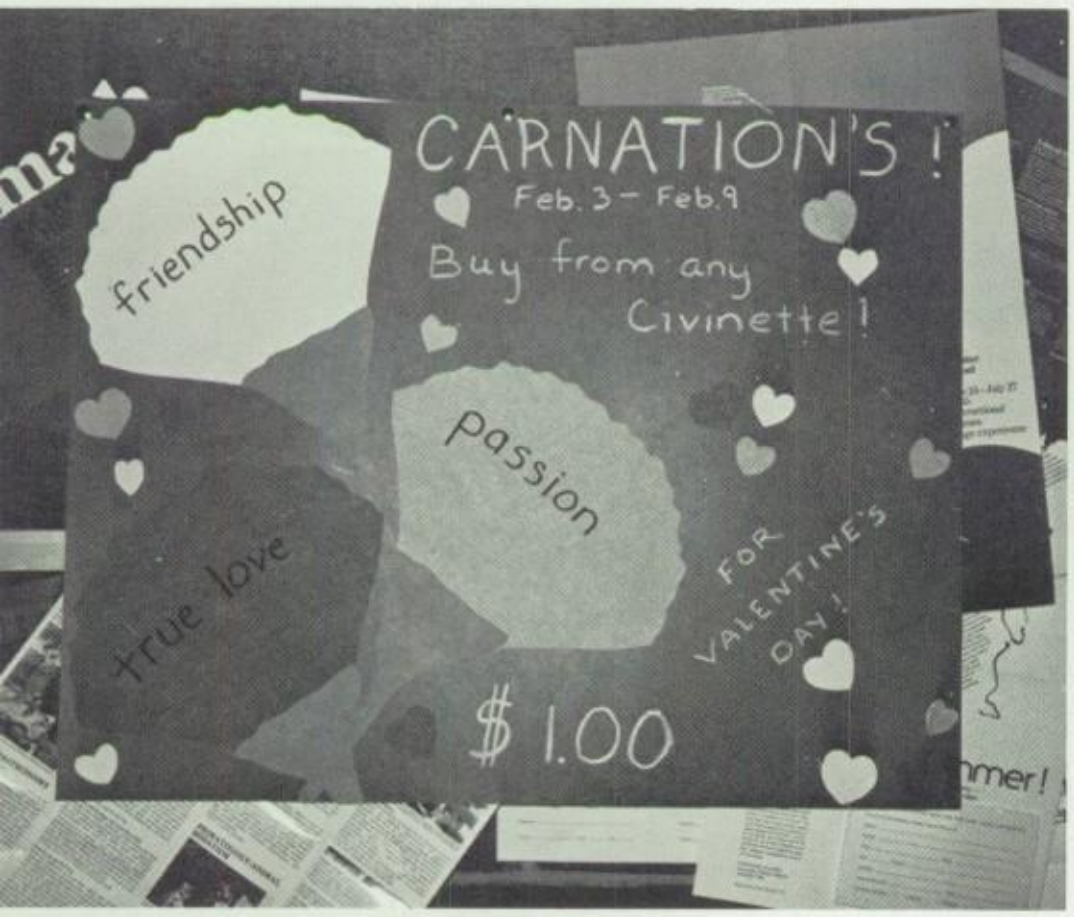


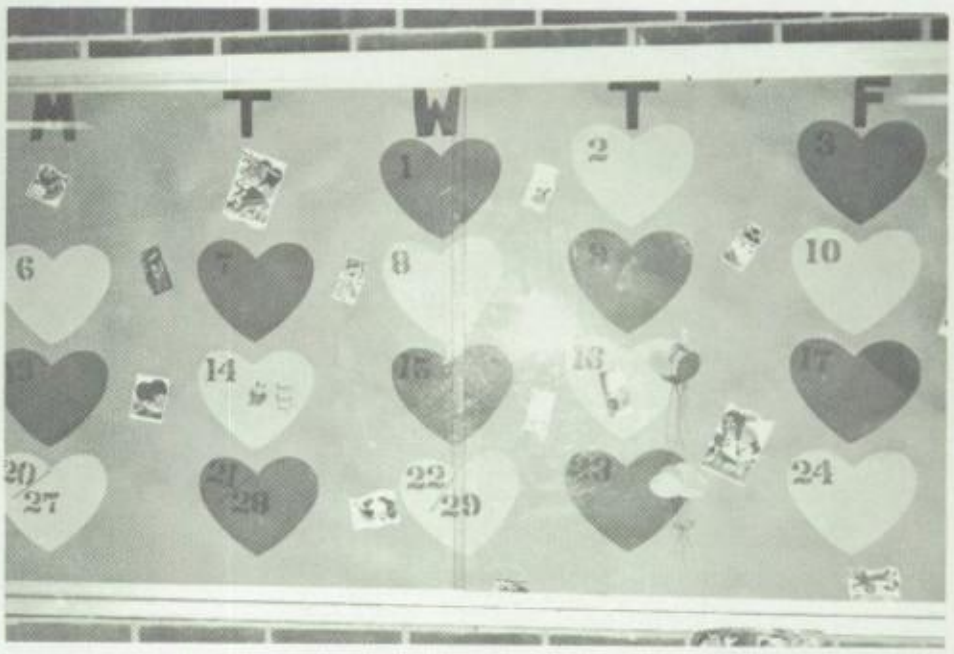
Counterclockwise from above: Debbie Biggers listens intently as she receives instructions on how to g blood. Kevin Callaghan, a Key Club member, volunteers during the successful Blood Drive. Instructing Key Club members about the Blood Drive is this Red Cross volunteer. Here, the Key Club guys are assig their jobs.

Mission: To investigate the purchase of forty-four dozen carnations from Roy White's Florist by Charlotte Latin Civinettes.
Date: February 14, 1984
Time: 8:20 a.m.

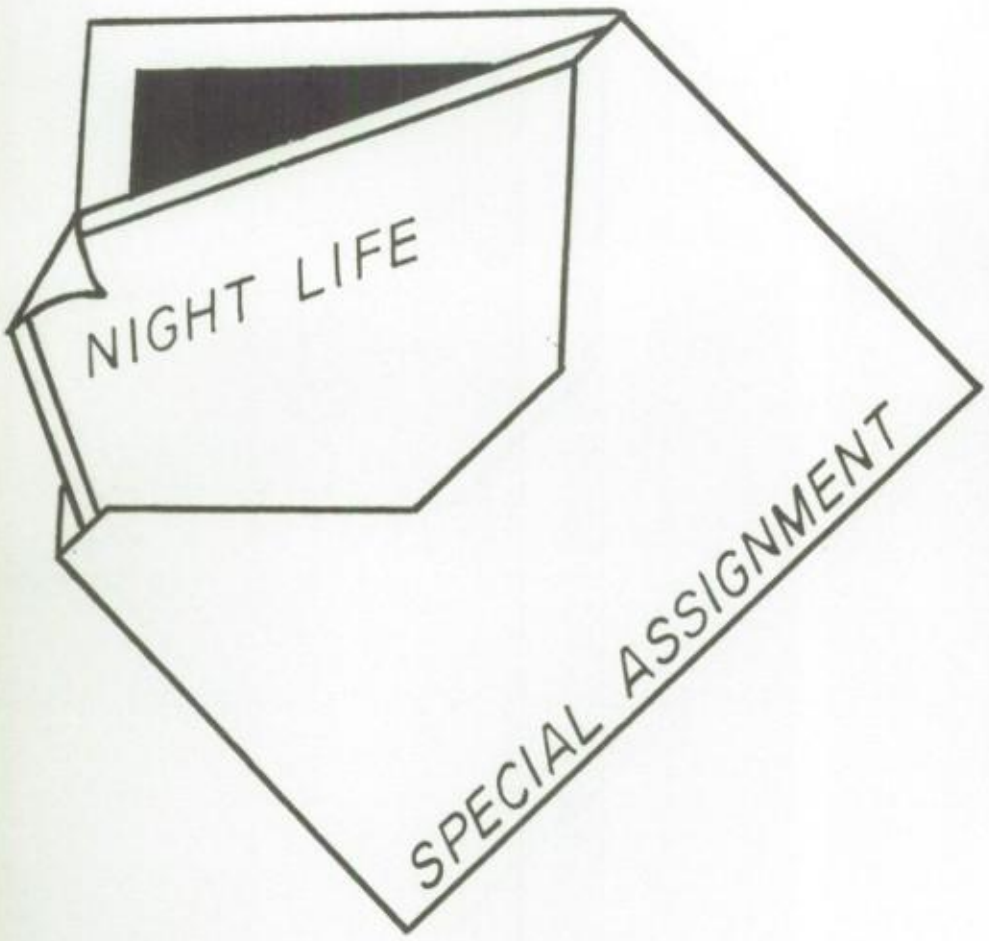
After close investigation, detectives Love and Caring have narrowed the search for the multitude of carnations here, at Charlotte Latin School. The evidence cannot be misinterpreted; there are buckets of red, pink, and white flowers sitting on the sidewalk in front of the Upper School office. Several upper school girls come and carry them inside. The detectives look at one another with puzzled expressions. What on earth is going on? The mystery becomes unravelled when about a dozen girls, wearing 'Civinettes' sweatshirts, walk out of the main building and split up, moving in all directions. All of them are loaded with carnations and cards, which they soon distribute to students from all grades. As soon as the clock strikes 9:15, students pour out of the building, thanking one another for their flowers. Detective Love suddenly grabs Detective Caring by the arm exclaiming, "By George, I've got it! It's Valentines Day!" Mission accomplished . . .







Clockwise from above: These Civinettes paint the Valentine's Day posters. This poster says it all. Hearts, hearts everywhere! Civinette Lisa McIntire delivers a carnation to sophomore Jay Davis.



Mission: To discover the night spots of Charlotte Latin Students.
Setting: Four undercover agents waiting patiently in their cars, ready to follow students anywhere.
Time: 2:45 p.m.
Date: Friday, November 29.

As students pile out of the building, the investigation begins. Each agent is assigned to a group of people from each grade. They follow them carefully and wait until evening when the students make their move. Agent Smith keeps close watch on the ninth grade. The Park 51 movie theater seems to be the top hangout spot. Agent Patten parks directly behind him as the tenth graders pile into the theater. Meanwhile agent Rutherford spots agent Fox parked in the Casa Gallardo parking lot, as he himself pulls in on the tail of the juniors. With a nod of his head, Fox affirms his suspicions: The Seniors are inside. As the night proceeds, the agents meet once again from party to party, where all the classes seem to have shown up together. As the sun rises and the very last student has gone home, the exhausted agents complete their reports. Their mission is accomplished. The result? Latin students are more together than any other school they'd ever researched. Charlotte Latin must be a pretty special place . . . STOP

Casa Gallardo proved to be a "HOT SPOT" for CLS students to gather with friends and enjoy a good Mexican meal.

Of course, the movies are always a good stand-by.

Sears Video Arcade was an attraction to both the younger and older students at CLS.

The night life on the senior trip to Black Mountain appears to have been an event! Right girls?!

A WEDDING CELEBRATION

SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT

Mission: To give full meaning to the letter "W".
Date: May 18, 1983

On a warm, windy Wednesday in May, the Kindergarten class of 1983, headed by Mrs. Totherow, had a wonderful wedding and became masters of the letter "W". They vowed to walk among wild flowers and under each and every windmill. A reception followed where white cake, white water, and watermellon were served. The class decorated Coach Howard's car and wheeled away to Walawala for a week. Mrs. Janet McKelvey was the chauffeur. There were wonderful personalities present, such as the Wedding Wizard, Wisewoman, Wiseman, the Witness, soloists, and musicians. All names began with "W". The Kindergarten class did this as a finale to studying the letter "W".
MISSION ACCOMPLISHED!!!

Barbara Gaddy looks on as the wonderful newlyweds exchange a make-believe kiss.

Sitting among her students, Mrs. Totherow smiles as the wonderful Wednesday Wedding comes to a close.

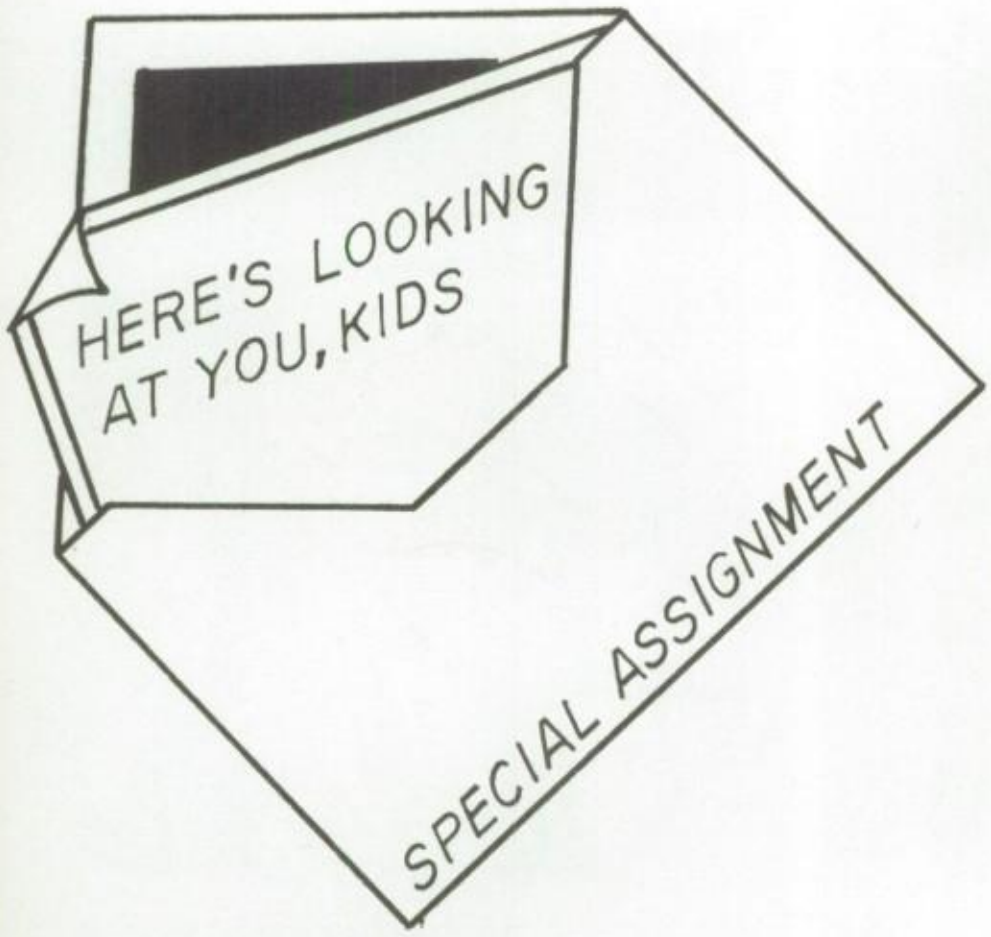
Erin Collins anxiously begins her processional walk down the aisle.

Mission: To have a great time.
Date: February 9-13
Setting: Sugar Mountain

When the clock reaches 2:45, everyone pours out of the buildings with extraordinary speed. Why? It is Winter Weekend, a mid-winter holiday for which Latin students and teachers receive a Friday and Monday off from school. This extended weekend is a great time to head out of town, catch up on your work, or just sleep, and sleep, and sleep. But as the name implies, a great number of people go looking for winter, which usually can be found at Sugar Mountain. Many students head to the slopes for an uninterrupted four-day excursion filled with with skiing and a variety of other activities ranging from gatherings at the "Pixie" to searching for desirable members of the opposite sex. Rating skiing wipe-outs was a great way to pass a day for a group of obnoxious but fun-loving seniors, but that was done only when they were not wiping out themselves.

Nights were spent at a series of great parties, watching the Olympics, or looking for desirable members of the opposite sex. A few brave souls even went night skiing. But the highlight of the weekend was an impromptu show of the latest skiing fashions. Led by that fashion guru, Susan Cunningham, a group of senior ladies showed us the new look in plastic bag outerwear — "tres chic!" Obviously, it was another successful weekend despite poor skiing conditions. In fact, that just increased the antics of those Latin crazies!

Clockwise from right: Some Latin seniors give the skiers a rough morning as they cheer the falls. Here we have Caroline Finklea and Christy Carson modeling the latest look in plastic bag outerwear. Even rain cannot stop these sixth-graders. Plum Jam: Don't leave home without it! Chester Alexander and Jennifer Keown form a "senior train". Underclassmen follow the senior's lead. Caroline, is that seven for you or for the skier? The next best thing to skiing is . . . Salem Suber tells of his adventures on the slopes.



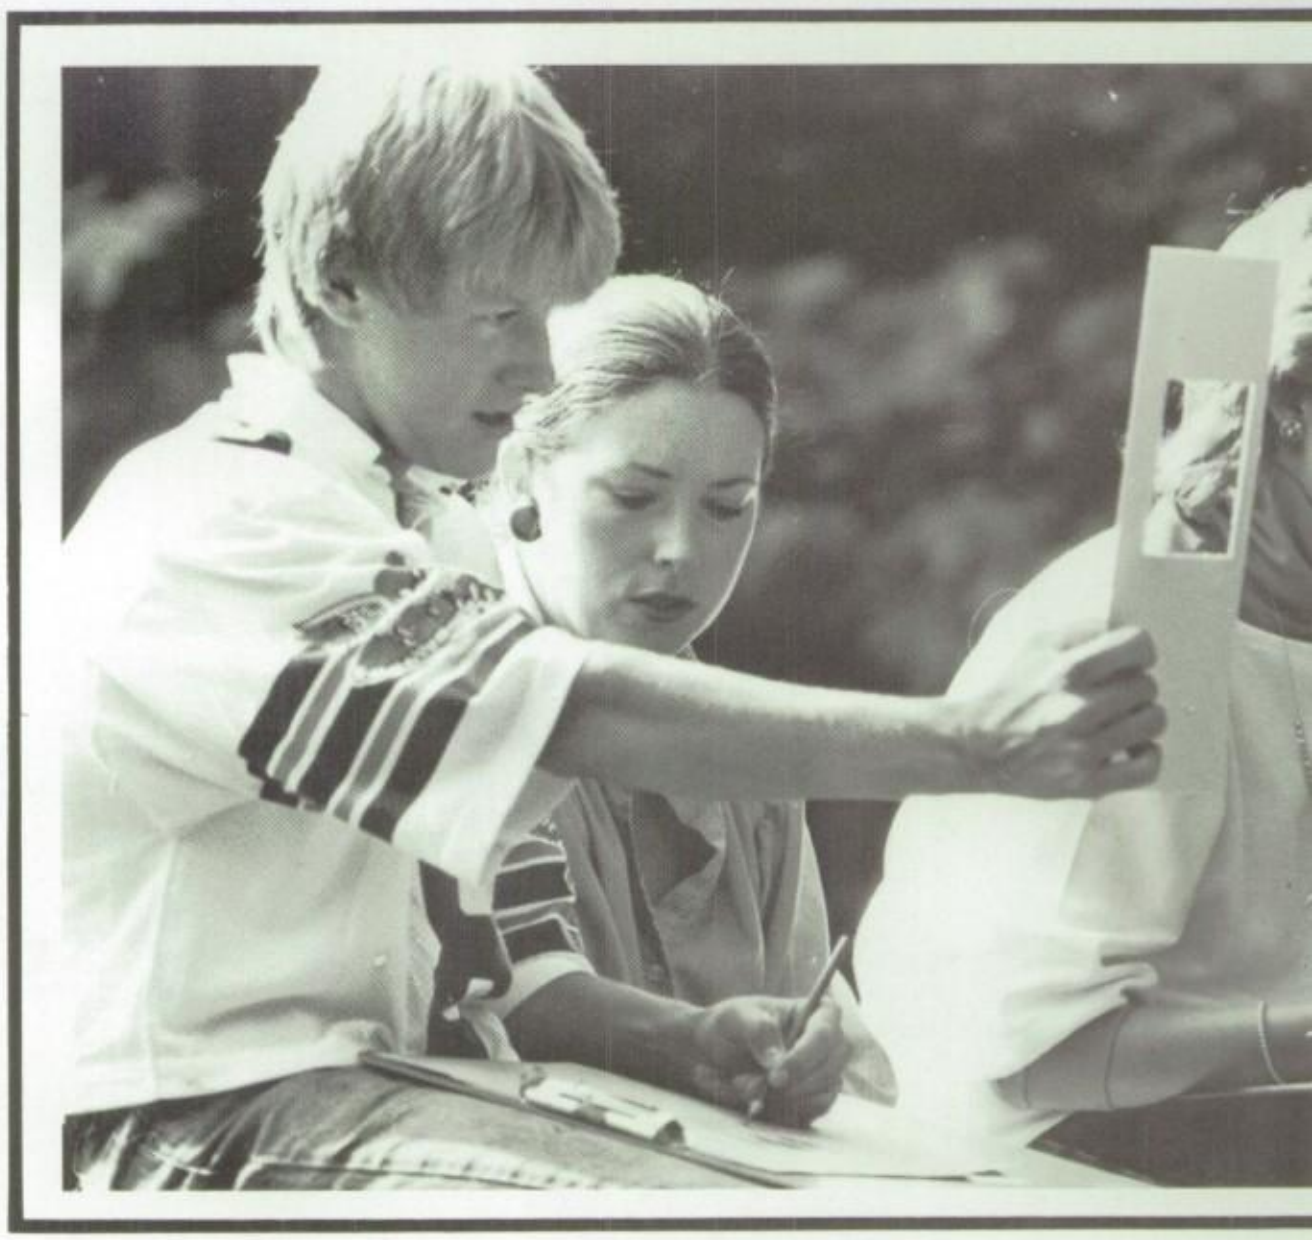
Mission: To investigate the attributes of Charlotte Latin students.
Setting: CLS campus.

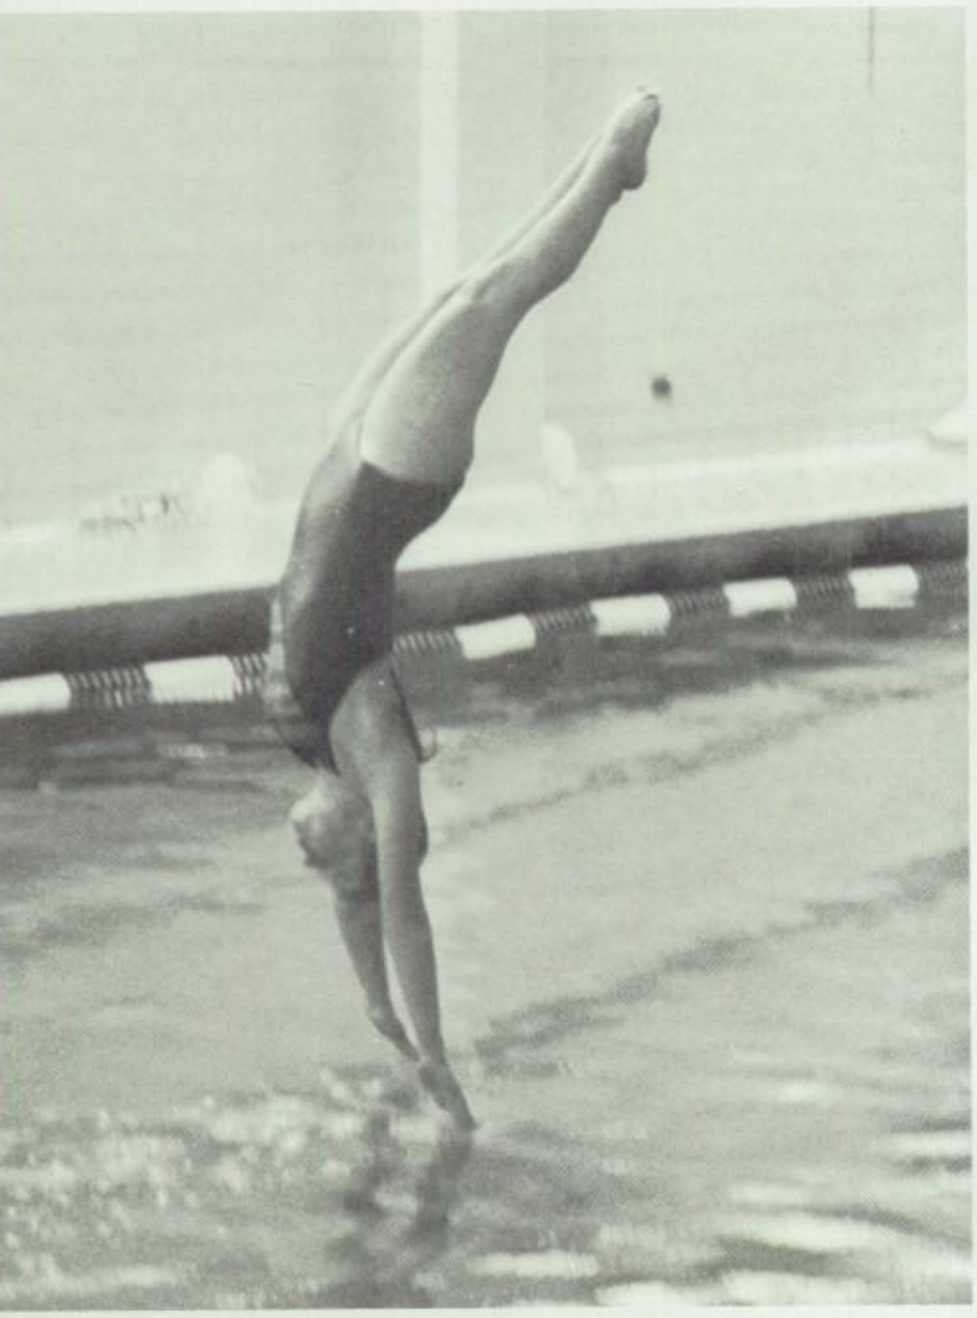
If someone were to enter the CLS campus and investigate the students, he would find that Charlotte Latin is full of talented students. Outstanding artists, class and Student Council leaders, competitive athletes, and conscientious scholars are all a part of the CLS life. They are the ones who build and maintain the name of Charlotte Latin School.

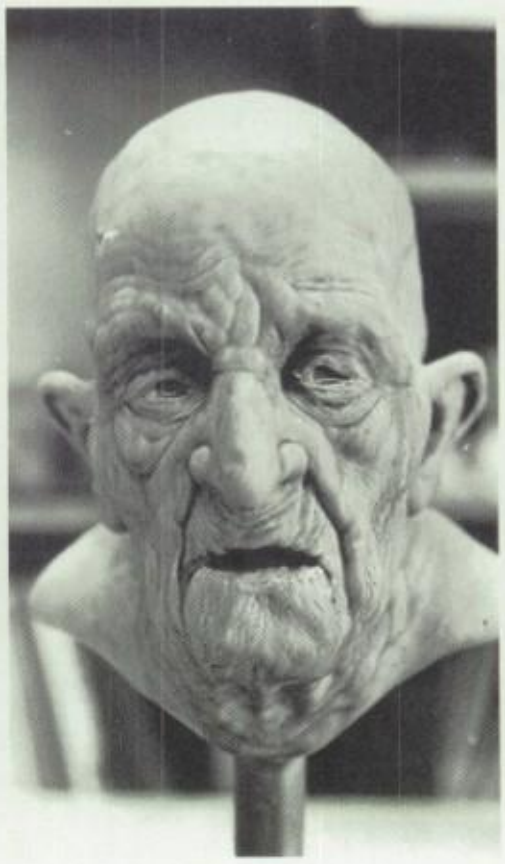
Whether on or off campus, a typical Charlotte Latin student is always representing the school. You may find a Hawk at a party discussing the pros and cons of Latin to a student of another school. On an athletic trip, Latin is also represented by the dominating CLS teams. Or, just by being a student, the school is well represented in many areas which are fascinating!

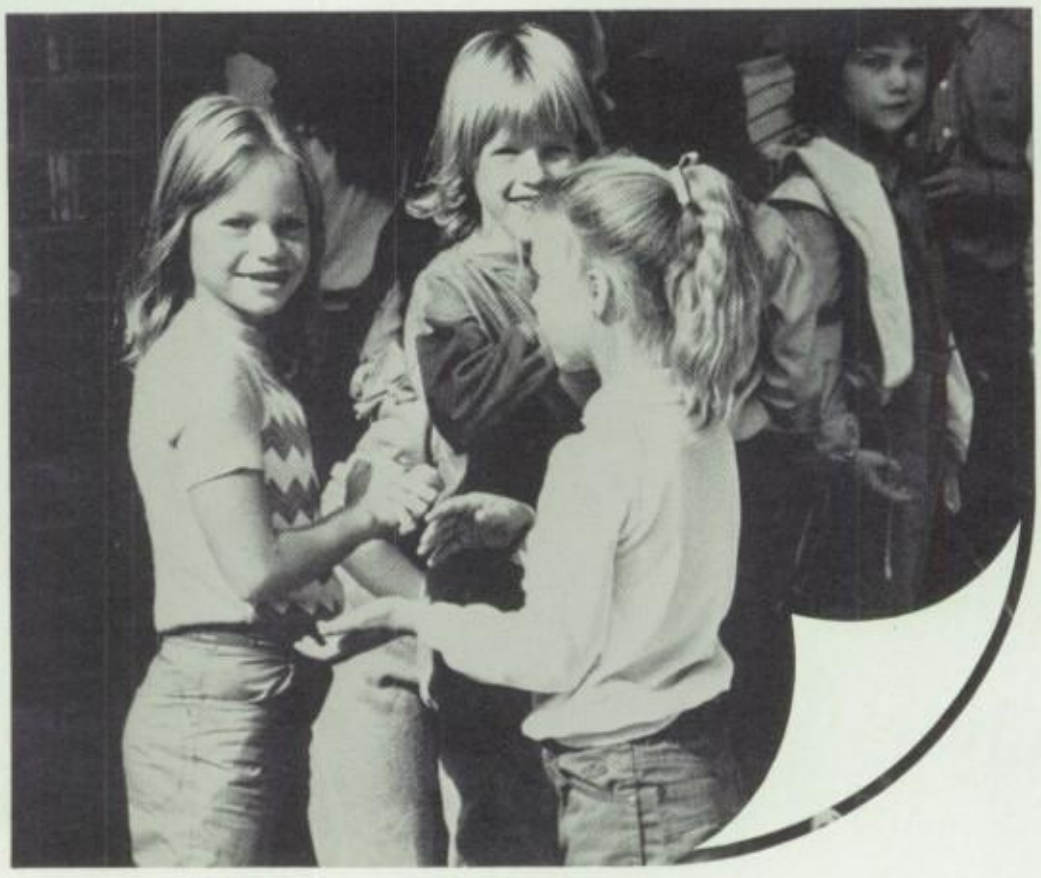
The greatest quality of a CLS student is that they are very special individuals! The general Latin atmosphere is full of friendly faces always caring and willing to lend helpful hands. Both upper and lower school students contribute to these characteristics. The upper school has outstanding service clubs who try each year to improve their warm contributions. The lower school contains young, eager faces very interested in Latin. Everyone is concerned for each other's welfare; they are one big happy family!

The school is theirs . . . "What they do is what they get." And their contributions, talents, character, and actions make CLS the best! Watch out for those CLS students, you never know what they will achieve next!

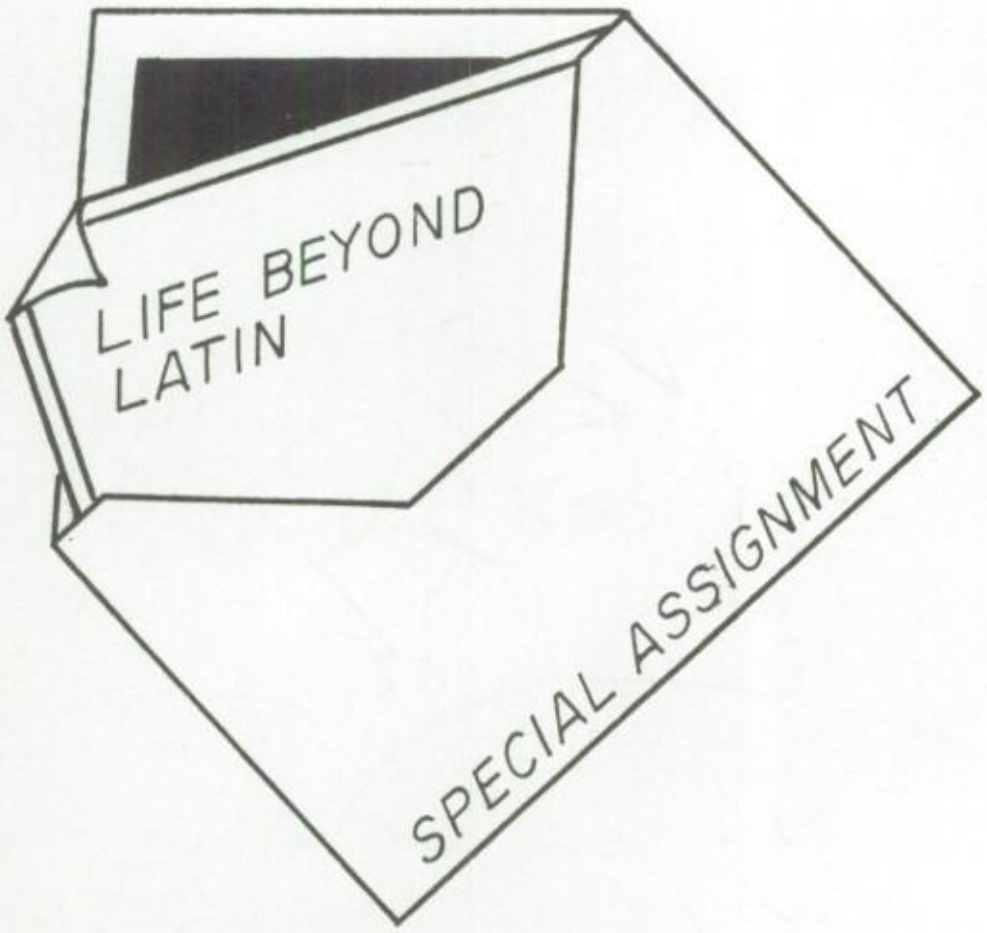








Clockwise from left: Holmes "Picasso" Davis uses certain objects to help make his artwork a masterpiece. This student finds the Foreign-Language hall more peaceful than the library. No matter what the weather is like, Houston Patterson, the scholar, can always be found here daily during 5th period. Debra Holland represents CLS beautifully with perfect diving form. This artwork will carry Mike Lawrence far in his future as an artist. Missy Denny appears to be enjoying 8th period typing class with Mrs. Gaddy. These lower school students represent the vivacious and mischievous side of CLS. Sky Broome exhibits his talent as a member of the Meister Singers.



Sit back, close your eyes, and recapitulate the 1983-1984 news that made headlines and caused m to buzz.

Let's see, smash hit TV mini-series were "The Thorn-Birds," "The Winds of War," "Lace," "Celebrity, "Master of the Game." Winning the hearts of millions of American viewers, these shows were rated top.

Leading the national news, events that occurred in 1983-1984 both gladdened and saddened Americans. The shooting down of a Korean jetliner by the Russians horrified the world, giving rise to th that the U.S. was going to war with Russia. In Beirut, many marines were killed as the U.S. tried t fighting there. In February of 1984, the marines were pulled out, and the Beirut nightmare ended. Gr — what happened? The U.S. sent troops to save Americans and the natives from Communism. The troops set up a provisional government and withdrew when the country was stable.

The happy news of 1984 was the Winter Olympics with the Americans winning gold in skiing and sk competition, and silver and bronze in other events. Names like Bill Johnson, Debbie Armstrong, Steve Phil Mahre, and Scott Hamilton became household words among patriotic Americans.

Also making headlines is 1983-1984 was the CLS schoolyear. The intrepid CLS wrestlers became Champs in spite of a season plagued by injuries. Continuing in the CLS tennis tradition, the Varsity tennis team won the State Tournament again. The most exciting news at Latin was the productive St Council headed by Houston Patterson. Latin had its first successful Homecoming Dance including a co beautiful students. 1984 was a year of definite improvement at CLS!

1985 . . . Who knows! Onward and upward, right?!

The 380 SL: the most sybaritic Mercedes-Benz is still every inch a Mercedes-Benz.

This grand touring machine is built with more than sheer driving pleasure in mind.

True, it can transport two people in delectable comfort. As one English writer noted, it is "absurdly agile for a V-8 engined luxury roadster..." And it can be used as any one of three touring machines: an open roadster, a convertible coupe, or a hardtop coupe.

But the 380 SL is, most importantly, engineered with performance, durability, and safety in mind–in short, as a Mercedes-Benz.

And that may be its grandest virtue of all.

Come for a test-drive, today.

Dave,
It's been a cool year. (Buck-Head) little t time but you forgot about me. I'm glad we're friends anyway
Your Ruthie & Ally have a super time together, don't get in too many fights.
I'll miss you next year when I'm in Fla.

ETC . . .

This has been a great year for all of us, but for me, the highlight is this — the completion of our final deadline. I am able to look back and appreciate all of the work and time that were contributed to make this book possible. In view of this, I would like to thank all of you who have given of yourselves to help us achieve our goal. There is no way that we could have made it without Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Patten. Many thanks to them for all of their scheduling and identification help. And, what the business office did for us was unbelievable. Also very important are all of you who bought books, ads, or were patrons, for it was you who made the book financially possible. Your support is greatly needed and appreciated. I would also like to thank the staff for being the best one ever and for working so hard. This, of course, includes the photographers, without whom this book would not be possible. Finally and most especially, I thank Mrs. Giles for taking on the tremendous task of being our advisor. It involves more time and work than any other volunteer job on campus and it is rare that a yearbook staff finds an advisor with her dedication. Obviously, the Eyry took a lot of hard work, but the results are well worth it. We had good times, a few bad times, but definitely times we will never forget. Thank you Charlotte Latin for giving us memories to last our entire lives.

Mary
Hey babe. How's it going.
Aren't you glad you got to meet me this year. Jast kidding.
Serios though, I'm glad I met you. We've had so much fun this year. We'll have to go out over the summer
Love ya
Andy

Whassup Mary
See ya
Summer. Love,
Martin

MARY,
I'M GONNA
SIGN THIS YEAR-
BOOK WHETHER YOU
LIKE IT OR NOT. I HOPE
I CAN SAY THAT WE'RE
FRIENDS CAUSE I HOPE WE ARE.
(WAIT A MIN. I DON'T THINK I'M MAKING SENSE) SO I'LL SAY BE.
SEE YA NEXT YEAR.

RALPH

Mary,
Im soglad
we were able to become good fiends this year.
2 better see some of you this summer, at the club! Call me sometime!
Ill miss ya! much luck
w/ the person you say you don't like anymore! Youll have to come to OLDE PROVIDENCE with me someday cause thats where he goes! Have a wonderful great summer. Ill miss ya, & see ya! Love ya,
Cathy

Marc,
I'm glad it's almost the end of the year. Science class was fun, not Payne's attention to detail, though.
was a good test to study for.
Good luck with Dave,
martin and Cali else! California has yours and Dave's house reserved!
Have one wild summer!
Love Laura

Marc,
I'm glad it's over,
and, of course I'm just
dying to take exams,
my grades can take a drop, but I don't care cause its time for another road trip to the Beach,
so I'll be thinkin
about you while
I'm there

Mary.

Hey. The beach was excellant. Hope we get to see each other this summer. Maybe you can come to the beach with me again- Party! I am glad we had somany classes together better than last year. Gym! We had fun though. Good fuck with Martin! Dave! I'll be at the wedding in April 24th.

Luv ya,
Debbie
